19 MAPS TO SHOW LAND OWNERS DETAILS OF NEW PLAN FOR COUNTY

They Will Be Used at Public Hearings to Illustrate Exact Boundaries of Different Use Areas.

The proposed land use plan for St. Louis county will be broken down into 19 mapped sections in order that property owners may understand better how their property would be affected, it was announced today.

County Planning Director Hermann F. Wagner said the sectional studies will show precisely the boundaries of various land uses which are outlined only generally in the master plan covering the county's entire 335,280-acre area.

Wagner's staff started work on the detailed maps today. They will be used in a series of public hearings on the proposed overall plan.

The hearings will be held by the County Planning Commission within the next two months. The master plan, submitted to the commission last Saturday, was prepared by the city planning firm of Harland Bartholomew and Associates.

The plan was designed to prepare the county for a population expansion from an estimated 675,000 at present to 1,175,000 by 1980.

Industrial Acreage.

It provides 20,800 acres for industrial use, six times as much as the present acreage reserved for such purposes; designates the locations of 10 new towns with substantial population, and recommends sites for 10 large commercial centers.

The Bartholomew plan, completed after two years' work, pointed out that the county inevitably will be transformed into an urban area in the next 20 years, losing its suburban and rural characteristics.

Wagner predicted that the report's suggested assessment and tax policy for preventing farmland from being subdivided before it is needed for residential use would evoke considerable public discussion.

Land which should logically continue to be farmed or devoted to rural, rather than urban uses, is frequently sold for residential subdividing before there is a real need for its development, the master plan said.

Farmers who sell such land frequently complain they are forced out by sharply increased taxes which result when a subdivider begins a residential development nearby. This usually results in neighboring farms being assessed at higher values because of their potential urban use.

Discussing land not immediately needed for the county's logical population expansion, the Bartholomew report said: "Consideration should be given to the possibility of maintaining a low assessment so the land could be withheld from urban redevelopment for many years."

44,720 Open Acres.

Despite the predicted rapid urban development provided for in the master plan, a total of 44,720 acres of county land, including those on which there are lakes or streams, would still be open in 1980.

The usable areas would constitute a land reserve for development after 1980. The study suggested that low assessments would be an incentive to owners not to permit premature development of such land for residential or industrial use.

The report also raised the question of what the county's procedure could be in the case of an owner who, after benefitting from lower assessments for a number of years, sold his property for subdividing before it was needed for urban uses.

The plan suggested that perhaps state laws could be changed to permit the county to recoup taxes lost in previous years if such land held in reserve were sold to subdividers ahead of the agreed time. A substantial tax penalty could be demanded at the time of the sale, it was suggested.

NEW AUDITORIUM OF ART MUSEUM IS CLOSED DOWN

'Technical Problems' Make Step Necessary, Director Charles Nagel Asserts.

The City Art Museum's new $1,000,000 auditorium was closed today and will remain closed until "at least" March 1, Charles Nagel, museum director, announced.

"Unfortunately, the technical problems we are experiencing in the auditorium make it necessary that we close it until it is formally turned over to the museum as completed by the City of St. Louis," Nagel explained.

The decision to close the auditorium was made this morning by members of the museum board of control who were called to a special meeting.

Last Saturday, a museum spokesman said that some programs scheduled to be given in the auditorium would be canceled until deficiencies in the auditorium's stage and electrical equipment could be corrected.

Nagel said the "technical problems" mentioned today consisted of the deficiencies in stage equipment and electrical equipment.

In addition, a wood inclosure around the stage is not completed, making performances of music accoustically "disconcerting," the museum spokesman said on Saturday.

In answer to a question, Nagel said today: "We have been having difficulties with the union." He refused to elaborate on this.

"I'd rather not go into that and I don't want to talk about it," he told the Post-Dispatch. He refused to say what union he was referring to.

Another museum spokesman said today that museum officials and representatives of Local 6 of the Stagehands' Union have been "talking."

"We're trying to work this out," the spokesman said. He refused to say what it was that was being worked out.

A spokesman for the stagehands union told the Post-Dispatch that he knew of no difficulties between the museum and the union in connection with the auditorium's operation.

Members of the union who worked in the auditorium during a recent television show reported that the equipment was in working order, the union spokesman said.

All programs scheduled to be held in the auditorium will either have to be canceled or held elsewhere, Nagel said.

The museum's regular Tuesday night and Saturday programs

32 Autos Parked Illegally Near Kiel, 15 More in Rail Yard

Symphony and Hawks Both Using Auditorium at Time Survey was Made.

Thirty-two parking violations in the vicinity of Kiel Auditorium were disclosed in a survey Saturday night by the Post-Dispatch. Fifteen other cars were parked in a railroad yard near the auditorium.

A severe shortage of on-street and off-street parking space near the auditorium has concerned the city administration for some time.

The situation becomes acute when there is more than one major function going on in the auditorium, as was the case last Saturday night.

At the time that the Post-Dispatch survey was made, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra was appearing in the Opera House and the St. Louis Hawks basketball team was playing a game in Convention Hall.

A Post-Dispatch reporter and photographer toured the area near the auditorium between 8:30 and 9 o'clock on Saturday night.

12 Cars on Sidewalk.

One of the most glaring violations of parking regulations involved 12 cars parked on a sidewalk in front of the Post Office truck terminal on Walnut street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth. A policeman put parking tickets on the cars.

Fifteen automobiles were parked in a Railway Express Agency Inc. railroad yard at Belmont street and Sixteenth. The cars were parked between two long rows of freight cars. The yard is about three blocks from the auditorium.

Three cars were parked in a fire lane at Belmont between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets. A fourth car was parked on a sidewalk nearby.

The driveway immediately west of the Coroner's building was blocked by five automobiles. Six other cars were parked in front of service door of the In-

WEATHER TO CONTINUE COLD, MOSTLY CLOUDY SKIES FOR NEXT 5 DAYS

COLD weather is expected in the St. Louis area tomorrow through Saturday, the Weather Bureau said today in its extended forecast.

The five-day forecast: Considerable cloudiness and low temperatures are indicated for next five days; temperatures will average about 10 degrees below normal with cold weather at beginning of period and not much change for rest of week; a little light snow is likely for weekend; normal highs are in low 40s; normal lows in middle 20s.

RICKOVER FIRES ON EDUCATION, HITS PENTAGON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover was asked near the end of an appearance on the NBC television program "Meet the Press" yesterday if he thought enough money could be saved on Pentagon operations to finance federal aid to education. He replied:

"Well, I know if we cut the people in the Pentagon by about 20 to 30 per cent, a lot of the work would go on much quicker than it does now.

Contending that "education is too important to leave to the educators," Rickover opposed federal operation of schools as the answer but said: "We don't have to run our schools federally but we can set up federal standards."

Much of the blame for what he regards as the gross inadequacies of American education he placed on the American home. He said "parents are mostly satisfied with having a good time" and neglect the intellectual life of the home.

BOTH TECHNICAL AND BORING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—Frankness in a Government department (Supreme Court division):

Justice John Marshall Harlan, announcing a tax decision last week, said he would describe the result "without going into the reasons, which are technical and boring, both."

'Conservative' Defined.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—A Democratic congressman has come up with this definition of a conservative: "A man who worships dead liberals." The proof, says Representative Winfield K. Denton of Indiana, is that the conservative Eisenhower Administration has relied on laws of the Franklin Roosevelt Administration to prevent another depression.

Four Senators With High Hopes Are Taken for Ride by Keating

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25— Senator Kenneth B. Keating (Rep.), New York, is driving dull care away for the 96 Senators of both parties who are not active or "available" candidates for President or Vice President. He has done this by kidding the other four, with the greater relish because all are Democrats—John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Stuart Symington of Missouri and the majority leader, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Observing that Kennedy was temporarily presiding over the chamber, Keating mounted the dais and whispered: "Jack, they are saying in the cloakrooms that you seem to be measuring yourself for the Vice President's chair."

On another occasion, Senator Humphrey rushed into the chamber and asked for permission to interrupt a debate on the "clean elections" bill to make an attack on the Administration's wheat program.

"I think you should know," Keating wrote in a note to him, "that Symington made the same speech at noon today." He got a grin across the room for that.

SENATE DELAYS ACTION ON GATES NOMINATION AS DEFENSE CHIEF

Secretary Replies to Critics—Says Downgrading of Soviet Threat Is Based on Facts, Not Guesses.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UPI) Senate Democratic Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson disclosed today that Senate consideration of the nomination of Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. is being postponed at request of several Senators.

The disclosure came as Gates, target of Democratic criticism because of his statements on Russia's missile potential, replied to his critics in testimony before the House Space Committee.

Gates said the recent downgrading of the Russian missile threat by United States intelligence was based on "a refined and better set of facts" and not on guesswork.

Johnson declined to say why Senate consideration of the Gates nomination was being postponed. No specific date had been set for Senate action on the nomination which was submitted this month. Gates has been serving as Defense Secretary on an interim appointment since early last month when he was named to succeed Neil H. McElroy.

Will Be Discussion.

Johnson told reporters he is certain there will be "discussion" of Gates's nomination when it comes up in the Senate.

Asked whether he thought there was a chance Gates might be rejected, Johnson said he had "no knowledge" of any such possibility.

Johnson told reporters that statements made in explanation of the Gates's earlier testimony that America's missile defense is being based on estimates of Soviet intention rather than capability are just "a bunch of words." He said none of the explanations has "changed the situation" or the original statement made by Gates.

"I cannot avoid the impression," Johnson said, "that someone is leaping at straws to find an excuse for not going as far and as fast as we can to assure the security of this nation and the free world."

Johnson said his combined space committee and preparedness subcommittee will start hearings Friday to try to "get all the facts we can."

Implies Misinterpretation.

In his testimony before the House Space Committee today, Gates implied that his previous testimony before congressional committees about the new intelligence estimates of Soviet missile threat had been misinterpreted.

Gates, in reply to a statement by Representative Ken Hechler (Dem.), West Virginia, denied there had been an "abrupt shift" in United States intelligence evaluation of Russia's missile strength.

"This represents an improvement in intelligence, a refinement in intelligence," Gates said.

He said in reply to a question that he had consulted with director Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Hechler questioned whether the new intelligence estimate would contribute toward lulling the people into complacency.

BEATNIK POETS' BAR ON DOWNBEAT OVER LIQUOR LAW

William L. Matheus, the licensee, and his brother, Oliver, were charged with employing a minor to sell intoxicating liquor. A waitress, Miss Zerieta Coleman, 20 years old, 2351 Biddle street, was charged as a minor possessing intoxicating liquor.

Detectives Robert Richters and John Keady, who said their knowledge of liquor laws exceeds their grasp of beanik poetry and Zen, visited the establishment last Friday night and ordered drinks from Miss Coleman.

After being served, they asked her to prove that she was over 21, and everything went out of tune at the Holy Barbarian. Miss Coleman told the officers she had misrepresented her age to obtain her job in the tavern.

RIOTERS DEFY DE GAULLE FROM BEHIND BARRICADES; STATE OF SIEGE IN ALGIERS

HIGH COURT WON'T RULE ON KING-THOMPSON LAW

U. S. Tribunal Holds 6 to 3 That There Is No Active Issue in Long-Settled 1956 Gas Strike.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—By a six-to-three decision, the Supreme Court today declined to pass on the constitutionality of the injunction issued under Missouri's King-Thompson law in the Laclede Gas Co. strike in St. Louis in 1956.

The court, in an opinion written by Justice Potter Stewart, declared that the court could not take jurisdiction because the question was "moot," meaning that it no longer presented an active issue.

With Chief Justice Earl Warren joining the dissent, Justice Hugo Black refused to accept this interpretation and asserted that the court should reverse the Missouri Supreme Court, which upheld the injunction, and the Governors' orders issued under the law. The other dissenter was Justice William J. Brennan.

The decision by the Missouri Supreme Court was appealed to highest court by Local 8-6 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, AFL-CIO.

The union argued that the Missouri law, which permits the state to take over struck utilities conflicted with federal legislation and violated the due process clause of the Constitution.

The issue was alive, the union argued, because damage suits arising from the strike are pending.

The state of Missouri questioned the jurisdiction of the highest court, pointing out that the strike had long been settled and that state seizure of the property had ended.

The state's argument was accepted by the majority, the union argument by the dissenters.

The majority opinion noted that the Missouri Supreme Court had limited its jurisdiction to the injunction and the executive orders issued under the state law.

"Because that injunction has long since expired by its own terms," the majority said, "we cannot escape the conclusion that there remains for this court

EISENHOWER TRIP TO S. AMERICA TO BEGIN FEB. 22

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UPI)—President Eisenhower will begin his South American trip on Feb. 22, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today.

Hagerty and a group of White House officials returned Saturday from an advance planning trip to the four countries the President will visit—Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

Hagerty said announcement of a detailed schedule must await further checking between Mr. Eisenhower and his hosts, but he could say that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower would leave Washington Feb. 22, spend that night at Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico, and arrive in Brazil Feb. 23.

Although Hagerty did not announce a return date, it was expected to be about March 6 because Mr. Eisenhower is considering a rest stop of a day or two at the air base in Puerto Rico on his way home after leaving Uruguay March 3.

THUMB-SIZED MOTOR COULD DO BIG JOBS IN SPACE

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—A new Tom Thumb rocket motor looks good for vital tasks in exploring space, a physicist said today.

This midget motor is no bigger than a man's thumb.

It works by shooting out electrified atoms and electrons at speeds of 22,000 miles an hour. This produces thrust, just as does the exhaust of chemical fuels to thrust up rockets.

The engine is not strong enough to propel a rocket or satellite as its main energy. But it could produce sidewise, forward or backward thrust to control the position and directioning of a satellite in space, said Dr. W. H. Bostick of Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N.J.

Such controls can be important in keeping a weather-watcher or communications satellite in a precise orbit around the earth, or making it drop down lower, or fly up higher, to intercept a space ship. They could also be used to keep a photographic eye pointing at the moon or distant stars for pictures.

W. GERMAN NAVY OFFICER ADMITS SPYING FOR REDS

U.S.-Trained Flyer Gave Russians Data on American Torpedo Boat, Other Arms.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, Jan. 25 (UPI)—A confessed West German Communist spy told the court that is trying him for treason today that he gave United States naval secrets and other information to the Russians.

Horst Ludwig, a 36-year-old naval lieutenant who was trained as a jet flyer at Pensacola, Fla., said specifically that he handed plans for the then-secret P-16 torpedo boat to Russian agents in 1956.

He is also accused of giving the Reds technical information about American tanks, photographs of key United States officials and other secret papers, and of reporting details of a "highly confidential" weapons course he attended in Jacksonville, Fla.

It marked the first time that an officer of West Germany's new armed forces had faced the Federal Supreme Court.

Observer Expelled.

A man named Scheiber was expelled from the courtroom today after Ludwig told presiding Judge Heinrich Jagusch that Scheiber "would tell the Communists what I said, and my parents would be endangered."

He had said earlier that it was a threat to his parents, who live in Communist East Germany, that induced him to begin his two-year career as a spy in 1955. He admitted, however, that he was paid $2000 for his work.

Ludwig is charged with treason, treasonable relations and bribery. He is accused among other things of using his charm to worm secrets out of pretty girl employes of United States defense industry.

Three co-defendants are on trial with Ludwig. They are naval petty officer Fritz Briesemeyer, 32; insurance salesman Werner Jaeger, 31, and Jaeger's wife, Hanni, 37, who is Ludwig's sister.

Ludwig allegedly stole information and photographs of the English Vicar's Number Is Up ---And It's Chinese to Villagers

WARTON, England, Jan. 25 (UPI) — Warton town officials started something when they told the Rev. James Pratt to paint a street number on his vicarage gate or be fined $5.60.

The 64-year-old vicar, who was a missionary in China, painted the number 75 on his front gate in Chinese and then went out and preached a sermon.

"I painted the numbers on my front gate this weekend and there they will stay. I shall fight this case if I have to take it to the highest courts and to Parliament," the vicar said.

"When I start getting letters saying I shall be liable to a fine if I don't do something, then I get tough. The law may say my house has got to be numbered, but it doesn't say that I've got to do it in English.

"I have been a combatant in two world wars to fight the jackboot mentality and I'm not going to have dictatorship in my own parish," he said.

PRESIDENT GIVES ORDERS TO ARMY ON HOW TO DEAL WITH SITUATION

Censorship Is Invoked, People Waiting for Something to Happen—25 Killed, 140 Hurt in Rioting.

ALGIERS, Jan. 25 (UPI) — Angry French settlers, fearing a sell-out in Algeria, clung grimly today to their reinforced street barricades ready for battle against President Charles de Gaulle's self-determination policy for this North African land.

Security forces held their fire in an obvious attempt to prevent a repetition of last night's fighting which pitted Frenchman against Frenchman for the first time in the Algerian war and left 25 persons dead, including 10 policemen, and 140 wounded.

But De Gaulle's government in Paris issued a communique late today reaffirming its Algerian policy and saying that orders already have been issued to the armed forces here on how to deal with the settlers' rebellion.

Several hours later it was announced in Paris that Premier Michel Debre would fly to Algiers tomorrow morning.

Tensions Increasing.

Settler resentment spread throughout Algeria during the day.

Martial law and a general strike kept Algiers tightly under wraps. Massive police turnouts keep demonstrators under control in the cities of Oran, Bone and Constantine.

(The Associated Press reported from Rome that a Trans World Airlines pilot said the United States consulate in Algiers has ordered the evacuation of Americans working for French firms in Algeria.

(In Washington, however, State Department officials said the department "has given no orders whatsoever to evacuate any Americans from Algiers."

(A. L. Heath, captain of the first civil airliner to depart from Algiers since yesterday's rioting, said he was told by American friends at Algiers airport that they were ordered by telephone to pack as quickly as possible. Heath also said that he was ordered to speed his takeoff because the airport was to be closed to civilian planes.)

Crowds at Barricades.

All day thin lines of paratroops, hundreds of them fully armed for battle, stood at a respectful distance watching the fortress rigged up by the insurgents in Algiers' main street.

And all day the rebels built up and strengthened their barricades while the Army looked on.

An estimated 10,000 citizens swarmed around the insurgent redoubt this afternoon to watch the strange spectacle. Hundreds of them helped to tear up more paving stones to add to the defense works.

The settlers took up arms because they feared that otherwise De Gaulle's "self-determination" for Algeria would mean the loss of their adopted homeland.

De Gaulle announced last Sept. 16 that he would let Algeria decide its own future by vote four years after peace is restored. But the 1,000,000 European settlers, outnumbered nine to one by the Moslems, fear the result will tear Algeria away from France. And they want none of that.

Defiance Undiminished.

Inside the barricades they were still saying defiantly tonight: "We are in this to the end."

But there also were doubts and worries as nightfall came, with the insurgents asking themselves: "Why doesn't something happen?"

One source of worry to the De Gaulle government was removed when former Premier Georges Bidault turned up at his Paris home. Bidault, the most influential politician in the group opposed to the De Gaulle policies, was feared to have slipped off to Algeria to lend his support to the settlers.

The government declared a state of seige in hopes of restoring order among the students and settlers trying to force De Gaulle out of office because of their die-hard opposition to his "soft" peace plans for Algeria. Schools were closed. A stiff military censorship was imposed on outgoing news dispatches.

Disturbances erupted again to-

EISENHOWER CONFERS WITH HERTER AND U.S. ENVOY TO CUBA

State Dept. Reluctant to Invoke Economic Sanctions Which Would Hurt Cubans More Than Castro.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UPI) — President Eisenhower conferred for 40 minutes today with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and United States Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal on deteriorating United States relations with Cuba.

Herter and Bonsal were tight-lipped as they left the White House. They declined all requests for comment on their meeting with the President.

Herter said any statement would have to come from the White House, but that did not indicate a statement was forthcoming.

Herter declined to say when Bonsal would return to his post in Havana.

Assistant Secretary of State Roy R. Rubuttom Jr., departmental specialist on inter-American affairs, also sat in on the conference.

Bonsal was recalled from Havana last week in the midst of rising anti-Americanism prevailing under the Castro regime.

State Department officials are discussing the possibility of economic sanctions against the Castro regime because of its confiscation of American-owned property but the Administration hoped to avoid drastic measures.

Meet at Herter's Home.

Bonsal met with Herter for 90 minutes yesterday at the Secretary's home. This underscored the concern over the Cuban situation. Rubottom described the session as a preliminary consultation and indicated no decisions on policy revisions were reached.

Informed sources said the reluctance to invoke economic sanctions stemmed from fear that such action might "ruin" the Cuban economy and primarily would hurt the Cuban people rather than the Castro regime.

Such action could include renegotiating preferential tariffs now given 87 per cent of imports from Cuba, or asking Congress to reduce the quota under which Cuba supplies one-third of United States sugar at prices above the world market.

The State Department has been under increasing pressure from Congressmen and United States sugar interests to halt the Cuban confiscation of American property—sometimes without notice or inventory.

Officials feel the United States "loses stature" in the eyes of the hemisphere by letting land seizures and increasing attacks by Castro pile up without some counteraction.

Sources said there is a question of how long Bonsal should remain here for consultation.

Ambassador Needed.

Officials are reluctant to send him back unless Castro's anti-American campaign subsides. On the other hand, the United States needs an ambasador in Cuba to strengthen the representation for American citizens.

Meanwhile, Senator John Marshall Butler (Rep.), Maryland, said today that the United States seems eager to declare its superiority to Soviet Russia, but reluctant to act the same toward Cuba.

"If the present situation continues to deteriorate,' Butler said, "the American government may well have to re-examine its policy in Cuba, paying special attention to Teddy Roosevelt's maxim to speak softly and carry a big stick."

HAVANA, Jan. 25 (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro is expected to testify at the military trial of 140 alleged invasion plotters when it resumes tonight after a weekend recess.

Castro probably will confirm Friday's testimony by Maj. William A. Morgan, a former American double agent, that he kept Cuba's revolutionary regime informed about the "counter-revolutionary plot" from the beginning.

Eighty-six of the defendants at Fort Cabana were arrested in or near Morgan's suburban home.

The government announced today that 25 persons were arrested at Pinar Del Rio as they allegedly prepared to blow up a bridge over the Mantua river and an army post being built nearby. The announcement said six sticks of dynamite and a number of detonators were seized.

The National Journalists' Organization announced today it has asked the Castro government not to receive the delegation of the Inter-American Press Association which has proposed to meet here.

Four unidentified light planes were seen flying low over eastern Havana last night. The Cuban air force said it had no planes aloft at the time. Mysterious flights have been reported almost nightly in the last few months.

day in Oran where a group of rioters attempted yesterday to seize the prefecture building. A crowd of anti-government demonstrators estimated at 2000 persons assembled and attempted to march on the building today, but were restrained by mobile guards who erected barbed wire entanglements across Gen. Le Clerc street, Oran's main avenue.

The Oran demonstrators stopped several city busses, punctured tires and pushed the busses across the streets to block traffic.

There were other demonstrations in Bone and Constantine, Algeria's other large cities.

The Algiers insurgents, armed with tommyguns, hunting rifles and pistols, began drafting into "voluntary service" Moslems who left their Casbah city quarter as usual and were walking to work in the neighborhood of the city center.

Riot leaders headed by Algiers cafe owner Joseph Ortiz met in conference at their temporary headquarters in the Bank of Algiers.

Other rioters, led by extreme rightist National Assembly deputy Pierre LaGaillarde, turned an Algiers University building into a blockhouse.

Troops Circle City's Center.

Foreign Legion paratroopers who had been rushed to Algiers from the Summan Valley, 100 miles to the east, threw a ring of steel around the city center at dawn. Other reinforcements were en route to guard against attacks by the settlers.

The army thus far was aloof to the settlers' appeal to join them in an uprising which would bring the downfall of De Gaulle and end what they fear will be a surrender to the Moslem rebels who have been battling the army for five years.

Gen. Maurice Challe, supreme military commander in Algeria, warned in a broadcast that "the uprising shall not triumph against the French army." De Gaulle broadcast appeals to the settlers to "return to national order" and stop spilling one another's blood.

The exact number of holdouts could not be determined today. Observers could see 200 to 250 armed men inside the barricades as dawn broke over the beleaguered city. Other hundreds were believed hidden in buildings along Charles Peguy street, center of activities.

Extent of Siege Order.

The government invoked a state of siege in Algiers, a state of martial law which bars street meetings, provides the death penalty for anti-government acts, clamps on a curfew and imposes heavy censorship. The settlers were ignoring the decree.

The settlers have called for a general strike to show their anger against De Gaulle who fired Maj. Gen. Jacques Massu, the paratroop hero who led the May 13, 1958, uprising which toppled the Fourth Republic. That revolt brought De Gaulle to power.

Just before the city settled down for the night, Delegate General Paul DeLouvier, De Gaulle's top representative in Algeria, appealed to the citizens "to bring the desperate ones to their senses."

He said it was with "profound sadness in their hearts" that the police had to fire on the rebel settlers yesterday.

At 4:05 a.m. the Algiers radio began broadcasting De Gaulle's appeal for order. All Algiers newspapers appeared this morning with announcements of the censorship and there was no editorial comment.

Most of yesterday's casualties occurred in a bitter half-hour of fighting that started at dusk when 20,000 youths and middle-aged settlers, spearheaded by the city militia, threw up paving stone barricades and formed a fortress against riot police jeeps and trucks.

Exactly how the battle started was not known. Police said the settlers cut loose first with a tommygun from their massed ranks. The settlers blamed the mobile guards and the Republican security police, which are special security forces and not connected with the army.

DE GAULLE MOVING TO CURB UPRISING

PARIS, Jan. 25 (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle told French settlers barricaded in the streets of Algiers today that he stood by his policy of self-determination for Algeria.

A government communique said orders already had been issued to the armed forces in Algeria on how to deal with the French settlers' rebellion against De Gaulle's policy.

The communique was issued after a two hour and 15 minute Cabinet meeting that came after a pre-dawn conference with Premier Michel Debre and reports from Algiers indicated that the European settlers there were not going to yield to De Gaulle's summons to "return to national order."

WILLIAM HENRY ARTHUR DIES IN KANSAS CITY, MO.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 25—William Henry Arthur, city auditor of Kansas City and a former St. Louisan, died yesterday. He was once the Republican nominee for lieutenant governor of Missouri and was a member of the board of governors of the Missouri Bar from 1955 to 1959. He was 59 years old.

Born in St. Louis, Mr. Arthur was a graduate of the Washington University Law School and practiced law in St. Louis until moving here in 1928.

HIGH-SPEED DRILL BORING TOWARD TRAPPED MINERS

COALBROOK, South Africa, Jan. 25 (AP)—A high-speed drill bored steadily today toward 440 men trapped deep in a coal mine since Thursday.

Fresh rockslides clogged the main shaft with tons of earth, halting underground rescue efforts. Mine officials ordered an emergency shaft sunk to try to get food and air to the men if they still are alive.

Managers of the Clydesdale colliery, where the massive rockfall that entombed the men occurred, rushed a high-speed drill here from an iron mine in the Northern Transvaal.

The drill, which bores a hole 15 inches in diameter, penetrated 80 feet within a couple of hours, then struck a rock formation. Engineers estimated that it would take 40 hours to reach the area where the men are trapped.

Officials believe the men are 515 feet below ground as compared to first estimates of 600 feet.

BEVAN SUFFERS A SETBACK IN HIS FIGHT TO RECOVER

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, deputy leader of the British Labor party, has suffered another relapse. "Mr. Bevan has had a poor night and is not so well," the hospital said in a bulletin today.

The 62-year-old Labor party leader underwent abdominal surgery Dec. 29. The nature of his ailment was not disclosed but ulcer specialists performed the operation.

A hospital spokesman said four doctors including a blood specialist examined Bevan this morning. One of the doctors was with him an hour and a half.

TWO DIPLOMATIC SESSIONS TRYING TO FIX FORMULAS

Experts Drawing Up Proposals for Arms and Berlin Negotiations With Russia.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Two groups of allied diplomats began meetings here today to draft proposals for disarmament and Berlin negotiations with Russia later this year.

Discussions on the Berlin problem are expected to produce a new debate among the major Western powers over their differences about how to counter Russian pressure for an end to allied protection of West Berlin.

British Want New Status.

The British government reportedly is interested, for instance, in negotiating some new status for West Berlin in an effort to strike a bargain with the Russians. On the other hand, West Germany wants to avoid any concessions to the Soviets in this issue including those that were offered in the foreign ministers meeting at Geneva last summer.

Discussion of the Berlin and German questions will be conducted in the meeting beginning today by representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. The purpose is to get an agreed position of the four powers in advance of the summit conference with Russia at Paris in May.

The disarmament policy group is composed of representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy. Those five allied countries will open a new round of talks on arms reduction and control at Geneva in mid-March.

March Talks More Pressing.

Disarmament also will be a major issue of the May summit meeting but preparations for the March conference are more urgent now than those for the summit.

The aim of the allied negotiators on this issue is to produce a disarmament program which can be put before the Soviet Union as a united Western proposal.

Britain is expected to take the lead in seeking agreement on a proposal for global disarmament which would be carried out by stages with increasingly strict international policing at each successive step. The ultimate aim of the British plan is to eliminate nuclear weapons and other means of mass destruction and reduce conventional military forces to the minimum necessary of each country's internal security.

Rome's First Synod Since Days Of Apostles Is Opened by Pope

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 25 (AP)—Pope John XXIII invoked the spiritual guidance of St. Peter and St. Paul as Rome's first diocesan synod began deliberations today to meet the challenges of modern times.

White and yellow papal banners fluttered from Vatican buildings for the event—the first since the great apostles made Rome the center of Christian faith.

The Pope formally opened the synod—an ecclesiastical gathering—yesterday at the Basilica of St. John Lateran, his episcopal see as Bishop of Rome.

The week-long deliberations, which will consider 770 proposed articles covering many aspects of conduct both for Roman Catholic clergy and laymen, began today in the Vatican Palace's Hall of Benedictions. A year's preparation preceded the formal opening of the synod.

Some Possible Subjects.

Synod sessions are secret. Vatican sources said, however, that the articles deal with many aspects of modern life, including television, radio, smoking, the use of automobiles by priests and other clergymen, and the appearance of priests and other members of religious orders in public places. Some of these articles may not be published officially for a year, some Vatican sources said.

The synod makes no decisions. It merely expresses opinions, which may or may not be accepted by the Pope. Its participants are required to say "Placet (It pleases me)" or "Non Placet (It does not please me)" to the articles of the proposed fundamental law of the diocese.

The opening deliberative session was preceded by a Mass celebrated by the Pope in the Sistine Chapel.

Then, seated at his throne, the 78-year-old supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church delivered the first of several addresses he will make before the synod. He spoke in Latin. His address was devoted primarily to the priest and his mission.

Pontiff Outlines Work.

More than a score of Cardinals, many archbishops and bishops and more than 200 pastors of Rome's dioceses heard the Pontiff.

As outlined by the Pontiff, the work of the synod will encompass eight broad fields — the priestly order, the church's magistracy, the divine cult, the sacraments, apostolic action, Christian education of youth, the patrimony of art, culture and sacred buildings, and institutions for assistance.

A synod is a council or assembly of the clergy of the diocese, called to deal with matters of faith or discipline.

In the past Rome has not had diocesan synods because matters concerning this city, as the seat of the Pope, generally were handled by broader church bodies, such as the College of Cardinals and the ecumenical (world-wide) councils of bishops from all the world.

Pope John called the current synod particularly to deal with the problems confronting the diocese of Rome as a result of the Italian capital's recent growth.

The Pontiff noted that Rome had grown in the past 50 years from a city of 400,000 to one of almost 2,000,000. Vatican officials have said that the growing city's need for more priests and more churches would be a major topic at the synod.

PRESIDENT MAY PERMIT PRESTIGE ROCKET SHOTS

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—The Administration is believed to be swinging to a new policy that would permit rocket and satellite launchings for prestige effects. The one condition is that the prestige launchings must not interfere with planned programs for purely scientific explorations.

Indication of a change or at least a modification in Administration policy was underscored when George V. Allen, head of the United States Information Agency, told the House Science and Astronautics Committee that the United States is losing face throughout the world because of the failure to match the Soviet Union's spectacular space shots.

Allen's statement was cleared in advance by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. A source close to the White House ventured the opinion that President Eisenhower finally has accepted urging of Pentagon and other leaders to permit spectacular propaganda shots.

2 TOP CHICAGO POLICE OFFICERS FIRED IN SCANDAL

Acting Commissioner Names New Chief of Detectives, Uniformed Force.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (UPI)—Kyran V. Phelan, acting commissioner of Chicago police, today replaced two of the top officials of the police department, naming a new chief of detectives and a new chief of the uniformed force.

Phelan, named to his temporary commissionership only Saturday, removed John Ascher as chief of detectives, and replaced him with Lt. James McMahon, who has been deputy chief of detectives.

Capt. James P. Hackett, who has been deputy chief of the uniformed force, was named chief of that group, replacing Thomas V. Lyons.

The top-level shake-up, expected to be only the first in a series which may go deep into the middle echelons of the 10,000-man force, was announced in early afternoon.

By the Associated Press.

A five-man committee appointed by Mayor Richard J. Daley will select a successor to O'Connor.

His resignation followed eruption of a police burglary ring scandal in which a burglar accused 13 policemen of either aiding his burglaries or extracting bribes to cover them up. Seventeen policemen now have been suspended and charged with criminal offenses.

The committee, headed by Orland W. Wilson, dean of the school of criminology of the University of California at Berkeley, will hold its first meeting Wednesday. Some reports indicate that the panel will comb the entire 10,000-man Chicago force for a new commissioner before looking elsewhere. Daley reportedly favors this program.

In the meantime, Phelan said he will devote his full time to cleaning up the scandal.

Weekend sessions brought to 51 the number of policemen from the north side Summerdale district who have been given lie detector tests. About 80 more face the tests.

QUESADA PRAISES MILITARY HELP IN PREVENTING AIR COLLISIONS

FAA Administrator Says 38 Armed Forces Radar Sites Guide Commercial Jets.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UPI) —Elwood R. Quesada, head of the Federal Aviation Agency, credited the military today with "outstanding co-operation" with civilian aviation in efforts to prevent collisions.

Quesada at one time an Air Force general, made the comment before the Senate Aviation subcommittee as it resumed its search for ways to improve the nation's air safety record.

Some veteran airline pilots have complained that fast-flying military jets have been "leaking" through radar screens, increasing the possibility of mid-air collision with passenger planes.

David Thomas, chief of the FAA Bureau of Traffic Management, said "We have to weigh all interests" in assigning air space.

He said such discriminatory measures as prohibiting military aircraft from using civilian fields and barring formation flying outside of restricted areas would be "a disservice to the defense of our country" and could not be justified.

Senator Vance Hartke (Dem.), Indiana, urged the Administration to tell the public whether airplanes and airports are safe. He said Quesada and other Administration officials have remained silent in the face of mounting public concern.

Thomas said there were 14 mid-air collisions in 1958, some involving commercial airliners. Of the 13 last year, he said, none involved scheduled airliners.

Quesada said use of the continental Air Defense Command's radar facilities to guide commercial jets was an "outstanding example" of military-civilian co-operation.

Thomas said 38 of the long-range radar sites, partly manned by FAA personnel, are now in operation, tracking all cross-country commercial jet flights from takeoff to landing.

The prime purpose of the system, so far applied only to jets which travel above 24,000 feet, is to prevent planes from colliding. It also aids in controlling traffic, adjusting flight paths and bringing planes in over busy airports for orderly landings in congested air space.

Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney (Dem.), Oklahoma, said that the subcommittee, after three weeks of general exploration of the air safety field, would direct its emphasis toward specific areas.

This week, he said, air traffic control would be taken up.

Quesada, in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World report, said today that human error was the largest single cause of air crashes.

He said that "between 50 and 52 per cent of our accidents are attributable to human error." He added that the FAA was trying to reduce this factor by improving cockpit discipline and airplane maintenance.

JOHN HANFF, RETIRED POLICE CORPORAL, DIES

John Hanff, former St. Louis police officer, died yesterday of cancer at St. Anthony Hospital. He was 75 years old and lived at 3624 Pennsylvania avenue.

Mr. Hanff joined the department in 1909 and retired in 1954. In 1947 he was promoted to corporal. He served in the Hampton Avenue district until 1931, when he was transferred to the Carondelet district, where he remained until his retirement.

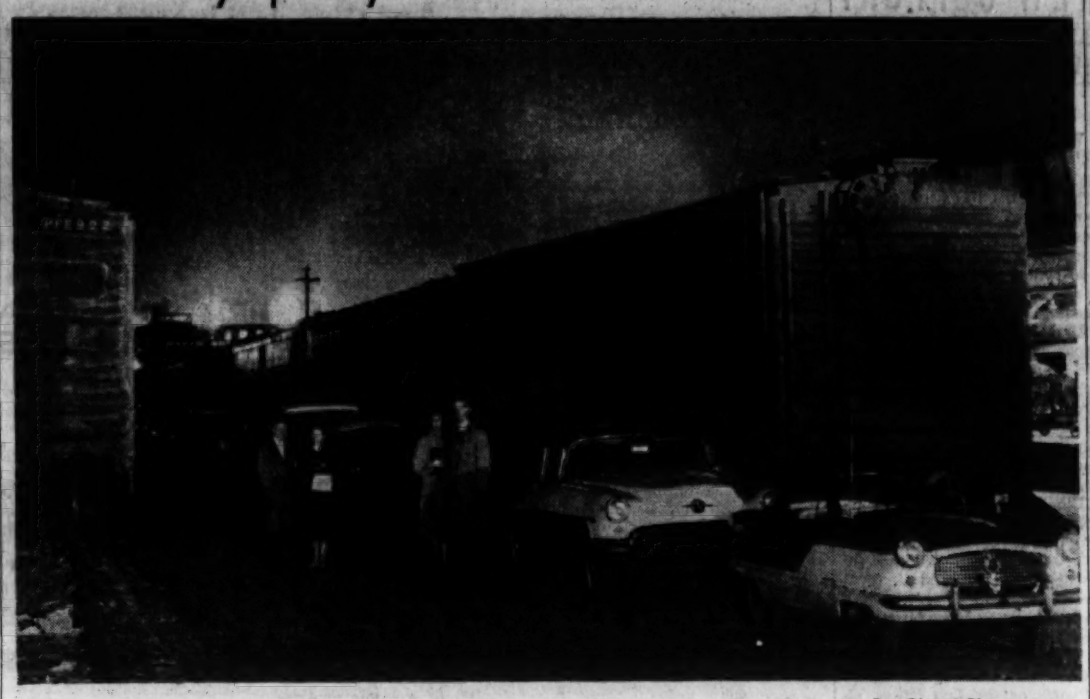

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Ray Schroeter, with whom he lived, and Mrs. Emilie Kutta, and two brothers, Walter and Edwin Hanff. Funeral services will be Thursday at 1 p.m. at Wacker-Helderle undertaking establishment, 3634 Gravois avenue, with burial in Sunset Burial Park.

3 ILLINOISANS FINED ON MISSOURI TAX

Three more Illinois residents employed in Missouri were fined today on their pleas of guilty of failure to file Missouri income tax returns.

Judge Louis Comerford of the Court of Criminal Correction also imposed 60-day workhouse sentences but stayed them on payment of the fines, along with taxes and penalties.

Billie Wohlwend of Columbia, an engineer for Anheuser-Busch brewery, who was charged with failure to file a return on $8700 in income for 1957, paid a $100 fine and $210 in taxes and penalties for the years 1955-58.

Richard Keck of Waterloo, a maintenance man for the Eighth & Locust Realty Co., who failed to file a return on $5300 income for 1957, paid a $50 fine and $77 in taxes and penalties for 1955-58.

Ralph Kercheval, 675 North Sixty-second street, East St. Louis, a Peoples liquor store manager, who failed to file a return on $5100 income for 1957, paid a $50 fine and $26 in taxes and penalties on 1957-58 income.

First Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Jasper R. Vettori announced that a warrant has been issued against Melvin Henry Junge, 421 South Twenty-third street, Belleville, charging failure to file a return on $7800 in income for 1957. Junge was said to be a pipefitter for the Eichler Co., 2125 Locust street.

MAN SHOT AT EAST SIDE TAVERN; SUSPECT SOUGHT

Otila Valencia, 1801 Spruce street, Granite City, was shot and seriously wounded yesterday at Club Bayou, a tavern on the Chouteau Slough, four miles north of Granite City. He named a man who is being sought.

Valencia, who is in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City, with a bullet wound of the pelvis, told police that he and a companion were drinking at the tavern and that a man suddenly struck him on the head with a pistol. As Valencia went to his automobile the man followed him and fired one shot, he said.

Valencia's companion, Jesse Yabaria, drove him to the hospital. Officers went to the tavern and found it closed but picked up a empty cartridge on the parking lot.

MRS. RICHARD DUNNE SR. FUNERAL TO BE WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Richard Dunne Sr., widow of a clerk for the old Rice-Stix Co., will be at 9 a.m. Wednesday at Christ the King Catholic Church, 7300 Balson avenue, University City. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mrs. Dunne, who was 91 years old, died of infirmities of age yesterday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Alfred Roche, 7274 Dartmouth avenue, University City. She had lived with her daughter for the past several years.

Surviving are two other daughters, Mrs. Fred A. Hecker of University City and Mrs. Eugene Hoffer of East St. Louis, and a son, Richard Dunne Jr.

JUDGE UPHOLDS DISMISSAL OF PATROLMAN JACKSON

The dismissal of former Patrolman Lorenzo Jackson by the Board of Police Commissioners in October 1957 was upheld today by Circuit Judge Franklin E. Reagan.

Judge Reagan said the board's decision was duly authorized by law and supported by competent and substantial evidence. Jackson was fired after a hearing into charges growing out of an investigation of the narcotics traffic in St. Louis.

He was charged with attempting to form a business alliance to handle narcotics, conduct unbecoming an officer, neglect of duty and associating with persons of undesirable character.

Kiel Parking

visible Window Co. at 1428 Clark. The cars were ticketed for illegal parking.

Two automobiles were parked on the sidewalk in front of a filling station at Fourteenth and Clark. Two other cars were parked in a driveway leading into the Municipal courts building's ground-level entrances.

Another car was parked in front of a driveway on Clark, blocking the entrance to a parking lot immediately to the east.

Wood horses placed at the entrances to the City Hall parking lot and the lot between City Hall and the Municipal Courts building after they are filled frequently are removed by motorists who then park their cars in the aisles on both lots, police said.

Last Saturday night, a patrolman was assigned to guard the entrances to prevent motorists from removing the horses and parking in the aisles. Such parking prevented legally-parked motorists from getting their cars out.

A new survey by the City Traffic Division has shown that 1455 on-street parking spaces are now available in the area bounded by Eleventh and Seventeenth streets and Pine street and Clark avenue. Traffic Commissioner Ellis C. Henry Jr. told the Post-Dispatch today.

He emphasized that this number of spaces is available only on week nights and on Saturdays and Sundays.

Viaduct Parking.

The Traffic Division's survey indicated that 122 additional on-street parking spaces could be made available on the Fourteenth street viaduct, where parking now is prohibited.

In addition, 47 other spaces could be made available by allowing angle parking on Eleventh between Clark and Market street; on Thirteenth street, between Market and Chestnut street, and on Walnut between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, Henry said.

He added that he is preparing proposals that parking be allowed on the viaduct and that angle parking be allowed on Eleventh, Thirteenth and Walnut.

Henry said a bridge engineer made a study of the Fourteenth street viaduct and reported that there is no structural reason for prohibiting parking on the viaduct.

If Henry's proposals were carried out, parking on the viaduct and on the other streets would be at the direction of the Police Department, which would determine when the spaces could be used.

300 Spaces Lost.

The parking situation near the auditorium has been aggravated by the loss of 300 parking spaces on the site of the new Federal building, which is now under construction on the block just west of the auditorium.

The city has for some time planned to construct a 1000-car shelf garage on the block bounded by Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Walnut and Clark.

The plans have been held up, however, because the Post Office Department has a lease option on the land and is now occupying a one-story truck terminal on the property.

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker and other city officials have gone to Washington several times and conferred with Post Office Department officials, attempting to persuade them to give up their option on the garage.

A compromise proposal was advanced at one point for the city to acquire the entire site, build the parking facility and lease the ground level to the Post Office. City officials now feel this is out of the question.

Post Office May Move.

City officials have been informed, however, that the Post Office may vacate the garage and build truck terminal facilities elsewhere.

A spokesman for the Mayor, who is in Washington today on other matters, said that a decision from the Post Office Department is expected in about two weeks.

Mercury vapor street lamps are being installed in the area bounded by the railroad tracks, Clark and Fourteenth and Sixteenth, Walter T. Malloy, director of public utilities, said.

About 20 of the lights have been installed and will be put into operation in about 10 days. An additional 20 to 30 will be in operation within six weeks, Malloy said.

Malloy said many persons have been somewhat reluctant to park in this area because it is not well lighted. It is hoped that the powerful mercury vapor lights will solve this, he added.

16 Plaza Square Apartments to Be Opened Friday for Public to Visit

Sixteen units in one building in the Plaza Square Apartments will be opened for public inspection in brief ceremonies at noon on Friday, it was announced today. The apartments are scheduled for occupancy starting May 1.

The display apartments will be in the building at Seventeenth and Pine streets. City officials, civic leaders and members of the board of the Urban Redevelopment Corp. will formally open the apartments.

After the noon ceremonies, the apartments will be open to public inspection daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Throughout the opening day a free shuttle bus will operate between the downtown area and the Plaza Square Apartments for persons who wish to inspect the furnished and decorated apartments.

The Dolan Co. is in charge of rentals and will maintain an office in the building with the display units. The buildings were financed with private capital supplied through the Urban Redevelopment Corp. of St. Louis.

The six buildings, containing 1090 apartments, are located between Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Olive and Chestnut streets. There are 334 efficiency units, 600 one-bedroom units and 156 two-bedroom apartments. There are balconies on 602 apartments.

The apartments include kitchen equipment. Air conditioning, maid and other services are optional at additional cost. Both surface and inclosed parking are available to tenants.

The Plaza Square Apartments represent an initial project in the revitalization of the downtown area. The construction was made possible by private citizens and St. Louis business firms with a cash fund of $2,000,000 and more than $13,000,000 in loans to finance the project. Work started on the apartments in late 1958.

Russell Gardner Jr., president of Reinholdt & Gardner, is president of the Urban Redevelopment Corp. Aloys P. Kaufmann, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis, is vice president, and Fred Z. Salomon, vice president of May Department Stores Co., is chairman of the board.

BOWLING ALLEY ROBBED OF $1700 BY MASKED MAN

Donald McDonald, assistant manager of Crestwood Bowl, 9822 Highway 66, was forced to open a safe early today by a masked man who fled with $1700.

The robber, about 25 years old, entered an office where McDonald was working at 12:35 a.m. and ordered him to open the safe. When McDonald obeyed, the robber grabbed the cash and fled out a rear door. Persons bowling in the establishment were unaware that there had been a robbery.

Dick Weber and Pat Patterson, professional bowling stars, are partners in the establishment.

An employe of a Bettendorf-Rapp Supermarket in University City yesterday interrupted three safe burglars who fled with two sacks of money while he ran to call police. The amount of loot was not determined.

Charles Roach, a bookkeeper, entered the front door of the market, at 609 North and South boulevard, at 10:45 a.m. He detected a burning odor and saw several men working on a safe with an acetylene torch.

Roach ran out the front door and the burglars left by the rear door. They got in two automobiles. One car stopped at the loading dock, where the occupants picked up the sacks of money.

The burglars burned a hole through a top door in the safe and removed the money bags. They were working on the bottom door, leading to a separate compartment, when Roach appeared. The burglars left an oxygen tank, torch and tools behind.

Drug Store Robbed.

Thomas Garnett, pharmacist in a drug store at 2607 Cass avenue, was handed a note yesterday by an armed man who said he wanted a prescription filled.

The note said: "This is a stick-up." The robber also showed the note to Fred Chism, son of the owner. He then took an undetermined sum from two cash registers and fled west on Cass avenue.

Three newsboys were held up and robbed by other youths.

They were: Robert Wilkins, 13 years old, 4230 Hunt avenue, robbed of $14 Saturday night at Klemm street and McRee avenue; Jesse Bell, 3818 St. Ferdinand avenue, threatened with a knife and robbed of $15 last night in the 3700 block of Cook avenue, and Helm Scott, 15, 4517 North Twentieth street, robbed of $9 by two boys, one armed with a knife the other with a heavy chain, Saturday night in the 4700 block of Blair avenue.

William Moore, a cook, 4135 Cook avenue, reported that he was pulled into an alley by a man in the 2300 block of Cole street last night and robbed of $90. The robber fled through the alley.

$300 In Coins Stolen.

Mrs. Katherine Pearson, operator of a restaurant near National Stockyards, reported burglars stole $300 in coins, weighing an estimated 30 pounds, from her home Saturday night.

Mrs. Pearson, who kept the money in a metal box and a plastic bag for use in her restaurant, discovered the burglary when she returned to her home, 1382 North Twenty-third street, East St. Louis, at midnight. Entrance had been gained by forcing a basement door.

Mrs. Hester Hudson, clerk in a drug store at 2600 Olive street, was handed a note reading, "This is a stickup," last night by a man who held one hand in his jacket pocket. She handed him $70 and he ran east on Olive street.

George Shacklin, operator of a drug store at 4200 Easton avenue, and two clerks were held up last night by a man who fired a revolver shot into the floor. After taking an undetermined sum from two cash registers, the robber ran from the store.

PACK OF DOGS HUNTED AFTER ATTACK ON BOY

Rabies Control Employes Are Searching Area Near Pattonville.

Rabies control employes were searching an area near Pattonville in northwest St. Louis county today for a pack of suspected stray dogs, one of which attacked a 5-year-old boy yesterday.

The boy, Dale Naes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban L. Naes, 3522 High drive, St. Louis county, suffered scratches of the knees and stomach.

A witness to the incident, Mrs. Ann Edmondson, 3516 High drive, said a large collie attacked the boy. Other dogs were running around and barking. Mrs. Edmondson said the barking attracted her attention.

"I thought at first that the little boy was playing with the dogs," she said. "But then he started running down the street, and he was crying. Evidently the dogs were scaring him.

"This big collie jumped up and knocked him down, took hold of his arm and dragged him down the street. I went out and started hollering at the collie, and the dog let him go."

Dale ran home and told his parents what had happened. Mrs. Naes said she found no bites.

Both Mrs. Edmondson and Mrs. Naes said the collie wore no collar. Residents said they had not seen it before. Other dogs in the group had been seen in the neighborhood previously.

Mrs. Edmondson said she walked very near the collie after the incident. The animal made no move to attack her, she said.

North county residents have been concerned about dog packs since Mark D. Draper, 2 years old, of Hazelwood, was killed by a pack of strays last May 23. Many of the dogs subsequently were destroyed.

Eugene L. VanMeter, director of rabies control in the county, said last week that there are still seven dogs remaining in a pack which lives around the eastern end of Lambert-St. Louis Field. VanMeter's staff and Hazelwood police are attempting to capture them.

New from Zenith

WORLD'S FIRST
High Fidelity Hearing Aid!

LETS YOU HEAR SOUNDS NEVER HEARD BEFORE WITH A HEARING AID!

The brand new Zenith "Extended Range" Hearing Aid excels all others in all these major advantages:

- 98% greater range of sounds reproduced and amplified. Wider frequency range brings in sounds never before experienced through present conventional transistor hearing aids.
- Far less distortion and background noise. Eliminates irritating noisy sound "peaks."
- Sound amplified more faithfully. All sound is far more normal, more perfectly balanced.
- Hearing aid High Fidelity achieved. Virtually eliminates "tinny," "hollow," "scratching" sounds.

Prove it to yourself in 30 seconds!

If you are hard-of-hearing and do not wear a hearing aid, you won't know how much one can really help you until you try the "Extended Range." If you already wear a hearing aid, come in and compare. 30 seconds will show you the truly amazing difference!

KENNEDY GAINS NEW SUPPORT IN HIS CAMPAIGN

© New York Times News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—New gains for Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts in his drive for the Democratic presidential nemination were reported yesterday after a weekend of intense politicking.

Maryland politicians passed the word that the Massachusetts Senator appeared assured of their state's 24 convention votes probably without a contest in the May 17 primary. They reported abandonment of early plans to run Gov. Millar Tawes as a "favorite son" in the primary, which had brought threats that Senator Kennedy might come in against him.

The Kennedy camp also reported amiable conferences with two continuing "favorite sons," Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California, who will have big voting blocs in the Los Angeles convention opening July 11.

Gov. Williams, with Michigan's 51 votes on the first ballot, already has conceded he has little chance of nomination this year. He is looking therefore for an opportunity to be among the "kingmakers" and will be watching with interest the outcome of the April 5 head-on clash in Wisconsin between Senators Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. A knockout blow by either candidate in that race might spring loose the Michigan delegation in the hope of leading a bandwagon rush.

Gov. Brown, backed by the California party organization in the June 7 primary, said after his talk with Senator Kennedy that he had received no assurance yet the Massachusetts Senator would not be in the California race. Gov. Brown said their talk was a friendly one, but not definitive insofar as the preconvention campaign was concerned.

Meanwhile, Senator Kennedy is expected to announce soon that Representative Chester Bowles (Dem.), Connecticut, will be his foreign policy adviser in the fight for the nomination. Bowles, former ambassador to India, has been mentioned as a dark horse possibility for the nomination himself. However, he renounced the suggestion last fall and said he would support Kennedy.

By the Associated Press.

With pledges of solid support from all the New England states at the Democratic national convention in July, Kennedy made his first pitch today to clinch these delegates. He has a round of speeches, receptions, rallies and handshaking tours of factories in Nashua and Manchester, N.H., on the program for his one-day stand.

His wife, Jacqueline, is taking the stump with him.

At a dinner in Boston last night, sponsors announced a profit of a record $174,000 and gave Kennedy a check for $50,000 to speed him on the campaign trail.

Kennedy said the money will come in handy in the primaries he intends to enter in five or six states, in which he said he is attempting to give the Democrats "the opportunity to participate in saying who the nominee will be instead of having a nominee handed to them."

Wisconsin Primary Is Real Test, Kennedy's Brother Says.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Jan. 25 (AP)—Robert Kennedy, brother of Democratic presidential aspirant Senator John F. Kennedy (Dem.), Massachusetts, asserted yesterday "what we're going to do in Wisconsin is decide the future of the United States."

"If my brother does well here, he'll get the nomination and beat (Vice President Richard M.) Nixon," he told a meeting of the Wisconsin Kennedy for President organization's steering committee. "If he does not make a good showing, he is going to have a difficult time."

GOVERNORS VISIT PRESIDENT AND DISCUSS CIVIL DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UPI)—President Eisenhower and a number of key officials met today with a delegation of state governors on proposals for protecting the American people from radioactive fallout in event of enemy attack.

The conference with the special civil defense committee of the national governors' conference was to end with a brief public report on the meeting after a White House luncheon.

The governors were led by Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Others were Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware, Ernest S. Hollings of South Carolina and George D. Clyde of Utah.

EX-PARTY HEADS BOYLE, M'KINNEY BACK SYMINGTON

By RICHARD DUDMAN
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri has enlisted the services of two former Democratic national chairmen, both close associates of former President Truman, in the Symington for President organization.

William M. Boyle Jr. and Frank E. McKinney were named today as members of the National We Want Symington Committee.

Chairman of the committee, Representative Charles H. Brown (Dem.), Springfield, Mo., said the committee would open an office in Washington about Feb. 1. He described the new office as a branch office of the We Want Symington clubs, of which he is co-chairman and which has headquarters in Jefferson City.

Boyle resigned under fire as chairman of the Democratic National Committee in 1951 in the midst of a Senate investigation of his relationship with the American Lithofold Corp. of St. Louis. The investigation had resulted from disclosure by the Post-Dispatch that Boyle was on the payroll of American Lithofold and interceded with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on behalf of the company, which was seeking an RFC loan.

Truman accepted Boyle's statement that he was resigning because of ill health and said afterward he had asked Boyle to stay on.

McKinney was elected by the national committee Nov. 1, 1951, to succeed Boyle. McKinney's term lasted only until Aug. 10, 1952, when Adlai E. Stevenson, having been nominated for President, forced McKinney's resignation and appointed Stephen A. Mitchell national chairman. Truman never has forgiven Stevenson for that action.

Other members of the new We Want Symington Committee, as listed by Brown, are William H. Perkins Jr., a Chicago insurance man who supported Stevenson in 1952 and 1956; F. Joseph (Jiggs) Donohue, former commissioner of the District of Columbia and director of the 1956 vice presidential campaign of Senator Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee; and William Bray, a former member of the Democratic National Committee.

Brown said a Citizens for Symington Committee would be announced later.

Representative Leonor K. Sullivan (Dem.), St. Louis, is co-chairman with Brown of the We Want Symington clubs which will continue to have their headquarters in Jefferson City.

Other officers of the Jefferson City organization are Russell F. Millin of Kansas City, vice chairman; Sam Cook, Jefferson City, vice chairman; Mrs. Sallie Hailey, secretary, and Tal Wooten of Aurora Mo., treasurer.

latest Western anti-submarine devices, as well as secret information on Britain's Gannet and Seahawk submarine-hunting aircraft.

He is also accused of stealing still-undisclosed American military information at Pensacola, and with cultivating a shipboard romance with a girl who handled secret material for an American armament firm.

The name of the girl has not been disclosed.

The arrest of Ludwig brought strong criticism of the American security procedures which allowed him to reach a responsible position.

He got his first security screening from American authorities when he joined the crew of a German-manned United States minesweeper shortly after fleeing through the Iron Curtain in 1950.

Later, he joined the West German navy as a lieutenant junior grade and was sent to Pensacola for pilot training.

He returned to Germany in December 1957 and was sent to Lossiemouth air base in Scotland as air armament officer with West Germany's First Naval Air Unit. In late summer, 1958, he was transferred to Jagel air base in Germany.

An employe of the East German security police who fled to the West exposed Ludwig as a Communist agent.

in which he said new intelligence made it possible to estimate probable Soviet missile production and performance.

He told the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee Jan. 13 that because of these new estimates the Soviet missile threat was rated less seriously than before.

Previous estimates were based on Russian production "capability," he explained.

Democrats Charge Switch.

Democrats charged that the Defense Department had switched to basing defense programs on probable Russian intentions rather than capabilities.

"We now have better information available from a variety of sources and a variety of subjects," Gates said today.

Gates said the Defense Department's ballistic and space programs have "achieved impressive results."

He said both the Atlas and Polaris missiles had been developed nearly three years ahead of schedule.

House committee chairman Overton Brooks (Dem.), Louisiana, asked Gates to discuss the new intelligence policy, which Brooks said he undertood was related to "the intentions of a possible adversary."

"There are some that interpret it that way," Gates said.

Then he went on to state that the new estimates are based on facts, and not guesswork.

Brooks questioned Gates about the so-called "missile gap." Gates replied the United States is admittedly behind the Soviet Union in developing big booster rockets for space exploration.

But Gates said that when I.C.B.M. development is taken into account, along with other military hardware, "our retaliatory capability is on a sound basis."

"Missiles are only one way of doing this terrible business," Gates said. "We have a number of ways . . . we are in a strong position."

Much Longer Range.

By the Associated Press.

Gates testified the Atlas missile, which he termed already operational, will ultimately have a much longer range than the distance claimed last week by the Russians for a missile tested in the Pacific. But Gates insisted the Atlas already has all the range it needs to reach its objectives.

"I think it will reach 8500 miles . . ." Gates said. Under questioning, Gates said that neither President Eisenhower nor the Bureau of the Budget has ever ordered the Defense Department "to cut down on any programs essential for national defense, in order to balance the budget."

Dealing with another aspect of defense, the Army's two top spokesmen sought to head off any downgrading of the ground forces as a result of the Soviets' announced cut of 1,200,000 in military manpower.

Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer chief of staff, told the House Armed Services Committee that the Army's role is an important as ever in the age of missiles.

Representative Frank Kowalski (Dem.), Connecticut, proposed a sweeping revision of the armed forces which would mold the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard into one defense unit.

Kowalski, a former Army colonel, submitted legislation that would give full command authority to a civilian secretary of defense with only the President as commander-in-chief above him.

no 'actual matters in controversy essential to the decision of the particular case before it.' "

Precedents Cited.

At this point the opinion cited numerous precedents, and continued:

"Whatever the practice of the courts of Missouri, the duty of this court 'is to decide actual controversies by a judgment which can be carried into effect, and not to give opinions upon moot questions or abstract propositions, or to declare principles or rules of law which cannot affect the matter in issue in the case before it.' "

Citing other precedents, the court said: "To express an opinion upon the merits of the appellants' (the union's) contentions would be to ignore this basic limitation upon the duty and function of the court and to disregard the principles of judicial administration long established and repeatedly followed."

The majority rejected the argument that pending civil cases gave life to the appeal, observing these cases, when decided by the lower courts, will be subject to review and it was not for the highest court to anticipate the outcome.

Seniority Issue.

Involved in the strike was a question of seniority rights of the union workers which the union claimed were jeopardized by the Missouri court's decision. In this issue, the Supreme Court majority said:

"The asserted threat to the seniority rights of Laclede employes is even more speculative (than the outcome of the civil cases). Almost four years have elapsed since the strike and the appellants concede that no action has been taken to deprive any employes of their seniority.

"Moreover, the section of the (King-Thompson) act which relates to seniority rights imposes no legal sanction on the employes or their union but makes unlawful only the action of the utility company which rehires the employes without the loss of seniority.

"In the unlikely event that a legal proceeding should now be brought against Laclede for having done so, there is no way to know what the outcome of such a proceeding in the Missouri courts might be."

The majority opinion concluded with a quotation from an earlier decision:

"The decision we are asked to review upheld only the validity of an injunction, an injunction that expired by its own terms more than three years ago.

"Any judgment of ours at this late date would be 'wholly ineffectual for want of a subject matter on which it could operate.

An affirmance would ostensibly require something to be done which had already taken place. A reversal would ostensibly avoid an event which had already passed beyond recall. One would be as vain as the other. To adjudicate a cause which no longer exists is a proceeding which this court uniformly has declined to entertain.' "

Minority Opinion.

The minority opinion was only about 200 words long and it emphasized that the Missouri Supreme Court had taken jurisdiction over the case after the strike had been settled.

The three dissenters would have reversed the Missouri court and held the law unconstitutional. Their opinion said :

"We think this controversy is not moot. As the court's majority opinion points out, the petitioner union may still be held liable for monetary penalties and its members may lose seniority because of the strike the Missouri Supreme Court held illegal under state law.

Its holding was made long after the strike had ended. It was moot then if it is moot now. But the state court treated it as a live controvessy, and so should we.

Otherwise, the petitioner union and its members stand constantly under threats of penalities and continuing injunctions under the state statute the Missouri Supreme Court held validly applied in this case.

"The wrongfulness in holding the case moot is emphasized by our belief that the state court was plainly without any jurisdiction over this controversy unless the court wants to overrule Bus Employes v. Wisconsin Board, 340 U.S. 383, and adopt the views of the three dissenters in that case. We would follow that holding and reverse this case on the merits."

DOMESTIC WATER CARRIERS SET UP LEGISLATIVE GROUP

An organization called the Committee of Domestic Water Carriers has been formed to deal with legislative and public relations problems of the water carrier industry, A.C. Ingersoll Jr., president of Federal Barge Lines in St. Louis, announced today.

Ingersoll is chairman of the new committee, which has established headquarters in Washington, D.C. The group was organized in New York last week at a meeting called by Ingersoll as chairman of a special legislative committee of the American Waterways Operators Inc.

The Committee of Domestic Water Carriers, Ingersoll said, will serve to establish a common purpose in legislative and public relations activities among carriers providing service over inland channels, on the Great Lakes, in coastal and coastwise trade and in deep-sea operations.

will be returned to the galleries in the main museum building, he said.

"We will assist sponsors of programs that were to be held in the auditorium in securing another auditorium and we will open the museum proper if they wish to have their programs in one of the galleries," he said.

Nagel said that the auditorium "was perhaps occupied too soon by the museum." The Auditorium opened last November.

SUSPECT ESCAPES OUT WINDOW AT POLICE STATION

A suspected thief jumped out a window at the Carr Street Police Station and escaped Saturday night after misleading two policemen by feigning a heart attack. He was rearrested several hours later.

The prisoner, booked as Ramel L. Perkins, 25 years old, was arrested Saturday night at the Cochran Apartments, where a watchman reported that he had been seen stealing a fire extinguisher.

While being questioned at the police station by Patrolmen William Bressie and John Rakonick, the suspect told the officers he suffers from heart disease. He slumped to the floor in an apparent attack. When an ammonia capsule failed to "revive" the prisoner, Rakonick left the room to call an ambulance, while Bressie went for cold towels. When the officers returned, a window 12 feet above the sidewalk was open and Perkins was gone.

ADMINISTRATION OPPOSES HOME BUILDING BOOST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UPI) —The Administration today denounced as inflationary and price-boosting a Democratic plan to give the home building industry a shot in the arm.

The plan, object of an intensive lobbying campaign by home builders, would channel one billion dollars in Treasury funds into mortgages for lower-priced housing under the FHA and VA programs.

Federal housing chief Norman P. Mason and other administration housing officials told a House Banking subcommittee the proposal would boost the cost of housing for home buyers.

In opening the week-long hearing, subcommittee chairman Albert Rains (Dem.), Alabama, predicted a substantial decline in home building this spring unless Congress acts to provide additional mortgage credit. Rains is sponsor of the disputed legislation.

Mason challenged Rains's appraisal of the impact which tight mortgage credit will have on home building. He acknowledged that home builders and buyers have a "real problem" in arranging mortgage financing, but said the administration feels that the "credit situation will permit a high level of home building in 1960."

'Prosperity Rising.'

Mason emphasized that the situation is "entirely different" now from that prevailing two years ago when the President accepted similar legislation.

"Then, the economy was in a recession," he said. "Now, we are in a time of rising prosperity."

By the Associated Press.

Twenty-three Senators offered an amendment which would more than double the size of the billion-dollar federal school aid bill and provide money to raise teachers' pay.

The original bill, sponsored by Senator Pat McNamara (Dem.), Michigan, is awaiting Senate consideration. It proposes $500,000,000 a year of matched fund grants to the states for school construction only.

Senator Joseph S. Clark, (Dem.), Pennsylvania, announced that he and 22 others are seeking to amend the measure in the Senate to enlarge the grants and permit use of some of the money for teacher pay boosts. In a statement Clark said the amendment would provide $25 a year of federal air for each school-age child.

One of the co-sponsors is Senator Thomas C. Hennings (Dem.), Missouri.

Tangle Over Rights.

Meanwhile the Senate tries to untagle itself from a dispute over state rights and civil rights in connection with the federal elections control bill.

The measure, under debate since Jan. 13, provides for fuller reporting and tighter regulation of the financing of congressional and presidential election campaigns.

As the Senate appeared to be nearing final action on it Friday, Senators Russell Long (Dem.), Louisiana, and Kenneth B. Keating (Rep.) New York, offered amendments that started another round of controversy.

Both Senators rejected appeals to withdraw their amendments, although they still could do so.

Long's amendment, offered first, would require all candidates for the Senate and the House to be nominated in primary elections.

It was prompted by the adoption earlier of an amendment applying the bill's regulations to primaries and nominating conventions as well as general elections.

Keating Critical of Long.

Long, who opposed the amendment covering primaries, said that if the Federal Government was going to undertake to regulate primaries, then all states should be required to have them.

Keating, a chief sponsor of the amendment, comes from one of the few states where candidates are nominated in party conventions.

He said he was surprissed that such a firm supporter of states rights as Long would offer an amendment to tell every state how it must nominate congressional candidates.

Keating then offered an amendment to Long's amendment. This would provide that no primary nomination shall be valid if a federal court finds that any duly qualified voter has been denied an equal opportunity to register and vote. Keating's amendment brought protests from Long and other Southern Senators.

By United Press International.

Meanwhile Representative James Roosevelt (Dem.), California, challenged Vice President Richard M. Nixon to get behind a northern Democratic drive to pry the stalled civil rights bill out of the House Rules Committee.

IF YOUR LAST NAME IS DIFFERENT from the person who has the telephone where you are living, you may be missing many a phone call. A separate listing is ideal for each adult—relative, friend or boarder—whose last name is different from the person in whose name the phone is listed.

BUSINESSMEN can pick up valuable new business, increase profits, keep customers happy by making it easy for people to reach them at home after regular business hours. For instance, list in the directory both your office number and the telephone number to call after business hours. Why not do it today?

YOUNG ADULTS often miss calls—and, worst of all, social events—because friends don't know how to reach them . . . don't know how their family's telephone is listed in the directory. Why take a chance? Put your name in the phone book. You can pay for the listing out of your allowance or earnings from your job.

ACTIVE WOMEN who are workers in club, church, civic groups often have trouble telephoning each other, because they know each other as Helen Jaynes or Karen Chalmers, don't know the first name or initials of husbands in whose name the phone is listed. End this trouble by listing your name in the phone book, too.

Do you fit any of these pictures?

Don't be left out. Be easy to find. Make sure your name is in the telephone book. Why take a chance of missing important phone calls? A separate listing makes it easy and convenient for others to keep in touch with you.

A SEPARATE LISTING like this in your own name in the telephone directory costs only 50¢ a month for residence phones, $1 for business. Call LO 1-9800.

CAPE GIRARDEAU MEN SAY LOANS ARE HARD TO GET

By EDWARD H. THORNTON
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 25—The difficulties which Cape Girardeau business and professional men experienced in obtaining loans from the two existing banks in the city were recounted in depositions read into the record of an appeal hearing before the State Banking Board today.

The hearing is considering an appeal from a ruling by State Finance Commissioner G. Hubert Bates on a charter application by a group which proposed moving the Bank of Gordonville into Cape Girardeau and operating as the "Cape State Bank."

Bates ruled that the facilities of the existing Cape banks were sufficient to serve the community.

Charles E. Nnote, operator of the Cape Chemical Co., testified in his deposition that he "had a rough time trying to get money from the Cape banks."

Nnote said he had an account at the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Cape Girardeau, "but I was unable to get the money I needed in my business." He added that he obtained a loan from a bank in Jackson, Mo.

Dr. Charles McGinty, a physician, said he tried to borrow $1600 from the First National Bank in Cape Girardeau, but the bank "showed great hesitancy."

Dr. McGinty said he obtained the loan, to repay money he had borrowed to help pay for his medical education, from the Farmers and Merchants Bank.

Other business men who said there is a need for an additional bank in Cape Girardeau included Kenneth G. Bender, operator of an oil firm; W. W. Juden, an automobile parts dealer, and A. M. Schonhof, a dairy farmer.

A second proposed new bank, which would be called the Bank of Cape Girardeau, was termed "a branch bank of the First National" by Russell Young, a liquor dealer.

Young said he obtained the impression from a conversation with a supporter of the Bank of Cape Girardeau project.

It was contended by the Gordonville group that the Bank of Cape Girardeau application was a blocking move by the existing banks. Richard R. Nacy Jr., whose father is chairman of the State Banking Board, sat in as an attorney at a meeting of officers of the existing Cape Girardeau banks, at which financing of the proposed new bank was discussed.

A series of recent Post-Dispatch articles indicated that groups with strong political support were able to obtain bank charters, while some applications by groups without such support were rejected by Bates.

MITCHELL URGES ILLINOIS LABOR RELATIONS LAW

Passage of a state labor relations law to guarantee "rights for working men" was urged today by Stephen A. Mitchell at Machinists Hall in East Alton, Ill. He is seeking the Illinois Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

He told Madison county Democrats that such a law should cover employes not covered by federal law and yet be in line with national labor policy.

Mitchell, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, has been touring southern Illinois. He has been seeking support in this campaign to win nomination over Cook county Judge Otto Kerner, Democratic organization candidate.

FOREST PARK SKATER FALLS AND SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

Edward J. Wallner suffered a fractured right leg yesterday afternoon when he slipped and fell when skating on Post-Dispatch Lake in Forest Park, police reported. He lives at 7843 General Sheridan lane, Affton.

Wallner, a brewer, 43 years old, was skating with his wife near the boathouse when he lost his balance. Mrs. Wallner drove him home, where the family physician was consulted. Wallner then was taken to Lutheran Hospital.

ALDERMEN OK QUICK BOND RETIREMENT

The Board of Aldermen today approved a proposed new schedule for retirement of $12,435,000 in city improvement bonds which will result in a net saving of more than $500,000 in interest.

Quick action was taken on the measure to permit rescheduling of the payments before the bonds are sold next Feb. 17. The board received the bill on Friday, took the first vote on it on Saturday and acted on it today under suspension of the rules after the Ways and Means Committee reported the measure favorably.

The new schedule of bond maturity was set forth in an amendment to an ordinance authorizing issuance of the bonds. The original ordinance provided that the bonds be retired at the rate of $900,000 a year from 1966 through 1979.

Under the new schedule, $2,000,000 will be retired in 1962, $1,000,000 in 1963 and varying amounts after that. Also the amendment removed the 4 per cent maximum interest rate, since the earlier retirement may necessitate a slightly higher rate.

The board also adopted a resolution for an aldermanic committee investigation of charges assessed patients at City Hospital clinics.

Aldermen Raymond Lejsure and John T. Curry, who introduced the resolution, said the clinics charge $1 monthly registration fees and 25 cents for each visit. This is an undue burden on old-age pensioners and other needy people, they said.

Alderman James W. Noonan, acting board president, named five men to the committee, which will report back to the board. The committee will consist of Aldermen Leisure, Louis Aboussie, Albert Villa, T. H. Mayberry and Joseph B. McDonald.

NINE POLICEMEN BEATEN TO DEATH BY S. AFRICA MOB

DURBAN, South Africa, Jan. 25 (AP)—Nine policemen were herded into a native hut and beaten to death by an enraged African mob last night.

Four of the dead men were white, five black.

Police reinforcements, rushed to the scene in suburban Cato Manor, managed to restore an uneasy peace. Armed patrols roamed the area on the ready for fresh outbreaks.

First word of trouble came when a radio operator at Cato Manor police station received a message saying: "Oh God, they are stoning us. Come and help us."

A strong police detachment was rushed to the area as thousands of residents in the town barricaded themselves in their homes. At the scene they found nine policemen beaten to death and one severely injured.

An official police statement said "it appears that while one group of prisoners was being brought into Cato Manor police station by half the police raiding party, natives attacked the remainder."

An unofficial account said police had gone into the suburb to investigate the murder of an African.

The disorder marked the worst police casualty toll in a single clash in Durban's violent history.

Cato Manor was the scene of riots in August 1949 when Africans killed scores of Indians living in the area.

Hostile Crowd Greets Macmillan in Nyasaland.

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland, Jan. 25 (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain was met today by the most hostile crowd so far on his African good will tour. Police action was necessary to hold nationalist demonstrators in check.

Macmillan was reviewing an airport guard of honor when an African tried to lead fellow nationalists on the field. Police arrested him. Later a banner-waving crowd threatened to break through a police cordon and stop Macmillan's limousine. Police linked arms and held them back.

The nationalists were members of the Youth League of the extremist Malawi Congress party. It was formed recently to take the place of the African National Congress, barred after last year's nationalist riots.

POWERFUL NEW PLUNGER clears CLOGGED TOILETS in a jiffy!

NEVER AGAIN that sick feeling when your toilet overflows

'TOILAFLEX' Toilet ALL-ANGLE Plunger

- Accordion-action design to flex at any angle.
- Double-size cup blasts double pressure directly at obstruction.
- Tapered suction-grooved tail gives air-tight fit.
- Pilot-tail guides plunger to dead center of drain—can't skid around.

Ordinary plungers just don't seat properly. They permit compressed air, water and sludge to splash back. Thus you not only have a mess, but you lose the very pressure you need to clear the obstruction.

With "Toilaflex", expressly designed for toilets, no air, water or sludge can escape. This unique, patented plunger assures a snug, air-tight fit in any toilet trap, regardless of irregular shape or size.

"Toilaflex" has a powerful double-sized cup that blasts more than twice the amount of compressed air directly at the obstruction. The full pressure plows through the clogging mass and swishes it down. Can't miss!

Your toilet could overflow tomorrow. With a "Toilaflex" in your home there's no problem, no mess, no expense; you clear your toilet with ease, in a jiffy.

THE MEN WHO DEAL IN FUTURES—YOURS

Here are St. Louis' outstanding Life Insurance Agents for 1959.

Singled out by their agencies not only for uncommon individual achievement, but for their contributions to the community, they have been honored by the St. Louis Life General Agents and Managers Association as its "Men of the Year."

We join in the tribute—and at the same time pay honor to all their agency associates. We're pleased to have worked with many of them over the past year in securing the futures of a good many St. Louis families and businesses. Perhaps among them, yours.

MEAT UNION OK'S ASSESSMENTS TO BACK STRIKE

Members of Meat Cutters' Local 88 last night voted assessments ranging from $5 to $25 a month to support a strike which began Jan. 14 at 29 A&P stores in St. Louis and St. Louis county.

The money will be used to pay benefits to butchers and meat wrappers who are out of work. The Kroger Co. and National Food Stores laid off their meat department employes after the A&P strike began.

In a meeting at the Kiel Auditorium, the union voted these assessments:

$5 a month for those earning less than $25 a week, $10 for those earning between $25 and $100, $20 for those earning between $100 and $125, and $25 for those earning more than $125.

Nicholas M. Blassie, union president, said 600 of the union's 3200 members were affected by the strike. Many have obtained part-time employment at other stores, he added.

The meeting was described as the first at which a major St. Louis union voted by secret ballot under the new federal labor law. The vote was announced as 1802 for the assessment and 474 against. Ballots were counted on the stage of the auditorium.

Spokesmen for the union and the food industry said no new negotiations have been scheduled. The last negotiation session occurred the day before the strike began.

Blassie said he recommended the assessment because the food stores had "declared economic war" on the union.

The union and industry representatives have been unable to agree on an increase in health and welfare benefits, a work load clause and wages.

Only A&P stores are being picketed. Meat department employes at Kroger and National are seeking unemployment compensation from the Missouri Division of Employment Security, claiming that they were "locked out."

EVA MARIE SAINT MAKES A SHOCKER FOR FILM COLONY

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25 (AP)—Eva Marie Saint last night shocked the movie colony with her use of a four-letter word before a house full of the biggest names in the industry. The occasion was the annual Screen Producers Guild dinner in honor of Jack L. Warner of Warner Bros., who was to receive the annual Milestone award of the Guild.

Jack Benny was master of ceremonies and Miss Saint was the first person he introduced. She was to present the Jesse L. Lasky intercollegiate film award and Benny explained that he had asked "my friend, George Jessel, to write me an introduction for Miss Saint." He then proceeded with a flowery introduction. When Miss Saint came to the podium to acknowledge the flowery introduction, she could only mutter a single sentence that brought a gasp from the audience.

POST-DISPATCH IS HONORED AS ARMY AWARD SPONSOR

A Department of Army Certificate of Appreciation for sponsoring outstanding achievement awards for enlisted members of the Army Reserve and National Guard in Missouri was presented to the Post-Dispatch today.

Maj. Gen. Charles D. W. Canham, commander of the Eleventh Corps, presented the certificate to Joseph F. Holland, special assistant to the publisher of the Post-Dispatch. The certificate, signed by Secretary of the Army, cited the newspaper as typifying "the highly desirable civilian support so essential to the accomplishment of the mission of the Army, and merits this expression of appreciation."

The first Outstanding Achievement Awards, gold medallions, were presented to 21 National Guardsmen and 20 Reservists at a ceremony last Oct. 24. The awards will be made annually.

PITTSBURGH STEEL AGREES TO EXTENSION OF CONTRACT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Pittsburgh Steel Co., the only major steel producer which has yet to sign with the United Steelworkers, agreed yesterday to an indefinite contract extension with the union.

A spokesman for the company said the agreement includes a clause which will allow either side to cancel the extension with five days notice.

Without the contract extension, the USW was free to strike the unsigned company at the expiration of a Taft-Hartley injunction next Tuesday. The firm's employes have been working under the injunction since Nov. 27. Negotiations are to continue.

ARKANSAS TEACHER LAW TEST ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to hear an appeal attacking validity of an Arkansas law requiring public school teachers to list all organizations to which they have belonged in the preceding five years.

Negroes attacking the law contend it is aimed at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The law, enacted by a special session of the Legislature in 1958, says no person may be employed as a teacher unless an affidavit listing the organizations is submitted to school officials.

No decisions in major cases came from the court today, and it will not meet again to hand down decisions until Feb. 23. That date is a Tuesday. The court normally hands down decisions on Mondays, but the fourth Monday in February is George Washington's birthday.

In another action, the court ordered a new hearing in United States District Court in New Orleans for two Negroes convicted of raping a white woman and sentenced to death. The district court was directed to examine the question of whether Negroes were deliberately excluded from the trial jury panel.

Chafing Dish Recipes, Casseroles, Sandwiches Suitable for Entertaining

Spaghetti Casserole

Smoky Gouda Fondue

By DOROTHY BRAINERD

Post-Dispatch Food Editor.

TODAY'S YOUNG MARRIED COUPLES, so often described by the overworked phrase "young moderns," have our deepest admiration and respect. They are smart, self-reliant, and amazingly efficient. Despite the fact that most of the girls either hold full-time office jobs or care for several babies they are excellent housekeepers, seamstresses and cooks. Along with these activities, somehow they manage to entertain frequently.

Not only do they entertain, but they do it with an ease which many an older, more experienced hostess never has acquired.

Their success is due, at least in part, to a realistic approach to their abilities, budgets, space limitations and equipment. They plan their menus with these points in mind, then streamline both preparation and service.

It is this group which has been largely responsible for the revival of the chafing dish. They also favor casserole recipes. They serve an expertly seasoned spaghetti dish and cold beer as proudly as their mothers might serve an elaborate buffet and champagne—and have far more fun doing it.

This spaghetti casserole, made with the aid of a can opener and a spaghetti sauce mix, is typical of the type of fare which might be served a few close friends.

Spaghetti Casserole.

One-half pound sausage meat.
One-half pound ground beef.
One clove garlic, finely minced.
One teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
One can (three ounces) mushrooms.
One can (No. 303) stewed tomatoes (two cups).
One-fourth cup fresh lemon juice.
One package spaghetti sauce mix.
Four tablespoons crumbled blue cheese.
Two tablespoons slivered, toasted almonds.

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water just until tender; drain. Saute meat with garlic, salt and pepper in skillet until brown. Drain off excess fat. Add mushrooms, tomatoes and fresh lemon juice.

Blend in spaghetti sauce mix. Simmer for 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from heat and mix in blue cheese. Toss with cooked spaghetti and spoon into two-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) for 25 minutes. Remove from oven; sprinkle with almonds and serve.

Yield: four servings.

SUGGESTED MENU: Spaghetti Casserole, Tossed green salad with egg and Parmesan cheese mixture. Bake 45 to 50 minutes. until silver knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Serve warm, garnished with parsley. Cut in pie-shaped wedges, and pass this

Tomato Sauce:

One tablespoon butter or margarine, melted.
Two tablespoons chopped onion.
Two tablespoons chopped green pepper.
One eight-ounce can tomato sauce.
Salt and pepper to taste.

Saute onion and green pepper in melted butter until onion is transparent. Add tomato sauce and seasonings; heat over LOW heat.

Suggested Menu: Spaghetti Pie with Tomato Sauce; Crisp Bread Sticks; Spinach Salad; Gingerbread with lemon sauce.

To make gingerbread, prepare one package gingerbread mix as directed on package. Prepare

Lemon Sauce:

Two tablespoons cornstarch.
One-half cup sugar.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Two cups boiling water.
Three tablespoons lemon juice.
One tablespoon grated lemon rind.
One-fourth cup butter or margarine.

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt in saucepan. Gradually stir in boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils, about one minute. Remove from heat; stir in rest of ingredients. Serve warm over gingerbread.

Serve gingerbread squares topped with sweetened whipped cream and a spoonful of lemon sauce. If desired, garnish with a cheese "pumpkin."

The revival of the chafing dish has made the simple little supper elegant. A dish such as this one is ideal for chafing dish service.

Chicken Livers Supreme.

Two pounds of chicken livers.
Soy sauce.
One-half cup salad oil.
One No. 2 can of pineapple chunks.
One cup slivered blanched almonds.

Sauce:

Two and one-half cups pineapple juice.
One-half cup vinegar.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-half cup suger.
Four tablespoons cornstarch.

Cut chicken livers in halves, dip them in soy sauce and brown lightly in oil. Add pineapple and blanched almonds. Heat for a minute, then pour on the sauce. Cook for four to five minutes.

Chicken Livers Supreme

Piping hot Smoky Gouda Fondue with hot French bread slices or chunks for dunking, assorted cheeses and crackers for those who prefer to nibble finger foods, and your favorite hot beverage add up to tempting light refreshments.

Smoky Gouda Fondue.

Three tablespoons butter or margarine.
Three tablespoons flour.
One-half teaspoon onion salt (or one teaspoon minced onions or chives).
One teaspoon salt.
Dash of white pepper.
One teaspoon minced parsley (optional).
Two cups milk.
One teaspoon worcestershire sauce.
One package baby Gouda cheese, shredded.
One-half of one seven and one-half ounce package smoky Edam cheese, shredded.

Melt butter over moderate heat. Stir in flour, onion salt, salt and pepper. Add milk gradually and cook over low heat, stirring, until mixture is smooth and thickened.

Lower heat; blend in worcestershire sauce, chives if used, and shredded cheeses. Stir gently just until cheeses melt. Pour into heated serving dish and place on warming stand. Garnish top with minced parsley.

Yield: six to eight servings.

Open-Faced Sandwiches

Start with tender, succulent chunks of giant king crabmeat from Japan, add delicate seasonings and a bit of wine, and you have a dish to set before modern kings and queens.

Practical Note: for all of its luxury, this is a simple dish to prepare and so filling that it requires few accompaniments.

King Crabmeat Amandine.

Two to three cans (six and one-half ounces) king crabmeat.
One 15-ounce package precooked rice (or three-fourths cup raw regular white rice).
Two tablespoons butter or margarine.
One-fourth cup chopped onion.
One teaspoon salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
One-eighth teaspoon mace.
One cup light cream.
One-half cup sherry.
One-half cup sliced, toasted almonds.
One can condensed tomato soup.

Cook rice according to package directions. Drain and cool.

Remove membrane from crabmeat, reserving some large chunks for topping. Saute onions in butter in skillet for five minutes.

Meanwhile toast almonds to light brown in skillet or oven. Add to onions salt, pepper, mace, undiluted soup, cream, sherry, one-fourth cup almonds. Heat thoroughly.

Add crabmeat flakes, rice, then pour into casserole. Top with large crabmeat chunks and remaining one-fourth cup almonds. Sprinkle with paprika. Put into moderate oven (350 degrees), bake 30 minutes. Garnish with parsley.

Yield: six to eight servings.

Chicken Elegante

One of the strongest trends in cookery today is the growing use of dairy sour cream. Chicken Elegante, an extra-special company dish, is made with chicken breasts, butter, herbs, mushrooms, dairy sour cream and chives.

Chicken Elegante.

One-third cup flour.
Two and one-half teaspoons salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
Three-fourths teaspoon tarragon, rosemary or thyme.
Three chicken breasts, cut in

Menu Based On Values

By CATHERINE BRENT
Home Economist, St. Louis Food Marketing Program.

THE FOLLOWING menu is an example of the way in which "best buys" may be used in our daily meals, thus taking advantage of the opportunity to save money by means of careful marketing:

MENU OF THE WEEK
Creamed Eggs and Mushrooms in Chafing Dish.
Hot Seasoned Rice.
Buttered Spinach or Greens.
Jellied Spiced Apples.
Hot Muffins.
Cheese Cake.
Milk or Coffee.

Creamed Eggs and Mushrooms in Chafing Dish.

Six tablespoons butter or margarine.
One-fourth cup flour.
One quart milk.
Two and one-half to three teaspoons salt.
One teaspoon paprika.
One-fourth teaspoon ground pepper.
Two teaspoons minced onion.
Twelve hard-cooked eggs, quartered.

Melt butter or margarine in chafing dish. Add flour and stir until bubbly. Add milk all at once. Cook(stirring constantly, until uniformly thickened.

If desired add more seasonings.

Yield: six to eight servings.

Note: A saucepan or double boiler may be used instead of chafing dish for the preparation.

To hard cook eggs, cover them completely with cold water in a pan with well fitting lid. Bring the water to a boil. Remove from heat, keep covered and let stand 20 to 25 minutes. Cool quickly in cold water.

Entertain

half, OR two packages frozen chicken breasts.
One-third cup butter.
One cup sliced fresh mushrooms (about two ounces).
One cup dairy sour cream.
One tablespoon chopped chives.

Combine flour and seasonings. Dredge chicken breasts in seasoned flour.

Heat butter in fry pan over moderate heat. Brown chicken in butter, turning as needed to brown evenly on both sides. Cover; reduce heat; cook slowly until chicken is tender, 30 to 40 minutes. Uncover to recrisp about five minutes.

Remove chicken from pan. Add mushrooms to butter and saute until tender, two to three minutes. Remove pan from heat. Stir in sour cream and chives; heat only to serving temperature (do not allow to boil). Pour into hot serving dish and set chicken breasts on top.

Yield: si xservings.

Suggested Menu: Chicken Elegante; Fluffy Buttered Rice, Green beans Amandine; Molded salad with Grapefruit Sections; Chocolate Parfait.

From the Scandinavian countries comes the custom of serving an assortment of open-faced sandwiches as late afternoon or evening refreshments. The practice is becoming more popular in this country as hostesses discover that it is easy, that guests enjoy it, and that it is fun to "ad lib" the sandwich toppings.

There are few rules to follow in making these open-faced sandwiches—let your own good sense of flavor harmony be your guide. A typical Scandinavian sandwich, for example, may call for thinly sliced salmon, a ring of caviar, and a dollop of sour cream.

In serving the sandwich, however, there are two rules to observe. The open-faced sandwich is always eaten with a fork and, in true Scandinavian tradition, it is always served with strong, freshly brewed coffee.

1. Butter a thin slice of dark bread, spread with a fluffy mixture of liverwurst and mayonnaise; top with thin, unpeeled slices of red apple; garnish with capers or cut chives.

2. Butter a thin slice of dark bread. Spread lightly with prepared horseradish. Top with a thin slice of American sheese. Place several slices of smoked, cooked or canned tongue diagonally on cheese. Garnish with mixture of mashed hard-cooked egg yolk and mayonnaise put through pastry tube.

1. Top a thin buttered slice of dark bread with paper-thin slices of smoked salmon. Top with lengthwise slice of hard-cooked egg. Surround egg slice with red caviar and garnish with water cress.

2. Spread Danish blue cheese on a thin buttered slice of dark bread. Top with a thick slice of tomato, a slice of onion and a slice of stuffed olive.

3. Spread a thin slice of dark bread generously with mayonnaise. Heap with tiny cooked deveined shrimp which have been marinated in French dressing and drained. Garnish with parsley sprig.

4. Butter a thin slice of dark bread. Cover with sardines. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Top with a twisted diagonal slice of cucumber and radish slices.

Creamed Eggs and Mushrooms

Party fare: Creamed eggs and mushrooms, prepared in a chafing dish and served in cream puff shells. Current prices of eggs are so reasonable that the dish is featured in today's Menu of the Week. (For complete menu, see accompanying story.)

Tart Fruit Ring Part of This Menu

Certain menus call for a molded salad with a tartness that will accent other foods in the meal.

For example, the next time you serve lamb and mint sauce, include browned potatoes, green peas, hot rolls, and this salad.

Tart Fruit Ring.

One No. 303 can fruit cocktail.
One No. 303 can grapefruit sections.
One and one-half enveloped plain gelatine.
One-fourth cup fresh lemon juice.
Salad greens.

Drain fruit cocktail and grapefruit and measure sirups. Add water to make two and one-half cups liquid; heat.

Soften gelatine in lemon juice and dissolve in hot liquid. Cool until slightly thickened. Fold in drained fruits. Turn into eight-inch ring mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with salad greens.

Yield: eight to 10 servings.

Trick With Pies

To gain a reputation for making superb cherry or blueberry pie, follow this simple rule . . . drain juice from the fruit, sweeten and thicken according to your favorite recipe.

Add juice of half a lemon, a little cinnamon and a dash of almond extract. Add drained fruit and turn into a rich crust; bake until golden brown. You'll find lemon adds that fresh, perky flavor.

Lemon Sauce

Next time you serve baked apples or apple dumplings, have this creamy lemon sauce ready to go with them.

Combine one-half pint coffee cream, one-half cup sugar, one and one-half tablespoons fresh lemon juice and one-half teaspoon grated lemon peel. Pour into ice cube tray and freeze without stirring. Delicious, too, as a topping for warm gingerbread or spice cake.

Crispy Chicken Italiano

The method of preparation gives this chicken the appearance and taste of fried chicken, without the added fat. It is served with a sauce that is easily prepared, but has the aroma and flavor typical of Italian foods.

Italians always have had a special way with food. Given one main ingredient, and the magic of their genius with herbs and spices, they will coax every possible bit of flavor into any dish. When that one ingredient is chicken, an Italian favorite as well as American, flavorful results are assured.

In preparing this Crispy Chicken Italiano, chicken pieces are dipped into evaporated milk, then rolled in corn flake crumbs seasoned with herbs and monosodium glutamate for flavor emphasis. One hour in the oven on a baking sheet lined with heavy-duty aluminum foil (no need to watch, turn or worry) and it is ready to be served with an Italian Sauce.

A true Italian cook prepares sauce slowly with a great deal of tender loving care; this one can be made in a fraction of that time.

Italian Chicken.

One broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces.
One cup corn flake crumbs.
One teaspoon monosodium glutamate.
One teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon oregano.
One-fourth teaspoon basil.
One-fourth teaspoon garlic powder.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
One-half cup evaporated milk.
Aluminum foil.

Combine corn flake crumbs with monosodium glutamate, salt and herbs.

Line shallow baking pan with aluminum foil. Dip chicken pieces in evaporated milk, then roll immediately in seasoned corn flake crumbs.

Place chicken pieces, skin side up, in foil-lined pan; do not crowd. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about one hour, or until tender.

Italian Sauce: ....
Three tablespoons salad oil.
One medium onion, chopped.
One clove garlic, minced.
One-half cup chopped green pepper.
One can (one pound) tomatoes.
One can (eight ounces) tomato sauce.
One-fourth teaspoon basil.
One-fourth teaspoon tabasco.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon oregano.

Heat oil. Add onion, garlic and green pepper; cook until tender but not brown. Add tomatoes, tomato sauce and seasonings. Simmer 30 minutes.

Pork Liver Balances Budget, Menu

It's a neat trick to balance both the budget and the menu; sliced pork liver is a bonus in both departments.

Allow about four servings to the pound. It is not necessary either to soak or to scald pork liver before cooking.

It should be stored in the refrigerator and used within two days of purchase.

Braising is the cooking method usually selected for pork liver. In this recipe, the meat is combined with spices and fruit.

Liver slices are dipped in flour and browned quickly in a small amount of hot fat. Dried apricots or prunes, water and a mixture of pickling spices are simmered with the meat until it is fork tender. The result: a hearty, thrifty dish.

Fruit Spiced Liver.

One pound pork liver, sliced.
Three tablespoons flour.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One tablespoon fat.
Two and one-half cups water.
One tablespoon mixed pickling spices.
One teaspoon sugar.
One-half cup diced apricots or prunes.

Rinse liver in cold water. Drain on absorbent paper. Combine flour and salt. Dip liver in flour. Heat fat in skillet. Brown floured liver in fat. Combine water, spices, sugar and fruit. Add to liver.

Cover and simmer 30 to 40 minutes, or until liver is fork tender. If necessary, add more water.

Cocktail Sauce

An easy seafood cocktail sauce can be quickly made by adding horseradish, lemon juice and tabasco to catchup. Tabasco seasons crabmeat, shrimp and oysters equally well.

Why Not Plan A Chinese New Year's Party?

Have social obligations to repay? A fun way to do it would be with an East-meets-West party to celebrate the Chinese New Year on Jan. 28.

Invitations read from right t left. Fans, lanterns and grass mats set the mood; coolie hats add atmosphere. Seat your guests on pillows and serve from the lowest coffee table.

Serve beef chow mein pagodas with rice cakes made with American-Oriental ingredients easily available in supermarkets.

Four eggs, well beaten.
Two teaspoons salt.
One cup milk.
Salad oil or shortening.
Two divided-pack cans beef chow mein.
Two cans noodles.
One five-ounce bottle soya sauce.

Combine rice, beaten eggs, salt and milk. Heat fat in skillet over medium heat. Ladle one-half cup rice mixture into skillet, pancake style. Fry cakes until golden brown on one side, turning to brown the other.

Combine divided-pack can of beef chow mein and heat according to directions. Heat noodles in top of double boiler or in a moderate oven.

Day's Complete New York Stock Transactions

SHARP LOSSES TAKEN BY STOCKS IN LIGHT TRADE

Most key stocks were down from fractions to about 2 points. Wider losses were taken by higher-priced issues. International Business Machines dropped 8, Motorola 5¼ and Dupont 3.

The market was higher at the opening in a follow through to the recovery move of Friday and Thursday. Then it weakened gradually as bids dried up.

Steels, motors and chemicals were conspicuous losers. Also on the downside were rails, oils, nonferrous metals, electronics, aircrafts, rubbers and electrical equipments. A few stocks ran counter to the trend.

Brookers said the decline was due more to a drying-up of bids than to selling pressure. Although the business outlook remained good, the market was technically vulnerable, analysts said.

Of 1235 issues traded, 778 declined and 260 advanced. New lows for 1959-60 outnumbered new highs by 38-4.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $2.10 to $221.30 with the industrials down $3.20, the rails down $1.30 and the utilities down 70 cents.

The decline was almost as bad as last Tuesday's when the AP average fell $2.30.

Based on the fall in the AP average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange dropped by an estimated $2,800,000,000.

Volume was 2,790,000 shares compared with 2,690,000 on Friday.

D.-J. DIVISOR REDUCED

Dow-Jones divisor for the 30 industrials has been reduced to 3.739 from 3.824 and for the 65 stocks to 18.71 from 18.97, giving effect to Allied Chemical's distribution of one additional share for each share held.

Raises Dividend to 25c.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Johnson & Johnson, maker of surgical dressings, raised the quarterly dividend to 25 cents a share on the common stock from 20 cents. The payment will be made March 11 to shareholders of record Feb. 19.

MONSANTO CHEMICAL NET $2.12 IN 1959

Monsanto Chemical Co. reported its 1959 profits climbed to a record $48,977,000, equal to $2.12 a share.

In 1958, the company cleared $34,550,000, or $1.55 a share.

Sales of the parent company and its domestic and Canadian subsidiaries rose to a record $615,377,000 from $547,956,000.

The per share earnings in 1959 were on 23,156,857 shares outstanding. The 1958 earnings were on 22,256,000 shares outstanding. The additional 900,257 shares outstanding in 1959 resulted from payment of a 2 per cent stock dividend in December, from exercise of 4806 stock options by employes, and from issuance of 27,675 shares which were exchanged for the assets of Nitro Industrial Corporation of Nitro, W. Va. the report stated.

For Monsanto and its domestic and Canadian subsidiaries alone, sales for 1959 of $615,377,000 were 12.3 per cent higher than sales of $547,956,000 for 1958, and unaudited earnings were $48,977,000, equal to $2.12 a share, compared to $34,550,000 and $1.55 a share in 1958, it was shown.

S.O. (N.J.) NET $2.91 A SHARE LAST YEAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) reported estimated earnings of $626,000,000, equal to $2.91 per share, in 1959. This compares with $562,500,000, equal to $2.72 per share, in 1958.

Total revenue from sales and investments was estimated at $8,168,000,000, up from $7,712,000,000 in 1958.

Worldwide product sales volume increased about 200,000 barrels daily, or about 7½ per cent over the 1958 record level.

President M. J. Rathbone attributed the earnings increase primarily to record sales and more efficient use of facilities in handling the higher operating levels attained during the year. "The earnings improvement," Rathbone said, "was achieved despite continuing severe competitive conditions, with crude oil prices below 1958 and average product prices, in general, showing no improvement."

KENNECOTT COPPER CORP. 1959 NET LOWER AT $5.19

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Kennecott Copper Corp. Reported a decline in earnings during 1959, due largely to a fourth quarter loss brought on by a prolonged strike.

The world's largest copper producer had net income of $57,326,379, equal to $5.19 a share during 1959, compared with $60,120,573 or $5.44 a share in 1958. Sales mounted to $437,239,894 from $395,384,266 a year earlier.

The strike started in August and continues at the big Utah division, which accounts for roughly 60 per cent of the firm's output. Mines in Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico resumed operations early this year.

Earnings in the third quarter of 1959 slipped to 99 cents a share from $1.37 a year earlier adn for the fourth quarter the company last $1,369,878 or 12 cents a share on sales of $71,988,057. This compared with net income of $22,350,299 or $1.95 a share on sales of $121,227,603 in the fourth quarter of 1958.

EAGLE-PICHER GAINS

CINCINNATI, Jan. 25 (AP)—Eagle-Picher Co. says 1959 produced its all-time high sales—$120,925,049—and profit — $4,671,646 or $4.57 per share.

The firm said this compares with sales in 1958 of $98,132,627 and profit of $2,090,094 or $2.08 a share.

M.-K.-T. INCOMES

Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines reported December income after fixed charges of $72,216, compared with $118,123 for December 1958. For the 12 months of 1958 income after fixed charges was $1,361,078, against $1,596,752 for 1958.

December total operating revenues were $4,394,792, against $5,198,371; for 1958, $58,384,971, against $61,157,972.

INDUSTRIAL SHARES RALLY

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Industrial shares led a brisk rally on the stock market today.

Steels and engineering issues set the pace. Gains were widespread and substantial.

British government bonds were quiet and firm.

Odd Lot Transactions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange reported today these odd lot transactions by principal dealers for Jan. 22: Purchases of 364,670 shares; sales of 256,113 shares including 1103 shares sold short.

BANK CLEARINGS

St. Louis bank clearings for Jan. 25 were $115,100,000 compared with $110,000,000 a year ago.

But Upward Trend Here Since End of War Has Been Steeper Than National Average.

By William H. Kester
Post-Dispatch Business Correspondent.

Consumer prices advanced more slowly in the last year in St. Louis than in the nation, but the rise in the postwar period here is still larger, recent reports indicate.

The St. Louis consumer price index for December was 0.7 per cent above the level of a year earlier, the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics reported last Friday. For the nation, the increase in the last year amounted to 1.5 per cent.

W. H. Kester

The upward trend in consumer prices in the post-war period, however, has been steeper here than in the nation. The St. Louis index was 126.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average, compared with the national index of 125.5 per cent. The higher St. Louis figure does not mean that prices here are necessarily above those in the nation, only that the increase here has been faster in the period since 1947-49.

Rise Is Not Uniform.

A breakdown of the consumer price index into its various components reveals that the trends of the various prices in the last year have not been uniformly upward and some have declined.

In the last year the price of shoes advanced more than any other component of the consumer price index. Footwear prices rose 7.2 per cent in 1959. Prices of fruits and vegetables were 5.5 per cent higher and the combined cost of gas and electricity was 4.4 per cent above the December, 1958, level.

About the only significant decrease in prices in the last year was in food prices. Food for home consumption was priced 2.6 per cent less than a year earlier.

Service Costs Are Higher.

In the last year and in the postwar period, the prices of services included in the consumer price index have advanced more rapidly than have the prices of commodities. Services last month were about 48 per cent higher than in the 1947-49 period, compared with an increase of 17 per cent for commodities. Services include rent, gas, electricity, transportation services, medical care, interest, repairs and other similar upkeep items.

One reason for the faster rise in service prices than for commodities is the greater importance of wages and salaries in the price of services. In addition, improvements in productivity apparently have not been as rapid in the service industries as in the production of goods.

Car Rental Expansion.

National Car Rental System, Inc., plans a 25 per cent increase in the size and scope of operations this year, Walter J. Phillips, executive vice president, announced today. National, a system of independently owned and operated car rental firms, has its executive headquarters in St. Louis.

The system last year had 800 car rental stations, handling 17,000 cars with a total volume of $47,000,000. Plans for 1960 call for 1000 stations with 22,000 cars and aggregate volume of $60,000,000. Purchases of new 1960 model automobiles by National operators are expected to total 15,000 vehicles costing about $38,000,000.

Frank B. Charmatz was named vice president and director of licensing of the system.

Ralph B. Roth, vice president, secretary and director of purchases for the Ludlow-Saylor Wire Cloth Co., has retired after 55 years of service. Vernon C. Thomas has been chosen to succeed him.

Ken Rauth has been appointed national sales manager and Tom Chapman has been named advertising and promotion manager of Aluma Kraft Manufacturing Co.

LATEST NEWS FROM BUSINESS WORLD

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Railway Express Agency plans a revamped nationwide system of express terminals at key offices, William Johnson, president, said. Johnson's comments were contained in an article in Railway Age, weekly railroad industry publication. Under the new system shipments would be made by rail between major points. Trucks would carry shipments to key offices surrounding each major point. These key offices would provide pickup and delivery service in areas of 25 or 30 miles in radius. "This will mean closing many small offices," Johnson said, "but not the end of express service to the local and surrounding territory served by them."

COTTON TEXTILE MARKET was quiet Monday. Resale offerings brought an easy tone to some print cloth constructions although mills held quotations unchanged. Scattered sales of print cloths and other constructions were noted for first and second quarter delivery with a scarcity of supplies limiting volume.

CORPORATE BONDS ARE STEADY, TRADE MODERATE

Intermediate Treasury bonds were off 2/32 to 4/32. Long-range issues declined 2/32 to 6/32.

Observers said interest in government bonds would remain relatively inactive pending announcement late Thursday of Treasury terms for refunding of more than 11 billion dollars of February maturities.

The corporate market was steady in moderately active trading. Prices receded a shade from a slightly higher opening. Investment quality issues and foreign bonds dipped. Rails, industrials and utilities were narrowly mixed.

DANISH NATIONAL BANK RAISES BANK RATE TO 5½ PCT.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Danish National Bank has raised the bank rate from 5 to 5½ per cent, effective Tuesday.

No reason was given but financial circles said the step was spurred by recent bank rate increases in Sweden and Britain, with which Denmark is linked in the European Free Trade Association.

Last Sept. 19 the Danish bank rate was increased by a half per cent to 5 per cent.

Business Outlook

TIGHT MONEY AND WALL STREET

By J. A. Livingston

The connection between the drop in stock prices since the first of the year and President Eisenhower's Economic Report is not accidental.

The President repeats for the umpty-umpth time that he's against inflation. He refers to the steel settlement obliquely, and suggests that maybe it would be a good idea if industries reduced prices. Further, he urges union leaders to cooperate with business men toward efficiency—higher productivity.

J. A. Livingston

These observations have the virtue of persistence. Once again, the President tries to organize public resistance against price advances:

"A well-informed and vigilant public opinion is essential . . . for price stability and vigorous economic growth. Such public opinion can be an effective safeguard against attempts arbitrarily to establish prices or wages at levels that are inconsistent with the general welfare."

This puts moral pressure on business men as well as the stock market: Business men are free to price their products as they see fit. But the administration won't take kindly to increases. In steel, it is now obvious that the larger companies will try to hold the price line for a while—pending an appraisal of new wage costs.

Deflating the Inflation Hedge.

This will repress profits. It slows the game of wage-price-profits leapfrog. Is this why steel stocks have sold off since the agreement?

Moreover, the Wall Street Journal reports that increased competition tends to keep prices down. There's plenty of plant capacity and, therefore, competition in consumer products.

This prospect (if it can be called that) de-emphasizes common stocks as an inflation hedge. Throughout the post-war period, investment advisers have touted stocks as a protection against the declining purchasing power of the dollar. Consequently, if the administration succeeds in deflating inflation, it will simultaneously deflate common stocks.

High interest rates are an influence. The renewal of the President's request to Congress to lift the 4¼ per cent ceiling on government bonds re-publicizes the high interest rates available on federal issues. When government bonds yield nearly 5 per cent, income-conscious investors may decide to forego the promised profits of common stocks.

Employment Troubles Ahead?

The slump in Wall Stret does not invalidate the President's hopeful forecast for 1960. Production will rise during the next few months, if only because of depleted inventories in the metal-processing industries. Employment also will increase, and, as a corollary, unemployment is not likely to rise sharply, as it normally does in January and February, when outdoor work is at its lowest.

Last year, winter unemployment reached 4,700,000, and in the recession year of 1958 the high was 5,200,000. This winter's high may not reach 4,000,000. The December total was 3,600,000.

A labor squeeze may be in the making in the next six months. Quitting rises when unemployment falls. Workers feel freer to "look around" when jobs are easier to find.

With Moral Suasion Added.

The President's Economic Report poses a contradiction. Mr. Eisenhower and his advisers believe in the freedom of the marketplace. They also believe in the restraint of the marketplace. Sellers are free to price their products, but if they price them too high, they'll run into competitive troubles. Consumers will revolt—stop buying.

However, the Employment Act of 1946 requires the government to rush in and save consumers from themselves when they fail to buy the products of industry. Unemployment mustn't rise too much. The fierce recessions of the past, which "corrected" high prices, are impermissible. Thus, market restraint can't "do its stuff."

So, the President seeks to strengthen market restraint with moral persuasion. He urges consumers to buy carefully "for price and quality," and thus "exert a restraining influence on the cost of living." At the same time, he asks union leaders and business executives to show "statesmanship," not force up wages and prices beyond gains in industrial productivity. Unhappily for him, prices and wages have not responded to the moral suasion of either the Democrats or Republicans.

However, a new choice has been added. High interest rates—nearly 5 per cent on government bonds — may encourage saving. Some people may buy bonds instead of swimming pools or new home furnishings or new cars. They may prefer bonds to stocks.

And that could be what this early-in-the-year selling in the stock market is all about. Ultimately, tight money "gets" Wall Street.

LOCAL AREA STEEL OUTPUT THIS WEEK AT 102.4 PER CENT

Steel production in the St. Louis area this week is estimated at 40,0008 tons, equal to 102.4 per cent of weekly rated capacity, the Federal Reserve Bank reported. Last week's output by local mills amounted to 37,988 tons, and the rate was the equivalent of 97 per cent.

To Make Shade Less Steel.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Steel mills will turn out a shade less steel this week, the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated.

It forecast production at 2,717,000 tons, or 95.4 per cent of capacity, compared with actual output last week of 2,727,000 tons or 95.7 per cent of capacity. Both figures, like the 2,726,000 tons turned out in the similar week last month, were close to the record figure of 2,732,000 in the week started Dec. 7, 1959.

A year ago production came to 2,178,000 tons a week.

Corporate Reports

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Only income per share as stated by corporations is given in following table. In some instances comparisons with preceding year may show wide swings (gains or losses) which may be due in cases of loss or largely reduced income or some extenuating or substantial influence or in case of nonrecurring benefits on preceding year. Increase in number of shares may distort per share figures. These facts should be sought in detailed reports listed by the companies.

WHEAT, RYE PRICES HIGHER AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—The grain futures market showed some rallying tendency at times today in wheat and rye but prices otherwise were slightly weak.

In the early afternoon wheat and rye had worked into small plus signs on short covering after earlier setbacks had run to major fractions in spots.

Speculative dealers appeared to be leading sellers on failure of any export or mill demand to develop over the weekend.

Education IS Valuable

As a public service to you and your children, Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada offers you five helpful booklets in its Values in Education series. "Why Stay in School?" for example, puts the advantages of a completed high school education squarely up to the teen-ager. "Scholarships and Student Loan Programs" discusses many of the types of scholarships available in the United States and lists sources of information. You may find one or more of this series helpful to you and your children. All are available without charge or obligation. Just mail the coupon below.

Another Cold Wave on the Way

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Much colder weather is expected in the St. Louis area tomorrow, with little change in temperature for the next several days, the Weather Bureau said today.

Warmer weather prevailed generally in the central Plains states and middle Mississippi valley, but another surge of Arctic air from central Canada was reported in the Dakotas and Minnesota. The southward moving cold air should cause a sharp temperature drop tomorrow in the middle Mississippi valley, the Weather Bureau said.

Unseasonably cold weather continued in Florida and other parts of the southeast. The cold wave has ruined much of Florida's winter vegetables and caused spotty damage to citrus crops.

Scattered snow was forecast for tomorrow in western and central New York and Pennsylvania, the Great Lakes region, upper Mississippi valley, the Plains states and northern Rockies, as indicated by the above map. Rain is expected in the central Pacific coastal region.

Freezing temperatures were recorded in all parts of the country today except in the extreme south and west. Near or below zero reading were reported from the Dakotas into northern Minnesota and over northern New England.

Degree days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 45; the month, 758; the season, 26[illegible].

A new symbol of excellence has been created to mark those

Modern Gas Ranges

that are the ultimate in automatic performance

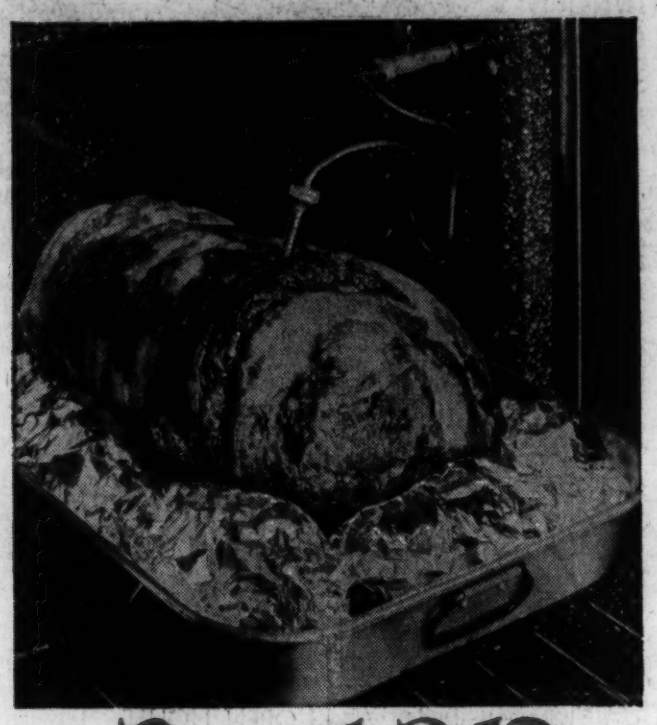

The Gold Star Award is given only to Gas ranges that have met 28 quality standards.

You'll find this star proudly complimenting the brand names of leading manufacturers—recognition of their achievement in producing the world's finest, most automatic range.

For proof of their outstanding performance and a demonstration of the 28 standards of excellence which set Gold Star Gas ranges apart from the rest, visit the Laclede Gas Company.

Look for these features in Gold Star Ranges...

Oven Meat Thermometer. No guesswork about roasting. Simply dial the degree of doneness . . . rare, medium or well-done . . . and insert the prong of thermometer in roast. Cooks meat to exact preference—then turns off heat . . . all automatically.

Grave Views of SAC Commander In Conflict With Reassurances Of Gates and Twining on Defense

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON.

A DEEPLY DISTURBING conflict of high official opinion, on the sole problem which literally involves the survival of the United States, was unobtrusively revealed last week.

The problem of the missile gap was painted in the rosiest, most reassuring colors in congressional testimony by the able new secretary of defense, Thomas Gates, and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Nathan Twining.

Almost simultaneously, the same problem was painted in the most somber and alarming colors by the head of the Strategic Air Command, Gen. Thomas Power. Virtually no attention was given to the extraordinary speech, before the New York economic club, by the man who has more responsibility than anyone else for bridging the missile gap. Yet the message of SAC's leader was as grave as possible, as can be seen from the following excerpts:

"If (the Soviets) could effectively threaten us from a position of such military superiority that we would feel unable to defend ourselves, our capability to resist . . . would be greatly reduced, if not nullified. (Such) military superiority would be achieved through accumulation of (enough) ballistic missiles to destroy our retaliatory forces before they could be launched.

"SURPRISINGLY, this would not take very many missiles under present conditions. . . . The total number of installations and facilities from which we can launch nuclear-armed aircraft or missiles at this moment is only about 100. All of these facilities present 'soft targets' — that is, they could suffer crippling damage even (from) a near miss.

". . . It would take an average of three missiles, in their current stage of development, to give an aggressor a mathematical probability of 95 per cent that he can destroy one given soft target from 5000 miles away. This means that, with only some 300 ballistic missiles, the Soviets could virtually wipe out our entire nuclear strike capability within a span of 30 minutes. To further heighten this threat, only about half these missiles would have to be I.C.B.M.s. The rest could be the smaller intermediate range ballistic missiles."

These words were in the hands of the Pentagon censorship for no less than three weeks. During this interminable "processing," Power's speech was extensively pruned and toned down. If Power's facts could have been attacked, the censors would surely have pruned them too. Hence the foregoing must be accepted as the first authoritative statement, from a source commanding absolute belief, of the missile capability of the Soviets.

AS MIGHT HAVE BEEN expected, Power did not overtly challenge the views expressed by Gates and Twining. But the challenge is plain enough, if you place Power's statement of facts against its background of theory. The theory of deterrence, which gives the key to Power's speech, is not merely accepted by Power and Gates and Twining. It is also accepted by Nikita S. Khrushchev, as he disclosed in the most significant passage of his recent speech to the Supreme Soviet.

In brief, true deterrence depends on careful calculations of "first strike capability" and "counter-strike capability." The United States today, for instance, has enough nuclear striking power to destroy the Soviet Union ten times over. But the Soviet Union today also has formidable nuclear striking power. The United States therefore has no "first strike capability," if our first strike cannot take out all the pinpoint targets presented by the Soviet panoply of nuclear power. We have, first of all, to destroy this power before it gets off the ground. If we cannot do this, our first strike will merely trigger the Soviet "counter-strike capability." If we are thus faced with the prospect of national destruction by the enemy's counter-strike, we are effectively "deterred." Just this is our present situation, according to Khrushchev.

FURTHERMORE, as Power admitted, America's nuclear striking power, though vast, is also very vulnerable to missile attack. This is because our power, mainly SAC, is concentrated in a few targets, lacks effective warning, and so on. For these reasons, a small number of Soviet missiles — Power says 300—will be enough to wipe out virtually all our nuclear power before it can get off the ground. With these missiles in their armory, the Soviets will not need to fear our counter-strike; and our deterrent will then cease to deter.

This was of course the exact situation that Power grimly described. It could be, he implied, the true American situation before very long. His description was grim for two reasons: his frank admission of our deterrent's extreme vulnerability; and his startlingly low estimate of the number of missiles the Soviets would need to destroy our deterrent.

There is only one way to reconcile Power's statement of the facts with the interpretation of the facts offered to Congress by secretary Gates and Twining. Power obviously suspects that the Soviets may soon have the smaller number of operational missiles required to destroy our deterrent. But Cates and Twining are convinced, as they have testified, that it is absolutely impossible for the Soviets to have this number of missiles within the period of our deterrent's vulnerability.

U.A.R. FIRM ON SUEZ BAR

CAIRO, Jan. 25 (AP) — Cairo newspapers said yesterday that United Arab Republic leaders told United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold they still are determined to keep Israeli ships from using the Suez canal.

The newspapers Al Ahram and Al Akhbar said Israel cannot use the canal until agreement is reached on implementation of all U.N. resolutions on Palestine.

Young Men Are Moving Up Fast, Old Democrats Losing Grip, Party's Kick-off Dinner Discloses

By JAMES RESTON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY'S $100-a-plate dinner here Saturday night followed the usual political pattern. It was a $5 dinner with wisecracks, most of them at the expense of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nevertheless, in addition to reducing the party's financial deficit, this event disclosed quite a lot about the candidates and the Democratic party's strategy for the campaign.

What is now clear is that the young Democrats — particularly Senators John F. Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey—are coming up fast, and that the older Democrats, particularly Harry S. Truman, are gradually losing some of their authority.

Kennedy is much more poised than he was a year ago. His hands still tremble a bit at the podium as he taps out the rhythm of his sentences, but he is a striking symbol of the rising generation, and he is speaking better all the time.

Kennedy is more calculating than Humphrey. He has clearly thought out his performance in advance, gathered his historical and literary quotations carefully, and practiced their delivery with meticulous care.

HUMPHREY IS MUCH more natural, and before a partisan audience he may be the most effective speaker of the lot. He was full of wit and bounce, and unlike Kennedy, who seems to be getting himself trapped in constant attacks on President Eisenhower, he aims directly at Nixon.

"Some people say he (Nixon) will be a hard man to beat," Humphrey said. "I say that, between the low road and the high road, the old model and the new model, the juvenile delinquent and the statesman, he may be a hard man to find."

The shrewdest political performance of the night was made by Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri. Everybody else talked to the audience as a whole, but Symington talked directly to the one man who is his main hope for the nomination, former President Truman.

With Truman on the dais at his right, the Senator talked about the former President's favorite subject — the 1948 presidential election—and teed off on Truman's favorite target—Nixon.

HE QUOTED MARK TWAIN and "a still greater Missourian" as saying: "We're going to lick these Republicans and make 'em like it." Truman beamed approval.

Every word of the Senator's speech was written out in advance—with 22 paragraphs in the first page— and he had memorized it from beginning to end. What looked to the audience like a brilliant offhand attack on Nixon was actually a carefully executed recitation, but it went over well and undoubtedly improved his chances.

The other two possible compromise candidates for the Democratic nomination, Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois and Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, did themselves no good at all. Stevenson did not show up but sent a graceful exhortation which got little response. Johnson bawled out an undistinguished speech which included the worst crack of the night:

"I am proud to be here," he said, "proud to be a member of the party that does not practice political birth control."

IT WAS NOT a good night for the governors or the party's oldtimers. Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey and Gov. Edmund J. (Pat) Brown of California were pedestrian. For the first time in many a political rally, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas had trouble commanding the attention of a Democratic gathering. Truman got the biggest hand of the night when he appeared, but thereafter there was a noticeable drop in the audience's reception of his sharp extemporaneous remarks.

The former President's prepared remarks were obviously calculated to do three things: to keep all candidates, especially Kennedy, from bolting if they did not get the top prize, and to assure them all that he was not committed to back Symington or anybody else at this time.

What started as the moderate speech of an elder statesman, however, was quickly turned into a rough partisan attack by the interjection of a few savage remarks about President Eisenhower and his Administration.

THE REPUBLICANS, Truman said, had to fire Sherman Adams to get Mr. Eisenhower to go to work. The Soviets did not have any right firing rockets into the Pacific ocean, and if anybody around here had "any guts" the Russians would not be there. It was important, he concluded in a final crack, to have somebody in the White House who knew what to do "besides run around a golf course."

A year ago these remarks might have bought the old "give 'em hell Harry" cries from a partisan Democratic audience, but they got little response Saturday night.

It was not, of course, a solemn occasion. It was a kind of political vaudeville show with the major candidates doing their turns. It was also a demonstration that, in what all politicians describe as "an era of change," the political rally remains in 1960 very much the same. It is merely inflated a little like everything else, with more candidates, more noise, more corn, more exaggeration, more liquor, and more wisecracks than ever before.

EISENHOWER NAMED MOST PROMINENT BY AUSTRIANS

VIENNA, Jan. 26 (UPI) — President Eisenhower was chosen by Austrians as the most prominent personality of the last 10 years, the Ausrian Gallup Intitute announced yesterday.

A recent poll of thousands of persons representing all segments of the Austrian populace showed that 26 per cent chose the American President. He was followed by Dr. Albert Schweitzer with 9 per cent; the late Pope Pius XIIwith 8; West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 7, and Soviet Premier Khrushchev, 6.

Khrushchev Is Called Shrewd Chief of World Red Strategy

Senate Report Cites Premier's Visits to Communist Bloc Nations—Central Committee Only a Forum.

By JACK RAYMOND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV was described in a Senate report yesterday as the guiding personality in international Communist strategy and tactics.

His personal interest in co-ordinating policies for international Communism, his frequent meetings with foreign Communist leaders and the increased training for Communist party leaders in Moscow were cited:

The report was prepared by the Senate subcommittee on national policy machinery, headed by Senator Henry M. Jackson (Dem.), Washington. The subcommittee, a unit of the Committee on Government Operations, is engaged in a study of United States national security policy processes.

The committee outlined in detail the policy-making machinery of the Soviet Union to underscore the contrasts between Democratic and Communist party systems, Jackson said.

THE FORMAL organization of the central apparatus governed by Khrushchev "differs very little from that of Stalin's" but the way in which Khrushchev uses the men and administrative machinery is a matter of substantial interest, it added.

There are 8,239,131 Communist party members. This is slightly less than 4 per cent of the total Soviet population. Nevertheless the party is pre-eminent and "Premier Khrushchev's methods of gaining, holding and wielding power have reinforced this preeminence; he has based his administration squarely on the party apparatus."

Under Khrushchev, as under Stalin, the function of the party congress, which theoretically sets policies but actually merely is used as a sounding board, "has not perceptibly changed," the report continued.

WHILE THE CENTRAL committee in a few instances in the post-Stalin struggle for power was called on to arbitrate disagreements, this leading body too "has become just another public forum for the transmission of Khrushchev's ideas," the Jackson report observed.

The members of the top-level party presidium, formerly the politburo, while nominally elected by the central committee, "occupy their positions by virtue of their administrative ability, political prowess and loyalty to Khrushchev," the report went on.

"However, it is characteristic of Khrushchev's personality—by nature he is gregarious, extroverted and garrulous—and his style of leadership, that he does not rule in the highhanded fashion of Stalin."

DISCUSSING foreign policy, the report stressed Khrushchev's dominance. It said that new Soviet tactics demonstrate his "shrewness, nerve and unscrupulousness and reflect his efforts fully to exploit Soviet technological, military and scientific progress to extend Communist influence at the expense of the West."

"Soviet control and co-ordination of foreign Communist parties is achieved through a complex—partly overt, partly covert—system of communications and manipulation rather than through an organization push-button system," the report noted, adding that in this area, Khrushchev "has shown great personal interest and leadership."

"Khrushchev has not participated frequently in bilateral talks with free-world Communists, but there have been more conferences between free-world Communists and Soviet Communist party officials since he came to power."

Co-ordination and control by the Kremlin of bloc Communist parties is effected either subtly through contacts and correspondence or direct guidance in the case of smaller foreign Communist groups, the report notes.

"UNDER KHRUSHCHEV'S aegis, the U.S.S.R. has greatly

Behind "Minoma's" End

Many interested people have asked why Landmarks Association of St. Louis has not made an effort to save the 1856 mansion, "Minoma," built by Jefferson Kennerly Clark, now being torn down.

"Minoma" — situated as it is in St. Louis county—properly comes within the scope of activities of the St. Louis County Historic Buildings Commission, while Landmarks' activities are necessarily confined to things within the city itself. Landmarks, however, would have exerted its influence if such efforts could have helped save this valued place.

An all-out effort made a year ago by the County Historic Buildings Commission to save it by having the property established as a county park was doomed to failure because by that time "Minoma" had been stripped of its surrounding acreage by speculative builders and because the local community would not agree to maintain it thereafter.

Landmarks and the St. Louis County Historic Buildings Commission are at present trying to earmark outstanding landmarks in this area and safeguard them against a fate similar to that suffered by the Clark mansion.

It is hoped that as the public becomes aware of this effort it will render assistance. A valuable assist was given recently when the Missouri Highway Commission voluntarily made the decision to go around the historic DeMenil house rather than plan the highway to go through it.

The Wrong Remedy

Senator Stephen M. Young of Ohio questions why this country should help Italy while rich Italians pay only 10 to 15 per cent tax on their income.

There are perhaps many sound reasons why we could reduce our help to Italy at the present time. But would not the vast majority of Americans appreciate it if Senator Young and all his colleagues in Congress would take steps to try and reduce our taxes to the level the Italians are paying rather than try and burden them with what we have to pay?

If a person has the measles, isn't it better to try and prevent your friends from getting them rather than try and inflict the same disease on others just so you will have company in your trouble?

Small Taxpayer

Third Parties Have a Role

Rising costs clearly are rendering political campaigns increasingly difficult to conduct. One way of holding expenses down, as your editorial, "Time for Two Parties," points out, is to make available free broadcast periods. To make this economically feasible, a host of minor league candidates would have to be utterly disregarded, Congress concurring.

Even if consent were given, though, would that be an entirely wise move? Isn't it probable that the fate of any third party movement would in the process be doomed for all time? While some are convinced that the Democrats and Republicans furnish a sufficient choice to the voter, not everyone is of that opinion.

The contributions of third parties to our development as a nation are well known. Even though they failed in their ultimate goal—that of replacing one or the other of the existing groups — the ideas they espoused often triumphed. Many of the proposals made by the Progressives during the 1920s, for instance, are ungrudgingly accepted today.

Deprived of the impetus third parties have provided as incubators for forward-looking projects, our development as a nation may suffer. Certainly a way should be devised to keep such movements lively and dynamic during the critical years just ahead.

A Park at the Bottoms

The Saarinen Arch will attract million of visitors from the four corners of the earth. They will not be content viewing Aloe Plaza and the Milles Fountains, symbolic of the meeting of the two great rivers. They will want to see the real thing. Let us not fail them. Even if Columbia Bottoms is turned into an industrial park, I for one feel it is imperative that at least part of it be developed as a park, period.

Only a Beginning

The land-use plan recommended for St. Louis county is a professionally-drafted blueprint for developing the area so that 1,175,000 people who will be living there 20 years from now will have adequate space to live and work and play.

But it will attain none of these essential ends automatically. Drawing a plan is only a beginning. The framework will have to be clothed with the force of law, and that is the urgent and overriding assignment of the county's political leadership, especially that of Supervisor McNary.

A strictly-enforced zoning ordinance provides the most effective method of assuring that the county's growth follows lines set down in the land-use plan. The Supervisor's first task is to persuade the Council to adopt such an ordinance for the county's unincorporated areas. These are largely the very areas that need protection most. The flat, flood-free sites that the plan designates for industrial use are most attractive to the speculator interested in crowding them with cheaply-built subdivision houses.

A county that is short of places to locate new industry must protect its remaining industrial ground or pay the price in reduced employment opportunities for its people and a tax base insufficient to support good schools and necessary public services. The plan provides for more than five times as much industrial acreage as now exists, with about 15 per cent of it at Columbia Bottoms.

But merely zoning the unincorporated areas is not enough. The plan covers the entire county, including the 98 municipalities where the county government lacks power to zone. Here Mr. McNary's immediate problem is one of persuading the municipalities to adhere to the overall county plan. This may take some doing, especially since 18 of the municipalities presently do not have any zoning regulations at all. Even so it is essential that he make the effort. Some of the prime industrial locations lie within incorporated communities. They are irreplaceable and must be protected for the good of the whole county.

The county also will need some help from the Legislature, and now is the time to prepare to solicit it. County zoning in an unincorporated area can be completely nullified by the incorporation of a new community within the particular neighborhood by a few persons with private interests. Many towns were created specifically to evade the county's supervision in zoning matters. To protect its land-use plan and what is left of its unincorporated area, the county ought to have authority to prevent new municipal incorporations.

In addition the county must have power to compel its municipalities to comply substantially with the overall county plan. Persuasion and co-operation are fine political tools as far as they go but in the nature of things they do not go far enough. The county needs a reserve of legal power it can fall back on if persuasion fails, as it invariably does when conflicts of interest arise.

Putting the new land-use plan into effect represents the greatest challenge facing the county in general and Supervisor McNary and the Council in particular. If the challenge is met head-on the county 20 years from now will be a pleasant place in which to live and work. If not, it could be a hodge-podge of speculative real estate developments without green space and without an industrial base and suffering from high taxes, poor schools and poorer public services. Which shall it be?

Tough Job Ahead

The choice of Representative Miller of New York to head the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee would have had more significance had Gov. Rockefeller entered the race for the Republican presidential nomination. Mr. Miller announced last June that he would attempt to line up New York delegates for Vice President Nixon, so the selection will fit in with Mr. Nixon's campaign plans. Mr. Miller is an energetic conservative. He will need to use all the political acumen he can muster, as it will be his job to direct the party's bid for control of the House of Representatives in the coming elections. That means winning 67 additional seats.

Mr. Miller had the backing of Representative Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader who unseated the veteran Representative Martin of Massachusetts a year ago. He forced Representative McCulloch of Ohio, who was backed by Martin supporters, out of the race. So in a sense it was the Martin-Halleck struggle all over again, though the residue of bitterness will not be as great. Mr. Miller's early support of Mr. Nixon has paid off, and Mr. Nixon has extended his influence in the House.

Renewing a Budget Fight

While President Eisenhower's budget contains little that is new in domestic programs, it is the oldness of some of his proposals which threatens difficulties with Congress. Two examples involve housing and highways.

Last year the President attempted to end new public housing authorizations and to reduce drastically the urban renewal and slum clearance programs. Congress watered down its own more ambitious ideas twice, but its bills were twice vetoed. After this stand-off struggle, the President finally accepted a housing bill with reduced expenditures, but the measure did continue urban renewal on a level closer to Congress's original recommendations for the first two years, and it did authorize 35,000 public housing starts.

Now Mr. Eisenhower again seeks to eliminate future public housing authorizations, though these would not increase the immediate budget. He also asks for a reduction of $33,000,000 for urban renewal. As St. Louis well knows, this program has aided cities to keep up with their bursting populations, and urban Congressmen can be expected to fight for it.

Last year, also, the President urged a 1½-cent increase in the federal gasoline tax of 3 cents a gallon, which helps pay for the federal road program. Congress agreed to a 1-cent increase, for only two years, and now the President again seeks the additional half-cent, for five years.

Aside from the fact that Congress is unlikely to give Mr. Eisenhower what it refused to give him last year, there is another reason for leaving highway financing alone in this session. In 1962, the Secretary of Commerce is required by law to report on an exhaustive study of national highway needs and costs. Congress then will be in a good position to review the matter.

In a campaign year, a presidential budget inevitably runs into political opposition. But the President's budget invites a renewal of disputes which, as the nation learned last year, involved differing views of national requirements in the years ahead. Not all the impending argument can be traced to partisan politicking.

Test of Grandeur

President Charles de Gaulle is confronted with the peculiar problem of suppressing an Algerian revolt similar in origins to the revolt which first gave him power. The force of the outbreak has been reduced but not without scores of casualties, and the event marks a test of De Gaulle's whole theme of politics of grandeur.

It was a combination of the French colons in Algeria, the right wing in France and the Army leadership which defied the fourth republic and made way for De Gaulle to assume the presidency, revise the Constitution and reshape the Government of France. The same elements are now opposed to the President's plans to allow Algeria some measure of self-determination. This time, however, much of the Army has remained with De Gaulle, though the dismissal of Gen. Massu as Algiers area commander brought about the outbreaks.

Here is a plain case of the tail trying to wag the dog once again. The 1,000,000 Frenchmen constitute a minority in the 10,000,000 population of Algeria, while they with the political right wing in France together constitute a minority among 44,000,000 Frenchmen.

Yet these groups were sufficient to catalyze French disillusionment with the old republic and help bring De Gaulle from retirement. Unless he can now control them and, beyond that, put their ideas into proper limited perspective in the whole French system, his own conception of a strong executive for France will prove weak indeed.

Moreover, France must keep its own house in order, and its Algerian annex as well, before it can undertake the politique de grandeur that De Gaulle has projected, sometimes mystically and sometimes effectively. The more effective parts of this project involve the rise of France as an atomic power, and the extensive oil developments in North Africa. Both the atomic experiment and oil project are planned for Saharan areas and both require peace in Algeria.

President De Gaulle has shown elasticity as well as firmness in dealing with France's troublesome appendage in Africa. He needs both qualities now to restore the greatness that was France according to his vision.

A Need to Be Met

When George H. Frangel Jr. was sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary for rape and other morals offenses, Circuit Judge Hoester declared the defendant was "in need of psychiatric treatment." County Prosecutor Anderson has expressed a similar view. Few would deny that Frangel's need is obvious, but is Frangel likely to get what the judge and the prosecutor both say he should have? If it is possible to rehabilitate him, can this be done in the penitentiary? Or would a state mental hospital be a better place of confinement? Society must protect itself, but it has the obligation to act intelligently and humanely as well as to look ahead. What manner of man will emerge from prison in 18 years, or 13½ years with good conduct reductions, or even sooner on parole? That is one of the disturbing questions that occurs in this and similar cases.

A Fact Is Acknowledged

The first break in the postwar Hollywood policy of ostensibly blacklisting writers considered subversive by the studios has come with a statement by Otto Preminger, producer-director, that he will give full writing credit on a forthcoming picture to Dalton Trumbo. Other screen executives have let it be known they do not intend to follow Mr. Preminger's lead.

Trumbo was one of the most successful writers in the screen capital before he defied the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1947, refusing to testify as to whether he was a Communist. He and nine others were cited for contempt of Congress. He was convicted and sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1000. In support of his unsuccessful appeal to the Supreme Court, 382 writers, actors and other professional people charged the House committee was trying to censor the movies.

Actually Trumbo and other writers on the unofficial and unacknowledged studio blacklist have continued to write under different names, the movie executives having resorted to this subterfuge to avoid possible controversy. Trumbo is reported to have been very busy in the last few years. He even received a top award for work done under a pseudonym.

So all Mr. Preminger has done is to make a public acknowledgement of what everyone in Hollywood knows is a fact. He is not to be commended so much for his courage as his colleagues are to be criticized for their timidity.

17 Per Cent More for Space

In its efforts to counter criticism for insufficient funding of space projects, the Administration maintains that space spending will be heavily increased in fiscal 1961. This may sound comforting but a study of the authorization and expenditure figures for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reveals some serious flaws.

The budget for fiscal 1961, which begins next July 1, seeks $802,000,000 for NASA as compared with $500,575,000 for fiscal 1960. That looks like a substantial increase. NASA, however, has acquired responsibility for the Saturn rocket project from the Army, and will have to spend $140,000,000 on it which it did not spend last year. That will reduce next year's actual total, available for other projects, to $662,000,000. This year's appropriation, moreover, has been increased by a supplemental bill of $23,000,000 to $523,575,000.

Thus the proper comparison of the NASA budget is:

For fiscal 1960: $523,575,000.
For fiscal 1961: $662,000,000.

The increase of the 1961 figure over that for this year is just 17 per cent—not nearly as large as it appeared in the President's budget message.

The Air Sabotage Problem

Recent Crashes Spur Hunt for Ways to Reduce Danger of Deliberate Destruction

Richard Witkin in The New York Times

Suspicions that one, if not both, of the recent National Airlines crashes may have been caused by sabotage have profoundly shaken the aviation industry.

Even if neither case is conclusively proved, the alarm created by the mere suspicions is likely to prove so lasting that massive measures will be needed to shore up public confidence.

Aviation has had some rough setbacks in the past: the rash of accidents that grounded whole fleets shortly after the war; the collision of two airliners over the Grand Canyon and a subsequent run of other collisions; the three crashes in populated areas of Elizabeth, N.J. But the sabotage problem is potentially the worst of all.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

What distinguishes it from other safety issues is that it does not appear to be a sure, not even a promising, method to reduce the danger to a tolerable minimum.

The bugs in new airliners can and have been eliminated by hard technological work. The collision danger can be reduced by new traffic procedures and electronic devices. The three Elizabeth crashes were a freak. Even so, populated areas can be better protected by better zoning and flight patterns.

But how can sabotage be prevented? How can an unbalanced mind bent on suicide or murder (for vengeance or insurance profits) be kept from planting a device that will destroy an airliner and the lives of all on board?

These are the questions dogging top officials as they pursue their inquiries into the North Carolina disaster of Jan. 6 and the plunge of another four-engined plane into the Gulf of Mexico on Nov. 16.

Here are some of the suggestions that are being turned over in the minds of the experts:

1. Rule out payment to beneficiaries in all cases where an insurance policyholder commits suicide by sabotaging an airliner. Most current policies forbid suicide payments only if the suicide is committed within two years after issuance of the policy. (Investigation of the North Carolina crash has disclosed that Julian Andrew Frank, 32-year-old Westport lawyer killed in the crash took out almost $900,000 worth of insurance within the last few months.)

2. Adopt legislation requiring airline passengers to submit their baggage for inspection if they are requested to do so. At present, a passenger may refuse such a request unless a warrant is issued.

3. Announce publicly that baggage going aboard an airliner will be spot-checked.

4. Set up a system under which all baggage can be run past some sort of detection device. The drawback in such proposals is that the devices considered so far will detect not only a bomb but also metallic objects such as clocks, shoe horns, razors, keys and metallic parts of the baggage itself.

5. Have insurance companies provide airlines with the names of persons suddenly taking out huge amounts of insurance. Today, it probably would be impossible to watch for such names on passenger lists. But eventually, computers used to keep track of reservations be used to screen lists for heavy insurers or for wanted criminals whose names have been supplied by police.

6. Require passengers to show identification when buying tickets to prevent the use of aliases. The insurance information, unfortunately, would not cover the passenger who buys a large policy from an airport machine at the last minute. There is some feeling that such machines should be banned.

7. Extend the requirement for use of flight recorders that keep track of an aircraft's performance and are so well protected that they can be recovered after a crash.

8. Step up the development of recorders that can be found at sea through the use of flotation gear and beacons. It is on a flight over water that a would-be saboteur now has the best chance of permanently hiding any evidence.

Baron Morrison From the Chicago Tribune

Baron Morrison of Lambeth, formerly good old Herbert Morrison, a Labor party stalwart, has provoked great indignation in the British College of Arms by refusing to apply for armorial devices by which his identity could be shown on his shield. The life peer doesn't think he'll be bearing a shield at any time soon.

Herb Morrison probably remembers that he started out life as an errand boy, shop assistant, telephone operator and assistant newspaper circulation manager, so that there is no call now to try to put on side. But if he really wants to get his innings with the College of Arms, he might suggest that it try to figure out an escutcheon emblazoned with fish and chips or perchance even the humble but tasty bloater.

Between Book Ends Old Problem, New Dimension

RADIATION, GENES, AND MAN, by Bruce Wallace and Th. Dobzhansky. (Holt, 205 pgs., $3.95.)

A part of the uniqueness of our species consists in an aptitude, all but unparalleled in the animal world, for indulging in practices harmful to our health and welfare. Heretofore, the effects of man's self-destroying tendencies have been confined to those actually exposed to them. The age of radiation, however, has added a new dimension to an old problem. High-energy radiations provide us with the means of hurting not only ourselves, but also those who will be born in many generations to come. It is this fact that gives the radiation question its unequaled significance.

Bruce Wallace

In "Radiation, Genes, and Man," the problem is discussed with the competence and authority it deserves. Professors Wallace and Dobhanzsky, who are both leaders in modern genetics research, have written a book outstanding for its thoroughness, its clarity and its good judgment. Unlike too many other people who are discussing the problem of radiation nowadays, the authors are careful to point out the extent of our ignorance as well as of our knowledge in many important areas.

The first half of the book provides the background information which the reader must have if he is to acquire a sound understanding of the threat to our heredity. Beginning with the proposition that the energy demands of modern civilization have made the atom an irreplaceable tool, Wallace and Dobzhansky consider both the physical and the biological aspects of the problem.

In one chapter they explain the sources and effects of the various kinds of radiation that exist. Turning to the biological side, they sum up the classical laws of inheritance, modern ideas about the nature of the gene, and current evidence on the frequency and significance of mutation. The simplicity and directness of these chapters, illuminated with a wealth of familiar examples, are a lesson in the art of scientific writing.

Having carefully set the scene, Wallace and Dobzhansky turn to the drama itself. The prologue is the thoroughly documented fact that radiation does cause mutation. This result has by now been demonstrated in organisms of all kinds, both plants and animals. The simple fact that genes can be altered by radiation, however, does not in itself predict the over-all effect of any given level of radiation.

To make such predictions one must know something of the varied ways in which genes express themselves, and also understand the factors that influence the survival or elimination of altered genes in the human population. In order that the reader may have a basis for forming his own conclusions, the authors explain the complexities of the problem in some detail.

How big is the problem? Undoubtedly exposure to radiation has already led to abortions, stillbirths, and malformations, and these are likely to increase unless potential parents are rigidly protected against undue exposure. The threat is certainly not to the very existence of our species.

But it is clear that radiation, whether from fallout, X-rays, atomic wastes, or tracer substances used in industry and medicine, can impose on society a heavy burden of defective individuals needing care and support. Beyond this, the problem becomes one of value judgment. Do the benefits derived from radiation justify the suffering of a few unlucky parents and children? Is the death of one child among 10,000 worth worrying about?

Such questions go beyond the competence of science, and become the province of society as a whole. In thinking about the matter, we may find a guide, the authors hint, in the words of Albert Schweitzer, ". . . that good consists in maintaining, assisting, and enhancing life, and that to destroy, to harm or to hinder life is evil."

DORIS FLEESON

The Old Coalition Is on the Shelf

WASHINGTON.

A DURABLE SENATE CONSERVATIVE COALITION is ruled out this year by presidential politics on both sides of the aisle. The many Democratic Senators who are eyeing the national ticket, especially Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, cannot afford the passive attitudes and compromises of the past few years.

The evidence of their changed temper appeared in the first legislative debate of the session when a liberal coalition put teeth in the clean elections bill with surprising ease. For Vice President Richard Nixon and the party he will lead into the election, it is desirable to have some part of their forces in the congressional arena turn at least a moderately liberal face to the voters.

Halleck

Nixon's choice of the Senate for this role was shrewdly done for many reasons, not least of which is the fact that Senators and the Senate get very much more publicity and public attention than the large, unweildy House.

New Senators Influential.

Another reason is that the newer Republican Senators from the big states so important to presidential success were demanding an end to Old Guard domination on issues important to them. This group is led by Senators Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating of New York and Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

It is a political imperative that they should personally show results on issues such as civil rights, education and housing if they are to remain in the Senate.

It is highly desirable that they should be able to remain in the Senate. It is highly desirable that they should be able virtuously to proclaim next fall that most Republicans are on the side of the angels in the chamber over which the Vice President presides.

Winter Book Long Shot.

Nixon himself would naturally prefer not to break tie votes this session in favor of a conservative coalition.

So the axe has been handed to House Leader Charles Halleck and his conservative forces, drawn from both parties in the House. The veteran Hoosier is hefting it with a lack of hypocricy and a kind of wholesome relish which are a refreshing antidote to the sanctimoniousness of so much present-day politics.

Halleck does not even make a secret of his hope that his services will be rewarded by Nixon with the vice-presidency, a horrid word in the lexicon of so many Democrats and Republicans. He is still a very long shot in the winter book.

Other factors are important in the new look the Senate is starting to acquire. The South's strength has been eroded by two new states, with their four Senators and two Congressmen.

It has for some time been crumbling at the borders of Tennessee, and Oklahoma.

Florida and Louisiana do not have their hearts in the struggle. Their leading spokesmen are not extremist in any particular.

Dixiecrats Are Subdued.

Texas is not really dependable any more, either, and must be less so as the Johnson bandwagon acquires momentum.

Nor are the South's elder statesmen enjoying their roles with the gusto of their early days. Their principal strategist, Senator Richard Russell, seems almost subdued.

Whether he though the clean elections bill fight was already won and could not be stemmed, he does not say. But no carefully wrought fight against it was made in the usual Russell pattern.

The Senate coalition may occasionally materialize on economic issues, but in this presidential year it will not carry the brunt of the conservative effort to mold the legislation which goes to the White House.

DIMES DRIVE SHOW ON TV HITS $105,000

Station and Performers Continue Telethon Until Goal Is Reached.

Contributions and pledges totaling $105,000 were raised by the second annual New March of Dimes Star Spectacular on television station KPLR-TV, it was announced last night.

The telethon started at 10 p.m. Saturday and continued until 6:25 p.m. yesterday. The show was scheduled to end at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but performers and officials decided to go on until $100,000 was raised.

The telethon was reduced sharply in scope because of a dispute between the station and the American Federation of Radio and Television Artists.

As a result of the union's decision that its members could not participate in the fund-raising event, entertainer George Jessel did not appear on the show. He came here from Hollywood Saturday but canceled his appearance.

Bess Myerson, the second featured star, came from New York for the show and was able to appear because of a technicality. The union had failed to notify her of its bar, the March of Dimes said.

Seventy other AFTRA members, who are appearing in St. Louis night clubs or who are staff members of local radio and television stations, canceled their appearances on the show.

Entertainers who are not members of the AFTRA appeared on the show. They included Buddy Moreno and his orchestra, singer Fransiska, Joe Schirmer, Chuck Tilman, Maxine Kent and the Original Three, and Bobby Swain.

Free polio shots were given to children as a feature of the telethon. About 1200 youngsters received Salk vaccine on the show. They also were given free ice cream and soda.

Bernard F. Dickmann, general March of Dimes chairman, said 60 telephone operators were on duty to answer calls of viewers who called in their donations and pledges. He said about $103,000 was raised by the telehton last year, but the show ended at 2:30 p.m.

Dickmann expressed his "warmest appreciation" to the television station and performers, especially Miss Myerson and masters - of - ceremonies Harry Fender, Kenneth Dawst and Robert Lurie, president of an advertising firm who filled in on an hour's notice after being recommended by Jessel.

HOMER HALL DIES; RETIRED ATTORNEY

Elected to Legislature in 1898 — Came to St. Louis in 1910.

Homer Hall, former general attorney for the Wabash Railroad, died today of infirmities of age at the Walton homes, 4527 Forest Park boulevard. He was 88 years old.

Mr. Hall, born in Trenton, Mo., was general attorney for the Wabash from 1921 until 1940, when he returned to the private practice of law. He retired in 1958.

After his graduation in 1893 from DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., Mr. Hall joined his father in the practice of law at Trenton and in 1898 was elected to the Missouri Legisuature from Grundy county on the Republican ticket.

He came to St. Louis in 1910, when he was appointed an Assistant United States Attorney. He held that post for five years. In World War I, he was a member of the Army Judge Advocat's staff in Washington, D.C., holding the rank of major.

Mr. Hall was a member of the board of Grace Methodist Church, 6199 Waterman boulevard and a former chairman of the board of trustees of the Epworth School for Girls, Webster Groves.

He was a former president of the St. Louis Tuberculosis and Health Society and the Missouri Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. He was also active in the Missouri Historical Society.

Surviving are a niece, Mrs. Rachel V. Campbell of Washington, D.C., and two nephews, John H. N. Violette of Brillion, Wis., and George L. Hall of San Francisco.

Funeral services and burial will be in Trenton. A memorial service will be held at Grace Methodist Church Thursday at 4 p.m.

JOSEPH HYKINS FUNERAL HELD; RETIRED TAILOR

Funeral services for Joseph Hykins, a St. Louis tailor for about 45 years, were held today at the Rindskopf undertaking establishment, 5216 Delmar boulevard. Burial was in Chesed Shel Emeth Cemetery.

Mr. Hykins, who was 76 years old, died of heart disease Saturday at Jewish Hospital. He came from Russia to the United States as a youth. He started his career with the old H. Simpkin Ladies Tailoring Co. here and for many years operated his own shop at 509 North Taylor avenue. Mr. Hykins, who lived at 4521 McPherson avenue, retired in 1946.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Pauline Simpkin Hykins; two sons, Noah and Albert Hykins; a brother, Robert Hykins, and two sisters, Mrs. Hannah Friedman and Mrs. Ella Bender.

MISS ETHEL M. FLANNIGEN FUNERAL; RETIRED TEACHER

Funeral services for Miss Ethel M. Flannigen, retired East St. Louis High School teacher, were held today at the Kurrus undertaking establishment, 2525 State street, East St. Louis. Interment was in Nashville, Ill., Miss Flannigen's birthplace.

Miss Flannigen, who was 80 years old, died Friday at her home, 25 Grandvue drive, Belleville, after a long illness. She began teaching in East St. Louis in 1908 at the Summers College of Commerce. Later she transferred to East St. Louis High School, where she taught business courses until her retirement in 1942.

She was a member of the East St. Louis Teachers' Association and the National Education Association. There are no immediate survivors.

Marion F. Yatman Dies.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Jan. 25 (AP)—Marion F. Yatman, Republican national committeewoman from Rhode Island since 1944, died of cancer yesterday. She was 68 years old.

ARCHBISHOP URGES SYMPHONY SUPPORT

Hopes Everyone Will Give Generously to Orchestra's Maintenance Fund.

Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter today called on residents of the St. Louis area to support the maintenance fund drive of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

"I urge the widest possible participation of the community in the interest of one of our most prized civic projects — the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra," the archbishop said.

"I am happy to give my indorsement of the current symphony maintenance fund drive.

"It is my earnest hope that everyone will do his best to give generously to the fund drive, and insure the 1960-61 season of concerts for the enjoyment and edification of our citizens and guests to the city."

The maintenance fund drive, needed to supplement the income of the Symphony Orchestra, has a goal of $250,000.

Frank M. Mayfield, chairman of the board of directors of Scruggs, Vandervoort, Barney, Inc., is general chairman of the drive.

CHAMBER ENSEMBLE PLAYS SCHOENBERG

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

Arnold Schoenberg's "Pierrot Lunaire" was produced for the first time in St. Louis last night through the enterprise of The New Music Circle. The performance was given at Brown Hall on the campus of Washington University and was heard not once but twice by a near-capacity audience composed largely of students and members of the Circle.

This atmosphere of appreciation and the efficient, sympathetic treatment of the music by the chamber ensemble under Edward Murphy were undoubtedly the most significant aspects of the occasion. The free dissonance, open scoring and angular leaps and moaning slides of the voice part offered difficulties that could be solved only by patient, intensive preparation. The successful, closely-organized performance was therefore an artistic and technical feat of the first order.

The most notable feature of this work is the hybrid part assigned to the soprano soloist—a half sung, half spoken kind of declamation that the composer described as "Sprechstimme." Carolee Coombs of St. Louis did the recitation. She managed to communicate a musical quality even while obeying strictly the composer's injunction to avoid both the singsong effect of spoken recitation and the easier device of connecting clearly-pitched notes by a series of glissandi. The moody, evanescent, dream-like nature of the music was implicit in the timbre of her voice.

The ensemble was composed of Susan Kagan, piano; Bert Siegle, violin; Herbert Van den Burg, viola; Leslie Parnas, cello; Earl Bates, clarinet; Norman Goldberg, bass clarinet, and Janet Sillars, flute.

Nobody but a master could have composed such an unusual score, but this does not make it a masterpiece. "Pierrot Lunaire" was completed in 1912 and at its first performance in Berlin was a shock to many innocent ears. It is no longer shocking. It is pleasant and rather soporific; parts of it, in fact, could be used as background music for a slumber rest mattress ad on television.

Its uniqueness has debarred it from becoming a model for other composers because the "Sprechstimme" as an artistic device was exhausted the first time around, and any successor would sound like more of the same. So one cannot ascribe to "Pierrot Lunaire" either a pride of ancestry or a hope of posterity.

Aside from being well played, last night's production was artfully staged with the aid of the university's Thyrsus Society. Miss Coombs was costumed as Pierrot in spotlights that changed color from time to time. The orchestra was grouped behind a gauze curtain which gave its members a suitably mysterious and shadowy appearance.

At the conclusion Edward Murphy suggested that the audience might find the music more accessible after a second performance. The acceptance of his invitation was indicated by enthusiastic applause.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK CHAIRMAN APPOINTED

William A. McDonnell Regional Chief for Feb. 21-28 Observance.

William A. McDonnell, chairman of the board of the First National Bank in St. Louis, has been appointed regional chairman of Brotherhood Week, which will be observed throughout the nation from Feb. 21 through 28, it was announced today.

McDonnell is admirably fitted to be Brotherhood Week chairman because of his good will toward his fellow men and his devotion to civic activity, Major B. Einstein, co-chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews here, said in announcing the appointment.

"In accepting the chairmanship," McDonnell declared, "I am confident that all thinking St. Louisans will support this unique observance with added zeal this year, when man's inhumanity to man has been commemorated afresh by the swastika-smearers."

Cornelia Otis Skinner, an actress, will serve as national chairman of Brotherhood Week, and President Eisenhower will be national honorary chairman.

Brotherhood Week was started by the National Conference of Christians and Jews in 1934 as a means of symbolizing the conference's year-round program of combatting bigotry and prejudice, Einstein said.

Lewis W. Jones of New York, national president of the conference, will be in St. Louis on Feb. 3, prior to Brotherhood week. He will speak at a luncheon of the board of the local N.C.C.J. at the Hotel Statler Hilton.

Jones was president of Rutgers University before he accepted the presidency of the conference. In 1947, he was named president of the University of Arkansas. During his four years there, the university became the first southern institution of higher learning to admit Negroes.

Jones is coming to St. Louis to address a dinner meeting of the United Fund on Feb. 3.

FUNERAL TO BE TOMORROW FOR MISS OLIVE THOMPSON

Funeral services for Miss Olive Thompson, a chiropractor here for 40 years, will be tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the English & Gordon undertaking establishment, 1123 North Taylor avenue, with burial in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Miss Thompson died Saturday at Homer G. Phillips Hospital of infirmities. She was 72 years old. She was born in St. Louis.

MRS. ELISE STOCKER DIES

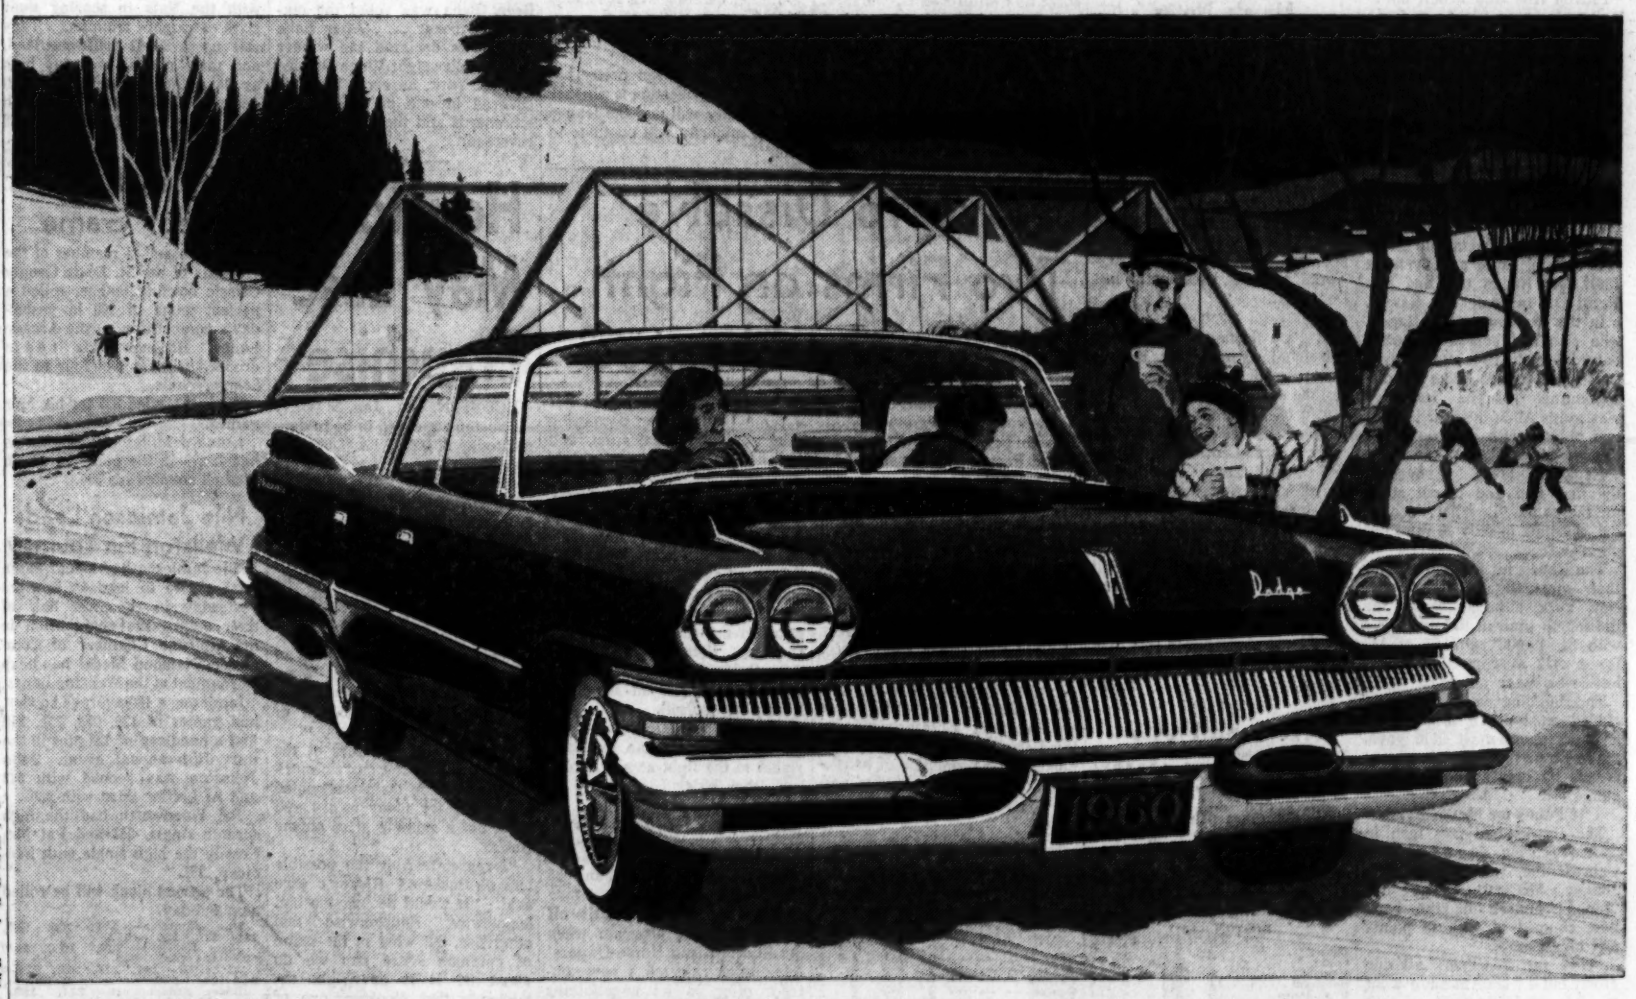

Mrs. Elise Chouteau Stocker, 7018 Forsyth boulevard, University City, died last night of a heart ailment at St. Mary's Hospital. She was the widow of Jack Stocker, who was president of Stocker-Hausmann, a St. Louis wholesale grocery firm. Mrs. Stocker was 66 years old.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, University City, with entombment in Oak Grove Hausoleum.

Why settle for a cut-down compact when Dart gives you everything you want for just a few dollars more? Price? Dart prices start with the lowest in the low-price field. Economy? Dart delivers up to 400 miles of cruising on a tankful of "regular" gas. Room? For a crew of six—with full cargo. Maybe that's why so many people who have priced the compact cars are buying Darts!

Dart: The smart way to get economy!

You can always buy a car that's low in price if you're willing to sacrifice room and comfort and performance and styling. The Dodge Dart gives you low price without the sacrifices. It is a fine car by every standard. Dart's all-welded one-piece Unibody is stronger and more spacious than "bolt together" bodies. It virtually ends squeaks, rattles and rust—keeps Dart new far longer. And Dart's Economy Slant "6" gives V-8 pep with 6-cylinder savings. When you add it all up, is it any wonder Dart sales are soaring?

Records Fall Left and Right as Hawks Crush Knicks, 155-129

St. Louis Club Hits Season's NBA High

By Harold Flachsbart

Carl Braun, a skinny kid who came out of Colgate University 13 years ago to join the New York Knickerbockers and has been with them ever since, probably won't forget what he calls his "last" National Basketball Association playing venture.

Still slender, but with about 180 pounds on a 6-4½ frame, Braun was playing coach of the Knicks until yesterday afternoon at Kiel Auditorium. It was a memorable occasion. Braun, who formerly laughed at referees' decisions when he feinted a fall to get a foul on the opposing team, complained bitterly in his "last one."

And to a suggestion that Braun, a backliner with more than 1000 points in six of his 11 N.B.A. seasons, wanted to get the referee's thumb, he replied:

"That's a lie. I saw my player was being pushed and hurt, and nobody's gonna hurt my man when I'm coaching."

Records Galore Set.

Between Braun's ejection and the final score of 155-129 in favor of the Hawks over the Knicks, at least 17 records were broken.

"You're right, I probably won't forget this one," said Braun. "First I'm kicked out of the game and then the Hawks set a season's N.B.A. scoring total with 155 points, our combined efforts reach 284, and what did Ben Kerner say? He never saw 150 points scored by one team before? He's been around just about as long as I have, on the owners' side of the fence."

The reason this was Braun's last game as a player was the addition yesterday to the Knickerbocker squad of Dick Garmaker, sharp-shooting Minneapolis backliner and one of the league all-stars in East-West competition.

"I'll be a bench coach—I don't know how it'll feel—unless someone in our regular lineup suffers an injury," Braun said.

Records fell left and right, and one hardest worked for was Clyde (Boomer) Lovellette's personal high of 39 points in the pro circuit in which he has been playing seven seasons. The Hawks tried their darndest to get the ball to him in the waning seconds and the Boomer did it the hard way, missing one free throw and making one and then turning for a fielder, giving the Hawks 155, their best total since they've been in the league.

15 Kiel Marks Fall.

Fifteen Kiel Auditorium building marks were broken and one tied but the one that will make the most impression around the country is that the Hawks tallied 155 points, more than any N.B.A. team has scored this season.

It was announced, incorrectly, that this was the first time that three players on one team totaled 100 points. Boston's big three of Tom Heinsohn (43), Bob Cousy (31) and Bill Sharman (29) tallied 103 pounds in one game last season, same as Lovellette (39), Cliff Hagan (32) and Bob Pettit (32) made for the Hawks.

In the dressing room, Hagan, who also had scored 32 points Saturday night in a victory over Cincinnati, asked: "Was I a disappointment?" The reference was to his All-Star game total of two points, with not too many minutes played.

Hagan hit seven for seven in the first half and 10 out of 18 for the game. Lovellette scored his 39 points in only 26 minutes' play.

The Hawks hit 50.9 per cent of their shots, 59 out of 116, and New York, although beaten for the fourth time in five meetings with St. Louis, sank 51 of 108 for a .472 average that would have won many games.

The building records set included most points a game by a Hawk team, most field goals made by two teams, most assists by halves and in a full game, etc.

18 Points for McCarthy.

The Hawks had five men in double scoring figures and whereas the front line hit 103, Johnny McCarthy, who has "found" himself on the back line, chipped in with 18 points and nine assists.

"Give the frontliners all due credit but I'd like to have a lot of Johnny McCarthys on my team," said Coach Ed Macauley.

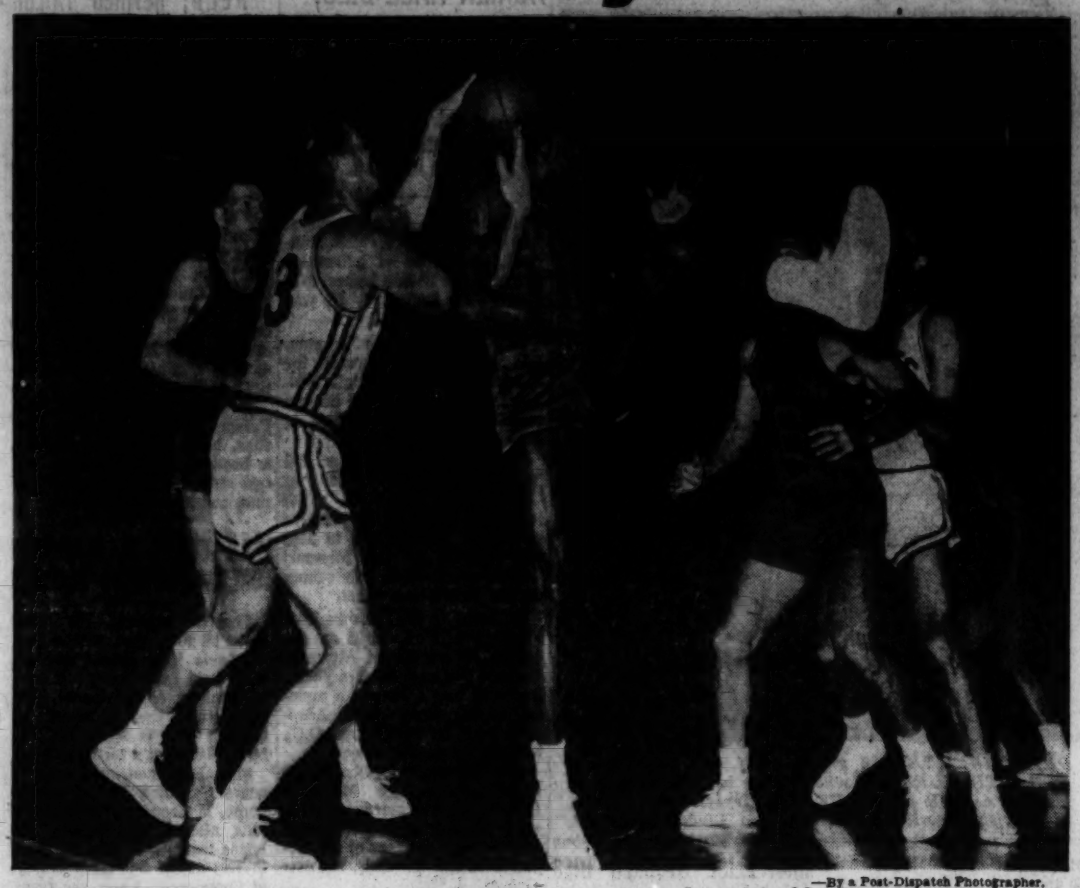

For New York, Kenny Sears was high with 26 points.

William (Whitey) Bell, backliner, 6-1, formerly from North Carolina State and former A.A.U. player, did nothing in the first half, then scored 10 points and was pretty fast on the back line in the second half. He was one of the players Kerner gave up to get McCarthy from the Cincinnati Royals.

Omaha Team Wins Volleyball Tourney

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Jan. 25 (AP)—Omaha YMCA won the Cornbelt invitational volleyball tournament title here by beating Minneapolis Y.M.C.A., 15-13, 11-14, 14-7.

Omaha had gained the final of the eight-team, round-robin tournament by defeating Lincoln, (Nebr.) Y.M.C.A., 16-18, 15-13, 15-4. Minneapolis defeated Des Moines Y.M.C.A., 15-13, 15-11, in the other semifinal.

Misplaced Arms and Legs in Basketball Tieup

As New York's JOHN GREEN (11) comes back to earth after a high leap, he catches CHARLEY SHARES'S forearm in his right armpit. At right, New York's MIKE FARMER (8) blocks out St. Louis's BOB PETTIT. The Hawks and Knicks set 17 records as St. Louis won, 155-129, at Kiel Auditorium.

Hawk Notes

The Hawks' next game will be at New York Tuesday night. Wednesday night they'll meet the Celtics at Boston. The next game at Kiel Auditorium will be against Detroit Friday night.

The N.B.A. record for most points in one game is 173, set by Boston against Minneapolis, Feb. 27, 1959. . . . This season's previous high was 152 by New York against Cincinnati last Dec. 12.

In a Sunday preliminary wheelchair game, the Kansas City team defeated the St. Louis Rolling Rams, 30-26. . . . A crowd of 7683 attended. . . . At halftime of the Hawks-Knicks game Jazz Central Orchestra and Singer Kathy Carr entertained. . . . And there was an amusing skit in which Radio Announcers Bob Holt and Jack Buck of KMOX took part as "officials." Players were chased, all the spectators, both coaches and Hawks' Owner Ben Kerner, too.

The pro game lasted less than two hours, the program five hours. H. F.

Football Cards' Owner Won't Deny Report Club Will Move Here

A possibility that the Chicago Cardinals might move to St. Louis was believed strengthened today by an evasive answer given to a direct simple question.

Instead of giving a flat negative reply as he had done in the past when asked if the National Football League team might transfer here, Managing Director Walter Wolfner merely said "no comment."

Wolfner was contacted in Miami, Fla., where the N.F.L. has been delaying discussion of expansion and other important matters because of inability to name a commissioner.

Wolfner bridled at the suggestion, as strongly reported, that other teams in the league might be trying to pressure the Cardinals into leaving Chicago, where they have played a weak second to the Bears.

"The Cardinal organization will solve its own problems," he said.

Questioned about expansion if the Cards didn't move here this year, Wolfner said:

"I think St. Louis's chances of getting a franchise would be excellent in 1961, but I don't think the city could get ready by this fall while getting together a completely new team," he said.

Something one way or the other may develop in professional football within the next day or two because the American Football League has a meeting scheduled in Dallas, Tex., tomorrow at which time consideration will be given to a franchise either for this city or some other.

Atlanta, Ga.; Oakland, Calif., and Miami, Fla., are reported angling for a franchise in that circuit.

The National League has been tied up for days in Miami Beach trying to agree on a new commissioner to succeed the late Bert Bell, but after many ballots seems no closer to a solution.

Another meeting was scheduled this afternoon.

Wolfner, commenting on the situation, said:

"Things have been pretty hot here. The big question is whether the majority will run the league or if a minority will continue to rule."

Move to Dissolve Two Firms on Fight Monopoly Charges

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—New York Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz today obtained a Supreme Court order permitting him to begin action to dissolve TelePrompTer Corporation, and Floyd Patterson Enterprises, Ltd., for allegedly violating the state anti-trust laws.

The action grew out of an investigation of the promotion and sale of ancillary rights of the heavyweight title fight last June 26 when Ingemar Johansson defeated Floyd Patterson.

Affidavits filed by Lefkowitz charged that Irving Kahn, TelePrompTer president, and Constantine (Cus) O'Amato, Patterson's manager and stockholder of Patterson Enterprises, violated the law by joining to monopolize the promotion of heavyweight championship fights and movie-television rights to the fights.

TelePrompTer controlled television and movie rights of the June 26 bout through an agreement with Patterson Enterprises.

The affidavits state that the board of directors of TelePrompTer had adopted a resolution prior to the title fight to place D'Amato, Patterson and Sugar Ray Robinson, former middleweight champion, on the TelePrompTer payroll.

It also was stated that TelePrompTer bought the ancillary rights to the fight at a price below other bids.

Owners Reject New Contract; Races Off

SAN JUAN, P.R., Jan. 25 (UPI)—The El Comandato race track was forced to call off Sunday's racing program when the Puerto Rican Horse Owners' Association rejected a new contract offer in its negotiations with the track owners and operators.

And as a result of the rejection the outlook for the resumption of racing here is considered uncertain. The track offered the owners a seven-year pact with a minimum of $2,500,000 in purses a year, plus 45 per cent of the track's receipts above $27,000,000 annually.

Hockey Player Dies In Freak Mishap

Police said Norman Cote of Adamsville was killed when he ran into the boards and pierced his stomach with his stick. Adamsville was playing against West Shefford, a neighboring community, 35 miles east of Montreal.

Police said Cote was married and had one child.

Garmaker Purchased By Knicks

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The desperate financial plight of the Minneapolis Lakers may prove a blessing to the New York Knickerbockers, who currently are buried in the Eastern Division cellar of the National Basketball Association.

The Lakers, who have dropped more than $60,000 this season, sent all-star Dick Garmaker to the Knicks yesterday for $25,000 and Ray Felix. The Knicks also get the Lakers' No. 2 selection in the draft in exchange for one of New York's choices.

In any light, the deal should benefit the Knicks. Garmaker, a 27-year-old graduate of Minnesota, has been named to the NBA All-Stars for four of his five seasons in the league.

Felix, on the other hand, hasn't even been playing with the Knicks. He reportedly had a falling out with Fuzzy Levane, ex-Knick coach, earlier in the season, and has been playing in the Eastern League.

"It was more or less a money deal from the Lakers' standpoint," admitted Coach Jim Pollard. The Knicks beat the Lakers, 115-104, Saturday. Elgin Baylor of the Lakers suffered a partially dislocated finger in the struggle.

The Lakers were idle yesterday, but the Knicks took a 155-129 lacing from the St. Louis Hawks. In other action, the Philadelphia Warriors defeated the Cincinnati Royals, 104-95, and the Boston Celtics turned back the Syracuse Nationals, 131-110.

Maurice Stokes, former Royal, was on hand for the Philadelphia-Cincinnati game. Stokes, paralyzed with a brain injury nearly two years ago, left the hospital for the first time.

Stokes received a big hand when he was wheeled into the arena shortly before the start of the game. During the halftime intermission, photographers covering the game, the players themselves and many of the 4178 fans came down to see him and wish him well.

His wheel chair was placed on the sidelines near one of the baskets, in such a way that he could follow the action without moving his head. It was obvious that he was happy to be where he was just by the way his dark eyes picked up the action of the game.

Wilt Chamberlain of the Warriors, hauled down a record 37 rebounds, and led both teams in scoring with 30 points. Jack Twyman of the Royals, who is in contention for the league scoring title, was held to 11 points.

The Celtics had no trouble with the Nats in scoring their sixth straight triumph. They ran up a 71-62 halftime lead, and their margin went as high as 28 points during the fourth quarter. Bill Russell was high man for the winners with 28 points.

Wessell Rolls Perfect Game

Ollie Wessell, a member of the Wessells of the St. Louis County Classic bowling league, rolled a perfect game of 300 in yesterday's competition on the Arcade Lanes. However, his team dropped three out of four to the Schmerschals.

Wessell totaled 825 for his four games.

Nile Jamieson Leads Wellston Pin Tourney

Nile Jamieson had a four-game total of 995 to lead 89 bowlers yesterday in the first half of their eight-game competition in the Wellston Chamber of Commerce Diamond Medal handicap tournament at the Wellston Lanes.

Jamieson, a 180-average bowler, had games of 179, 255, 231, 210 and a handicap of 120 pins in the thirty-fifth annual event. John Johnston was second with 842 and Al Leffler third with 930.

Joe Woodworth had the high scratch single, 257 and Pat McCready the high single with handicap, 287.

The second block will be rolled next Sunday.

Houston May Lose Franchise

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 25 (UPI)—Houston appeared to be in danger today of losing its Contiental Baseball League franchise to Montreal.

The Houston Sports Association is about to lose the franchise because it has not been able to come to terms to buy Houston's American Association franchise.

Continental President Branch Rickey wired H.S.A. President Craig Cullinan his "regrets" yesterday at the "possible loss of Houston" and said that Montreal's bid for membership must be considered in the light of Houston developments.

The board of directors of the Houston Buffs—the city's American Association team—scheduled a meeting for today to try and work out a suitable price on the Buffs.

"I regret terribly the possible loss of Houston," Rickey's wire said. "It would be just too bad leaguewise, Houstonwise and otherwise, but what in the name of common sense can we do about it? It is downright unthinkable that Houston, one of the original five in the Continental League, would find itself anchored forever as a minor league city."

Spink Is Honored By the Byline Club

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 25 (AP)—J. G. Taylor Spink of St. Louis, publisher of the Sporting News, was honored by the Byline Club Sunday night as its first Man of the Year in Sports.

Ernest Mehl, sports editor of The Star, said the award was for Spink's contribution to baseball. He was presented with a watch at a dinner by broadcaster Sam Molen.

The program also included interviews of Bill Veeck, president of the Chicago Sox, and Frank Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, by Mike Wallace, a television personality.

The Byline Club is an organization of Kansas City area sports writers and broadcasters.

A Guy Named Jesse

"He wouldn't turn down any fight," Virgil Akins said in admiration of his late friend, Jesse Turner. "He'd have fought the heavyweight champion."

Akins, who has four children, and Pennington Brown, who has three, were talking about their boyhood friend and fellow boxer who died in December, leaving a wife, six kids and no money.

Akins, the former welterweight champion, and Don Fullmer, brother of the National Boxing Association's middleweight king, will meet Thursday night at Kiel Auditorium in the main event of a fight card from which the Turner family will benefit.

How much Thuralee Turner will receive to help raise those five boys and a girl will depend on the generosity of St. Louis sportsmen who enjoy beak-busting or the more scientific side of the fight game, the manly art of self-defense.

If any and all who ever watched Turner with pleasure at ringside, from the gallery or from the comfort of an easy chair near a television set, will turn out Thursday or make a contribution, no matter how small, this worthy cause will be successful.

Turner was no champion, but he was a pretty good fighter, a crowd-pleaser and, as Akins said sadly, "a happy-go-lucky guy who cared only for his kids."

Four Fistic Fellows

Jesse, Virg, Penny Brown and Freddie Latson grew up within a few blocks of one another in the vicinity of Fifteenth and O'Fallon. They formed fast friendships before death took Turner at 29, but, curiously, they began boxing at four different places.

Turner was 13 when he first pulled on the gloves at Carr Square Community Center, Brown the same tender age when he began at the Typo A.C., and Akins 15 when the Honeybear learned his fistic fundamentals at the Pine Street Y.M.C.A. Latson started his career at Neighborhood House.

All except Turner won Golden Gloves or Ozark A. A. U. championships in one or more divisions as they grew up, these four young knights of the squared circle.

"Remember, Virg," Penny recalled, "Norman Gates beat Jesse in the 135 finals one year?"

Both Akins, now a fading veteran stubbornly refusing to acknowledge his decline, and Brown, a bespectacled mail-carrier, looked back on Latson as the most promising of their friendship foursome.

"Yeah, until Fred went on the road with Sandy Saddler as a sparring partner and Saddler punched him around," Akins said "Fred's handlers had good intentions, but poor connections.

"Fred was strictly a boxer who could jab your brains out, but a freak featherweight like Saddler and the lightweights were too strong for him."

Superlatives

Who was the best prospect Akins and Brown had seen locally?

Penny didn't hesitate. "Jesse Bowdry had the most natural ability of any fighter I've ever seen," Brown said of the St. Louis light-heavyweight who will try Wednesday night at Chicago to avenge an upset defeat suffered at the hands of Henry Hank.

Brown had been "surprised," too, he said, that Wesbury Bascom, another 175-pound boy, didn't go all the way. Penny pointed out that earlier rosin in the eye had sidetracked Bob Foxworth, a promising light heavy.

Akins, listening, nodded, and added another name.

"I thought Kenny Nienhaus of the Broadway A.C. was a natural before he was hurt in an accident," Virg said. "And, of course, we all know that Sonny Liston looked good."

Bascom, formerly a postman, now runs a bowling alley in the 4100 block of Olive street.

"Wes was over-matched when he went against Cesar Brion, the Argentine heavyweight," Akins said. "Brion couldn't hit, but he laid on Bascom and was too heavy and strong for him. He hurt Wes's optic nerve.

"Over-matching is a fight-

Comeback Effort

Jack Pirrie, the four-sport athlete from Maplewood, is No. 5 scorer on the Vanderbilt team in his junior season. . . . The 6-5, 200-pounder is averaging 8.8 points a game in the Commodores' 9-5 campaign thus far. . . . The pre-religion student at Vandy suffered a dislocated shoulder late in the 1957-58 season and missed all of last season. . . . He's a senior in classwork.

Chuck Orsborn, whose Bradley team advanced its season record to 13-1 by walloping Notre Dame, 86-65, comments on the lack of height of the Braves: "We have to be lucky to win that many with a lineup that averages 6 feet 2½ inches. I saw Coach Rupp do that two years ago and I thought he was pretty lucky to win the national championship with a team looking up at everybody."

Morrison.

Bobby Joe Mason, No. 3 scorer and perhaps the best of several clutch players on the Bradley team, has four more games to play before he finishes eligibility . . . at Marquette Saturday, on a Seattle-Gonzaga two-game trip, and then on Feb. 6 against North Texas State at home.

Lee Edwards, St. Louis Central sophomore who came off the bench and helped blast the St. Louis U. Billikens at Peoria, is a possible replacement when Mason departs. . . . Edwards would be a forward with Al Saunders taking Mason's place at guard. . . . Could be that Bradley may make a good run for the Missouri Valley title even without Mason. . . . Braves are leading the league with 5-1 record, will have seven conference games to play without Mason, including games away at Drake, North Texas, Houston and St. Louis (March 5).

Steamrollered

Purdue soph Terry Dischinger impressed Ohio State Coach Fred Taylor. . . . But the Buckeyes kept rolling with an 85-71 victory at Lafayette, Ind., their fifth in Big Ten play. . . . "Dischinger (who scored 32 points) has some of the greatest moves I've seen in college ball," said Taylor. "I'm glad we don't have to see him again this year."

The Ohio State per:h as the No. 1 scoring team among major colleges was not threatened as Duquesne played a control game against Cincinnati, held Oscar Robertson to 13 points and lost by only 61-58 to the Bearcats. . . . Ohio State is averaging 91.8 points a game; Cincinnati's average is 89.4.

Jerry Lucas scored 27 points while sitting out the last eight minutes and 42 seconds of the game at Purdue. . . . This recalls Adolph Rupp's recent remark that Lucas "will become one of the greatest basketball players this country has ever produced when he learns defense. He has nothing to learn on offense." Lucas is averaging 27.5 a game.

Now that Robertson's average has dropped to 36.3, St. Bonaventure's 6-5 junior center Tom Stith is looking more like a contender for the scoring title. . . . He had a 30.2 average in the Bonnie's first 12 games. . . . Stith began fattening his average when Bonnie Coach Eddie Donovan was able to let him move around instead of staying near the backboard where he was the team's best rebounder last year.

Rupp has had trouble in this 10-4 season at Kentucky but as the Wildcats resume Southeastern Conference play this week they are without the services of Bill Lickert, who is out with a leg injury.

Mom Knows Best

It seems that Missouri Coach Sparky Stalcup has an able, if unofficial, assistant in Mrs. Gertrude Henke of Malta Bend, Mo.

She is the mother of Mizzou's 6-7 varsity center, Charlie Henke, believed to be one the most improved players in the Big Eight Conference this season.

Mrs. Henke used to play a little basketball herself on the Malta Bend High School girls' team. As a regular spectator at Missouri home games, she has been son Charlie's best critic.

His mother, recalled Charlie, used to chide him last season "for not shooting more when I got in close" or "for not hitting the board harder" on rebounds.

"I always kid her about trying to coach me," Charlie related at Columbia, "but she really doesn't. She's just a good fan, anxious to see me do well."

But it does look a if Mom knew best. Charlie carried a 17.9 scoring average and a 12-rebound average into the game with Tulsa Saturday night and he was right on the beam. He was high scorer with 21 points and he was top rebounder with 11 recoveries as Missouri beat Tulsa, 84-74.

Friendly Sun Puts Kutis in Western Open Cup Final

Schwaben Beaten by 4-3 Score

By Dent McSkimming

Some of the things that happened at Public Schools Stadium yesterday afternoon may well make sun-worshippers of the Kutis soccer players. The big ball of fire that hung in the southwestern sky at 4:30 played an important part in the St. Louis team's 4-3 victory over Chicago's very attractive Schwaben team before 1500 fans.

Trailing in goals, 3 to 2, with only seven minutes of the 90-minute game left to be played, Kutis scored a tying goal and came right back for the decisive tally, three minutes before the final whistle.

Both times the ball that scored was untouched by the Schwaben goalkeeper because the setting sun blinded him.

It took just such a turn of luck to win for the St. Louisans. They were outplayed a great part of the time by a team that showed no sign of weakening. Now, Kutis enters the western final round of the United States Open Cup Competition, hoping for a friendly sun when the final is played, against the California survivor.

Played It That Way.

Kutis trainer Tony Mercurio insisted, after the game, that the matter of Goalie Helmut Michel's inability to see the two important shots was not pure circumstance —or luck.

"We played it that way," said Tony as he went about handing out antiseptics and bandages.

"We decided, before the game, that if we won the toss for goals we would defend the north goal in the first half. We knew the sun would be a more serious handicap to the north goal defenders in the later afternoon. And that's the way it worked out."

So, if Kutis players do not actually worship the sun they certainly study it.

Schwaben was the leader by almost every standard. Going into the game with fine spirit, lots of speed, excellent ball control and teamwork, the Chicagoans jumped into a 1-0 lead in 12 minutes. Walter Ronge's 25-yard shot, almost a lob with no special threat, went straight into the goal untouched by Kutis Goalie Leroy Franks. That was the first indication that Franks was about to have one of the worst days of his career. He was in action because regular goalie Bob Burkard was too sick to dress.

Mendoza Ties Score.

Ruben Mendoza tied it four minutes later with a close-in, out-of-the-air shot, and Bill Looby put the St. Louisans ahead at the 28-minute point.

But Schwaben scored two more goals before the halftime whistle. Inside Left Gerhardt Nether scored to make it 2-2 at 42 minutes and Ronge again tallied at 44. Both these scores were the result of contrived plays that drew Kutis defenders, including Franks, out of position.

Kutis put on consistent pressure in the second half and it was then that Goalie Michel made a succession of leaping and diving saves. One of the most daring goalies ever seen here, he frequently advanced to the penalty line to block out the Kutis shooter's target.

Finally he came out beyond the 18-yard line, and lost the right to use his hands on the ball. With a great leap, he intercepted a Kutis shot with his head. But the ball was not cleared far and it came right back toward the empty goal. Helpful Helmut made a leaping catch with his hands, giving up a foul and free kick. Harry Keough's lob came close to a score, too, but Helmut won that round.

The clock ticked away and it began to look as though Kutis was out of the Open Cup series, if for no other reason than Michel's refusal to let the ball again get past him.

At 36 minutes, Schwaben missed a golden chance to clinch the victory. A move through the right wing, on which Ronge and Leo DeFort worked so well, advanced the ball to the Kutis goal line where Franks, eight yards out of his goal, failed in his try to scoop it up. The ball was centered, right across the mouth of the empty St. Louis goal. Any sort of touch by a Chicago forward would have scored—but there was no forward within 20 feet.

That bad break seemed to upset Schwaben, and Kutis went to the attack with greater vigor. Now it was Goalie Michel's turn to play blind-man's-buff.

Rooney, gathering the ball about 25 yards from the Chicago goal, toward his own left wing, saw no teammate open for a useful pass so he let go with a surprise shot. The ball traveled toward Michel in the direct path of the sun's rays and Helmut lost sight of it. The ball entered the net untouched and Kutis had tied the score, 3-3.

Only three minutes remained when Left Fullback Bob Whitehead sent a high lob from about 30 yards in the general direction of the Schwaben goal. Usually such a kick is worse than useless, but this time because of the bright sun, neither a fullback nor the goalkeeper was able to intercept. It was another Kutis score and when the whistle sounded three minutes later it was a Kutis victory. Those were a couple of the strangest goals ever seen in the 30-year succession of national cup games here.

Rough Body Contact.

Mendoza was forced to quit the game early in the second half because of a knee injury that appears now quite serious. . . . Schwaben players understood not only how to play the ball well but had to hand out rough body contact, too. . . . The hard-frozen field started to thaw as the game opened, bringing a moist, slippery top surface. . . . Whitehead made a fine fullback mate for near-faultless Herman Wecke, and Tom Julius came in late to relieve over-worked Harry Keough. . . . Bob Kehoe, John Traina and Pete Traina were the other Kutis replacements. . . . Butch Cook hit the Chicago goal post with a well-meant shot but had few good chances. . . . They think in Chicago that the Eagles are even better than Schwaben . . . Eagles are the Amateur Cup representatives and may soon meet Kutis . . . Tony Mercurio will be studying sun spots.

Mendoza Scores for Kutis in Cup Match

Goalkeeper HELMUT MICHEL of the Chicago Schwaben team (right) turns to make a belated try for the ball as RUBEN MENDOZA of the Kutis team (far left) scores the first St. Louis goal in the U.S. Open Cup soccer match at Public Schools Stadium. Closest to Mendoza is tall WULFGANG WOSTL. To the right of Wostl, his teammate, CARL KAESER and at end of line BUTCH COOK of Kutis. The St. Louis team won, 4-3, to enter the western final.

Concordia Seeks 8th Win in Row; Bills and Bears Resume Play

By Robert Morrison

St. Louis U. has a score to settle, once-beaten Concordia seeks its eighth straight victory, and Washington U. goes to the post three times in area college basketball features this week.

The Billikens (10-5) will resume action at Kiel Auditorium Saturday night against Drake (8-4) and will be out to avenge the 57-55 upset achieved by Drake nine days ago at Des Moines.

Concordia (12-1) faces what Coach Pete Pederson has designated as one of the Preachers' toughest remaining tests—a Saturday night game at River Forest, Ill., against the Concordia Teachers College of that town.

Chuck Smith's Washington U. Bears (6-6) are to be busiest of all. Chicago Loyola (6-6) will play the Bears here tomorrow night. Washington will tackle Michigan (2-10) at Ann Arbor Thursday and then continue on a trip at Western Ontario Saturday.

Harris Is 11-5.

Harris Teachers College, following its 63-59 victory over Beebe branch of Arkansas State Saturday night, will go hunting for its ninth victory in the last 10 games when it entertains Illinois College at Hadley gym tomorrow. Harris has an 11-5 record altogether. It beat Illinois College in a December game at Jacksonville, 59-45.

In the Missouri Valley Conference since World War II, the only team that has managed to figure in the title picture with as many as three defeats was the championship Houston squad of 1955-56.

John Benington's Billikens have used up their quota of three defeats in five league games. Even if Bradley (5-1 in league play) and Cincinnati (4-1) weren't in the league, the Bills would have a formidable task.

Houston, which has a 3-2 record in conference action, will be at Wichita (2-3) in another important league game Saturday, and it is significant to note that Houston's Ted Luckenbill has returned to action.

The Cougars' consistent scorer was benched with an injury when Houston lost to St. Louis U. here by 76-46 on Jan. 7. Since then Houston has won three straight for an 8-5 over-all record. Saturday night, with Luckenbill adding 14 points to Gary Phillips's high of 38, Houston stopped the longest major college winning streak (11 in a row) when it beat Miami, Fla., 88-79.

That was at Miami. Earlier Houston had trimmed Oklahoma City at Houston, 80-73 and had won at Drake, 56-55, before the Billikens fell there.

In a pair of games on the weekend, Concordia's Tom Faszholz maintained a 20.1 scoring average as the Preachers won at Alton S.I.U., 55-52, and then beat Principia, 63-39.

Patton 40th in U.S.

As the W.U. Bears return to action, their sharpshooter Hal Patton finds himself ranked fortieth in the list of major college scorers with a 20.4 average.

Some of the midland region's more highly touted scorers are hitting low spots as the season wears on. Besides Oscar Robertson's low of 13 in a 61-58 Cincinnati victory over Duquesne Saturday, there was the 16-point total of Kansas U.'s Wayne Hightower. The Jayhawker soph now is averaging only 21.1 and Kansas is slipping in the Big Eight race.

Missouri, which already had slipped, bounced back with an 84-74 non-conference win over Tulsa and will be idle until a Feb. 1 game at Nebraska.

Illinois, resting in a third-place tie below Ohio State and Iowa in the Big Ten, will take its 10-3 over-all mark against Notre Dame (11-5) at Chicago Saturday.

A Big Ten feature of the week will be Michigan State at Ohio State Saturday afternoon (on television here over Channel 11). Another Saturday game of interest should be Bradley (13-1) at Marquette (9-4). At home Eddie Hickey's team has lost only to Detroit, 89-85.

Old Milwaukee and Falstaffs in Sweep

Although the Falstaff bowling team swept its series with Brunswick, it failed to gain on the team which took three games from Sports Bowl in the Southern Illinois BPA race.

Old Milwaukee maintained its four-game edge as it totaled 3048. Jim Vrenick had a 256-game in a 662 series and Jim Berry shot a high three of 697. The Falstaffs had high team single, 1058.

In other games, decided 2-1, Busch Bavarian beat Bowl Inn and Lewis and Clark won from the Carling Stags.

Don Fullmer Here for Bout With Akins

Don Fullmer, after being fogbound in Salt Lake City, Utah for several hours, arrived in St. Louis last night with his trainer, Angelo Curley. Manager Marv Jensen is due in today and Gene, the N.B.A. world's middleweight champion, is scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

Fullmer plans to work out this afternoon at the Lucky A.C. 4524A Easton ave., beginning about 1:30 or 2 o'clock.

Curley said that Don is in fine shape now for his bout against Virgil Akins Thursday and needs about two good hard days of sparring and regular gym work to reach the peak of condition. Fullmer, like Akins, plans to finish his heavy drills tomorrow.

Akins will also work out at the Lucky A.C. but will begin earlier than his opponent, starting at noon. Fullmer will be 21 years old next month.

Gene will work in his brother's corner for the fight. He said his older brother has been a big reason for his success in the pro ranks.

"Gene sees things during the fight that I miss," he said.

Tickets for the show at Kiel Auditorium are on sale in mezzanine 8 of the Arcade Building. Price range is from $1.50 to $5. The 3700 general admission seats ($1.50) will go on sale the day of the fight.

St. Agatha 7-1 Soccer Winner

St. Agatha, winner of a C.Y.C. Junior soccer semifinal at Public Schools Stadium, made a fine impression. Rougher Our Lady of Sorrows players were outclassed as Agatha ran up a 7-1 victory. The result sets up an interesting Junior C.Y.C. final between Agatha and Holy Rosary.

In another preliminary to the Kutis-Schwaben United States Open Cup game, Meramec I and Thurmers played a 1-1 draw, Tony Arias putting Thurmers into the lead and Guenther Reinholdt saving Meramec by scoring a penalty kick.

In the Khoury playoffs at Fairground Park, Hibernians and Feys tied, 1-1, in the senior division; Northside Wildcats defeated Fifth District, 2-1, in the Junior series and Carondelet tied Teamsters, 1-1, in the Bantam division.

These games were the first of a two-out-of-three championship series.

Vasco Gasperoni's goal was all St. Ambrose needed to shut out St. Engelbert in a C.Y.C. Senior league match at Carondelet.

Russ Ford, Ex-Yankee Star, Dead

ROCKINGHAM, N.C., Jan. 25 (UPI)—Russell W. Ford, 76-year-old former New York Yankees' pitching star, who perfected "the emery ball," died yesterday shortly after suffering a heart attack.

After breaking into the major leagues with the Yanks in 1909, he developed the "emery ball," which was similar to the spit ball. But when it was banned, his pitching efficiency went with it and then in 1915 his arm went lame. He drifted out of the majors after the 1915 season.

He pitched for the Yanks through 1913, compiling a 26-6 record in 1910 and 22-11 mark the following year. He went from New York to Buffalo of the Federal League where he won 21 games in 1914. In 1915 he had a 5-9 record for Buffalo.

Ford married Mary Hunter Bethel, who lived near here, and moved to Rockingham in 1923. He went into banking and became assistant cashier of the bank of Pee Dee before returning to New York in the 1930's as a draftsman for an engineering firm.

When his wife died three years ago, Ford returned to Rockingham, rented a hotel apartment and lived quietly in retirement.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Rockingham Episcopal Church. Cremation will follow the services.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Mary Nies of Chapel Hill, N. C., and Mrs. Jean Brennan of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; a brother, Eugene Ford, Dunedin, Fla., and one sister, Mrs. Marie Mayhew of Vancouver, B. C.

Wheelchair Bowlers In Charity Exhibition

The Rahen Wheelchair Bowlers defeated 14 teams in a 14-hour exhibition for charity at the Chase Club yesterday. Only a tie game at 617 marred the Wheelchair Bowlers performance. They were tied by the Airport Bowl Scoundrels. High for the Wheelchair bowlers was Matt Reinhold with 126, high for Airport Bowl was Joan Bittner, 132. The exhibition series will be continued on Feb. 6-8.

Williams Signs '60 Contract

BOSTON, Jan. 25 (UPI)—Slugger Ted Williams slipped into the Red Sox front office unnoticed today and signed his 1960 contract with General Manager Bucky Harris. He then slipped away before newsmen could interview him.

Terms of the contract, following a club custom, were not disclosed.

Haddix Signs His Contract With Pirates

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25 (UPI) — Southpaw Harvey Haddix, who pitched a perfect game for 12 innings against Milwaukee last season only to lose 1-0 in the thirteenth, signed his 1960 contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Haddix, 34, who was acquired by the Pirates from Cincinnati in January 1959, had a 12-12 record last season and a 3.13 earned run average.

It was on May 26, 1959, that "The Kitten" pitched 12 perfect innings at Milwaukee's County Stadium, while his Pirate teammates got 12 hits, but no runs. Thirty-six batters faced Haddix without reaching first base, a feat never before accomplished in major league baseball.

But in the thirteenth, the spell was broken by an error. Felix Mantilla hit a routine grounder to Third Baseman Don Hoak, who threw into the dirt at first base. For the first time a man was on first base.

Joe Adcock, who had struck out twice and grounded out twice, hit Haddix' second pitch—a high slider—over the fence in right center. It was the Braves' only hit of the game.

Milwaukee slugger EDDIE MATHEWS, the major league home run king of 1959, predicted another Braves' powerhouse at the seventh annual dinner of the local chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America. "We'll be up there again next year," Mathews said. "We had a couple of tough breaks last season and that's the only thing that beat us." . . . The Sacramento Solons of the Pacific Coast League have purchased J. W. PORTER, one-time St. Louis Brown and Cardinal, outright from Rochester of the International league. . . . He has been with six teams in the two major leagues.

Rough Road Ahead For Rough Riders

By Bob Ruhl

Bob Rogers, Roosevelt High basketball coach, hurried from person to person looking for a match Saturday afternoon minutes after his Rough Riders had gone to the final seconds to beat Sumner, 60-56, in an important Public High League game.

Holding an unlighted cigarette in one hand and using the other to express his excitement, Rogers said: "This is the kind of game that gives you heart failure."

And the soft-spoken coach was right. The red-and-white clad Riders clinched the victory with 14 seconds remaining on two free throws by 6-8 Gil Beckemeier. The triumph put Roosevelt in a tie for second place and gave it one of the best over-all records in the area, 10-2.

It was the second big victory for the aggressive South Siders in a week. Roosevelt had beaten Cleveland, then the league leader, 58-57, in a non-league meeting earlier.

"We're improving," Rogers said emphatically. "And we'll give somebody a lot of trouble before it's all over. I think our defense is the reason for our recent victories but we're also playing together much better."

But Rogers, like Roosevelt fans, is worried about a quirk that popped up twice last week. "Against Cleveland we led by 15 points in the third period and had to fight to win. We had a 16-point lead against Sumner and the same thing happened," he said.

"I don't know the reason for the sudden lapse," the coach said. "Maybe I should give my starters a few minutes rest in the third quarter."

The Rough Riders face an uphill battle in the league. "We've got a difficult schedule ahead," Rogers said. Roosevelt still must play current leader Vashon as well as Cleveland, Beaumont, McKinley, Southwest and O'Fallon Tech.

Two free throws apiece by Denny Rabbitt and George Fitzsimmons near the end of the game helped St. Louis U. High win at DuBourg yesterday, 61-56. The victory was the thirteenth in 16 games for the Junior Billikens, while DuBourg dropped to 13-6.

In an overtime game Saturday night at Cahokia visiting Madison won, 79-76, on two free throws by Sam Georgeff in the sudden death extra period. Ed Walker, with 34 points, paced the Trojans to their Midwestern Conference win.

Venturi Wins Crosby Golf With 286

Weather Worst in 10 Years

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 25 (AP)—After slogging through a wet but profitable victory in Bing Crosby's golfing show, Ken Venturi set his sights today on even higher stakes.

The slender San Franciscan collected $5350 in the crooner's nineteenth annual clambake, which ended yesterday in one of the worst storms ever to plague the event. Now the 28-year-old Venturi aims for the $100,000 Desert Classic at Palm Springs with its $12,000 top award two weeks hence.

He is skipping this week's $20,000 San Diego open, where many of the touring pros go from Pebble Beach, and will head instead to Palm Springs for some practice rounds.

The Crosby windup probably was enjoyed more by the national TV audience than by the 8000 who braved the elements here.

Venturi started in the wind and rain with a two-stroke edge over Gene Littler of San Diego. The test quickly turned into a wide open affair when Ken three-putted the third hole from five feet.

It wasn't until almost the finish, when the miserable playing weather had beaten back the field, that Venturi emerged victorious with a four round score of 286—the highest ever since the Crosby was extended to 72 holes three years ago.

Six bogeys and just one birdie gave him a five-over-par 77 over the wind lashed Pebble Beach layout, stretching 6700 yards along the Monterey Bay seacliffs.

But his 286 was three strokes better than the 289s with which former United States Open champion Julius Boros and boyish Tommy Jacobs of Arcadia, Calif., tied for second. Boros scored a fine 73 yesterday and Jacobs 75. No one equalled par 72.

Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver and Don January of Littleton, Colo., were four strokes behind Venturi in a tie at 290. Oliver finished with 76 and January 78.

Littler, who met disaster by hitting his tee shot over the seacliff on seven for a double bogey five and then ran into more trouble, ended up with a sorry 80 and a 291 total.

Venturi collected $4000 for leading the pros and added $1350 for his second-place finish in the pro-amateur feature. Venturi was paired with former National champion Harvie Ward of San Francisco.

Their 265 trailed pro Bud Ward of San Mateo, Calif., and amateur Bob Silvestri of San Francisco, event winners with 262. Silvestri helped Bud by 37 strokes to enable Ward to collect $2000.

Although elated with his first big victory since taking the Los Angeles and Chicago opens last year, Venturi said yesterday's playing conditions were the worst he encountered in his 10 years of Crosby opens.

"I thought I would never get around," he said.

er's biggest problem. His manager gets excited and pushes him along. And if the fighter is as willing as Turner, well, Jesse had pneumonia when he agreed to fight Floyd Patterson 10 days later in 1954. Patterson outweighed him about 10 pounds and had him down, but not out."

Couldn't Say 'No'

That year, '54, Turner fought 10 times. He met Chuck Coleman, Henry Henderson, Garth Panter, Eduardo Lausse, Patterson, Bobo Olson, Ted Olla, Paddy Young, Willie Troy and Ernie Durando. He won the first three bouts, drew with Olla and lost the rest.

"I remember," Brown said gravely, "that after Jesse beat Norman Hayes in '53, they put him in with Holly Mims only two weeks later. I dropped in to see him the day before the bout. He was still bathing his eyes to get the swelling down from the other fight."

Turner, a fighter who couldn't say "no," is gone now, but his boyhood friends of the ring would be happy if St. Louis fight fans and other sports followers would say "yes" to the benefit boxing card on behalf of a buddy's needy family.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 25 (AP)—Al Savas of the St. Louis Falstaff team fired a tournament record 1332 to win the twenty-seventh Oklahoma City men's singles bowling classic last night.

Bowling with Savas on the final squad, two other Falstaff bowlers finished second and third. Harry Smith, winner of the National All-Star tournament a week ago in Omaha, knocked over 1299 pins in six games and former All-Star champion Billy Welu got 1292.

Pastoris and Cocos Win, Set Up Title Game

The Pastories and the Cocos will meet for the championship in the final game of the St. Louis Independent Basketball League season next Sunday.

The title contest was set up yesterday when the Pastoris, champions a year ago, defeated Giesler-Jorgen, 74-70, and the Cocos knocked Muriel College out of a tie for the lead, 100-91. The co-leaders have 7-3 records.

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—National income in the United States in 1959 reached 400 billion dollars for the first time.

This was a preliminary estimate of the Office of Business Economics of the Department of Commerce made public yesterday.

The mark was nearly 10 per cent above the previous record of 366 billion dollars set in 1957 and matched in 1958.

The new record represented higher income in most of the country's major industries. Farm income was an exception. This was lower because of price drops, volume being substantially maintained.

Employe Earnings Lead.

The report said that nearly all types of labor and property earnings shared in the gain. The largest single increase was that of more than 20 billion in earnings of employes. This made up more than two-thirds of all national income last year, as it had in 1958.

The report noted that as 1959 opened the flow of income was already at a record high rate. A sharp advance in the spring quarter carried to above the 400 billion annual rate. In the third quarter the rate dropped about 6 billion because of the steel strike.

The report said that the direct flow of wages and other earnings to individuals was up about one per cent from the third quarter to the fourth. For the year as a whole the personal income total was up almost 6 per cent over 1958.

Rate of Profit.

Profits in the first half of last year averaged close to a 50 billion dollar annual rate before taxes. There was a sharp decline after midyear, to a rate of about 46 billion dollars in the third quarter. The over-all rate for the second half fell somewhat short of that attained in the earlier part of the year.

Profits showed an improvement over 1958, the report stated. Net income before taxes for the nine months ending last September was at an annual rate of $47½ billion—48½ billion counting inventory gains, which are excluded from the national income measure since they do not arise out of current production. Profits for the recession year 1958 as a whole were 36½ billion, or 37 billion including the inventory item.

After-tax net income showed a parallel improvement, moving up from 19 billion in 1958 to an average rate near 25 billion for most of last year.

NATURAL HISTORY COURSES REGISTRATION SATURDAY

Registration for the free Museum of Science and Natural History enrichment courses for children will be held from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday at the museum, 2 Oak Knoll Park, Clayton. The courses will be given on Saturdays for children in the fifth through ninth grades.

Children can register by presenting a parent's consent slip and an approval from the principal of their school. Registration will be accepted for periods starting Feb. 6 and April 2. The courses will be presented under the auspices of the National Science Foundation.

Courses for children in the fifth and sixth grades are "Your Earth and Beyond" from 9 to 11 a.m., Feb. 6 through March 26, and "Mysteries of Life" from 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m., April 2 through May 21. increased its training program for free world and bloc Communists," the report continues.

"Since 1956, for example, about 1000 trainees from 25 Communist parties in the free world have been trained in the U.S.S.R. at the high party school under the central committee."

Soviet diplomatic installations in the free world "frequently serve as a cover for specific technical co-ordination activities," the report said.

"Secret subsidies for the local Communist party are often channeled through the Soviet embassies or other diplomatic installations abroad, to be recovered by the local Communist party through clandestine methods.

"Soviet embassies are known to have arranged for the travel and training of free world Communists in the bloc, and to have investigated security and other problems in the local Communist party, presumably for the benefit of Moscow.

"Representatives of the Soviet intelligence services under diplomatic cover are known to have contacted local Communist party representatives for the co-ordination of espionage activities."

SURVEY SHOWS HOSPITAL JOBS OPEN FOR NEGROES

Negro youths have an opportunity to be employed as hospital technical and professional workers in St. Louis, a survey by the Urban League of St. Louis showed yesterday. The survey covered 38 hospitals in the city.

The most promising fields for Negroes, the survey revealed, are professional nurses, X-ray technicians and medical technicians. The study showed that there is a shortage in these three fields and in eight others, including medical record librarians, medical social workers, occupational therapists, physical therapists, nurse anesthetists, pharmacists and dietitians.

The survey, conducted by the league's vocational guidance counselor, Jean Thomas, suggested that high schools and junior colleges emphasize in their counseling the preliminary training necessary for such jobs. The shortages, however, do not have the direct effect of opening all doors to qualified Negroes, the study added.

200 OPPOSE INCORPORATION OF NEW TOWN NEAR ALTON

About 200 persons met yesterday at the Cottage Hills School, near Alton, to oppose a plan to incorporate a new town to be known as Price. It would be named after United States Representative Melvin Price (Dem), East St. Louis.

Donald Dale, spokesman for the group, said 555 residents of the area have signed petitions against incorporation. He said opposition had developed because of the prospect of paying more taxes.

The proposed town would include a portion of Cottage Hills and three subdivisions in Wood River Township. The area has no industry; there are only 12 small commercial businesses; and home owners would bear most of the tax burden, Dale said.

'CHUCK' BERRY IS INDICTED ON TWO FELONY CHARGES

Charles E. (Chuck) Berry, rock 'n' roll singer and guitar player, was indicted by the federal grand jury today on two felony charges.

The first indictment, reported to District Judge Roy W. Harper, charged the singer with transporting a woman across state lines for immoral purposes. There are two counts in the indictment. In the second indictment Berry is charged with transporting an automatic pistol interstate. Persons who have been convicted of crimes of violence are prohibited from shipping or carrying firearms across state lines. The indictment stated that Berry was convicted of first-degree robbery in Boone county in 1944.

Berry, who operates a tavern at 814 North Grand boulevard, has stated he lives at 3100 Whittier street.

AUTO, TRUCK COLLIDE ON BRIDGE, 2 HURT

Two persons were seriously injured today when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a tractor-trailer about midway up the east approach to MacArthur Bridge.

Miss Anita L. Spinelli, 18, 2929 Virginia avenue, St. Louis, suffered a neck injury and multiple lacerations of the face. Both White and Miss Spinelli were admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis.

Driver of the tractor-trailer was James H. Waters, 36, of Memphis, Tenn., police reported. Waters was not injured.

MANSLAUGHTER WARRANT ISSUED, AUTO VICTIM DIES

Earl W. Conell, 54 years old, 6626 Minnesota avenue, died yesterday at City Hospital of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile Saturday on Twelfth street south of Barton street. He was a machine operator at the National Lead Co.

Driver of the automobile which struck Conell was Leo V. Dierker, 8423 Alaska avenue. A warrant charging him with manslaughter was issued today by the Circuit Attorney's office.

Conell's son, Earl Leonard Conell, was fatally injured Christmas Eve, 1952, in an automobile collision here. He was 27.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Ruggeri, 5317 Wilson avenue, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary yesterday at their home. Ruggeri is 75 years old and his wife, Lena, is 73.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Paul J. Berra, whose husband is the chief clerk in the circuit attorney's office, and Mrs. John Correnti. Ruggeri was a stove maker for 30 years before his retirement four years ago.

WOMAN DIES IN HOUSE FIRE

Mrs. Lizzie Harris burned to death yesterday when fire destroyed her three-room frame home at 2115 Broadway, East St. Louis, police reported. Mrs. Harris, 80 years old, lived alone.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Loss was estimated at $800.

NEW WASHINGTON U. DENTISTRY BUILDING

A new $700,000 building will be constructed for the Washington University School of Dentistry, Chancellor Ethan A. H. Shepley announced today. It will be adjacent to the present school at 4559 Scott avenue.

Three floors of the new building will be occupied by new research laboratories with an estimated total cost of $400,000. The structure also will house a library and graduate teaching clinic.

Chancellor Shepley said a $200,000 grant has been offered by the United States Public Health Service for research facilities in the new building and two graduates of the School of Dentistry have anonymously contributed $25,000.

In addition, $175,000 will be available from the $500,000 given to the university recently by Frank J. Prince of New York, a director of the Universal Match Corp. of St. Louis. The balance of Prince's gift will be used to remodel Liggett Hall as the new home of the School of Business and Public Administration, it has been announced previously.

The government grant is contingent on the school raising the same amount, Shepley said. The additional $300,000 needed to complete the new building is being sought in order that ground for the project can be broken this spring, he added.

The dental school's building has had no additions since it was built in 1927, although its teaching staff and student body have increased, Shepley said.

The school's current problem includes more research, postgraduate and graduate studies and the library has more than trebled in stack size and use, the chancellor explained.

The first floor of the proposed building will house the library. The second floor will house a teaching clinic and the third floor will be used for dental operating rooms and graduate student laboratories.

The fourth floor will be assigned to the departments of anatomy-histology, pathology and bacteriology and associated research. The departments of physiological chemistry, physiology and pharmacology and research laboratories will be on the fifth floor.

Facilities necessary in research requiring freezing techniques and the handling of radioisotopes also will be on the fifth floor.

The sixth floor will be devoted primarily to the storage and care of animals. It also will have a seminar room, equipped with projection equipment, to accommodate 50 persons.

WOMAN REPORTS ASSAULT, EAST ST. LOUIS MAN HELD

A 21-year-old woman reported to police yesterday that she was criminally assaulted in an automobile in the 1200 block of Trendley avenue, East St. Louis.

Police arrested a man who said he was Robert Earl Wilson of the 1000 block of Market avenue, East St. Louis. The woman identified him as the man who had raped her. Wilson at first denied but then admitted the charge, police said.

The woman said she was walking to the house of a friend in the 1100 block of Bond avenue when the man suddenly came up and placed one hand over her mouth and twisted her right arm behind her back. She told police she escaped after he fell asleep in the car following the assault. Officers said they found him sleeping in the automobile. The woman was examined at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, and was reported suffering from shock.

HURT IN 20-FOOT FALL IN AREAWAY NEAR HOTEL

A man who said he is David McMillan, 22 years old, of New York City, suffered a fractured hip when he dropped 20 feet into an areaway at the rear of the Woodbine Hotel, 509 Chestnut street, early yesterday.

McMillan said he was without funds and had climbed over a wall at the rear of the hotel in search of a place to sleep. He called for help for about three hours before he was found by a hotel employe. He is in City Hospital.

SEEKING MEIER KAPITOWSKI

Mr. and Mrs. Meier Kapitowski are being sought by their daughter, Mrs. Dwosha Zlatkewicz, and their granddaughter, Mrs. Irena Piekiel, the Jewish Family Service Agency announced today.

The Kapitowskis are former residents of Czechonowitz, Poland. Anyone having information as to their whereabouts should call the agency at OLive 2-6850.

Trouble on the Mississippi

Vast sweep of ice on the Mississippi calls for teamwork to get barges headed upstream after passage through lock at Alton yesterday. The towboat Arthur J. Dyer (right) moved in to the assistance of the Stephen F. Austin as the Austin and its tow encountered heavy going on leaving the lock. Even powerful towboats were slowed almost to a standstill in the heavy flow of ice following last week's cold spell.

Encounter in Algeria

Flying squad of riot policemen (right) prepares to come to grips with demonstrators in course of the violence which raged through Algiers yesterday. Right wing political extremists touched off the explosive protest to President De Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria. Twenty-one persons were killed in the fighting before it subsided today.

Dog of the Week

A mighty mite holds forth as Dog of the Week at the Humane Society Shelter. As a pekingese he is small, but he has a sturdy approach to life, in keeping with his name, Butch. He is about 2 years old, has a black coat with white markings and is available for adoption on application in person at the shelter, 1210 Macklind avenue. However, because of his fondness for rough play he is regarded as not suitable for a home in which there are small children.

Vigil in Havana

Havana policeman does nothing to upset the calm of a Sunday afternoon while maintaining lonely vigil at entrance to the newspaper Avance. The newspaper was the most severe critic of Prime Minister Castro until it was confiscated last week. Its publisher, Jorge Zayas, now is in exile in the United States.

Water Wings

Only the wings keep private plane from plunging into the depths after its pilot erred in attempting a landing on the icy surface of Powers lake at Kenosha, Wis., yesterday. The pilot, Walter Hlavacek of Chicago, saw fishermen's shanties on the ice and assumed it would hold the plane. He managed to crawl from the cabin and swim to safety.

Clarissa Start

Always Plenty to Do in January

"MY, WHERE DOES THE TIME FLY?" I overheard one child say to another the other day.

He had been deluded by unseasonably warm weather into thinking spring was here and winter had gone. We know differently, but we also know that feeling of the fleetness of time.

CLARISSA START

Time doesn't always fly. Our minister just out of the hospital pointed out that while suburban holiday time had been zipping along for us, time had been crawling for him. There are all kinds of time. There are the days just before Christmas which creep for children and zoom for parents. There is the time when you're waiting for a bus or for water to boil and there's vacation time. And then there's January.

When it is ahead of us, January looks like a fine time. A month for rest, recuperation, and weaving together all the loose ends. Or, to be specific, knitting on that sweater started back in January 1954. It seems that each year I can hardly wait for those "long winter evenings" when I'm going to accomplish so much.

What I cannot figure out about the passage of time is this: How is it when January moves so slowly, those long winter evenings are so short?

Make over that black jersey blouse that was supposed to be low in the back and high in the front and somehow got its directions mixed.

Line the winter coat for which material was purchased in spring, cut in summer and put together in fall. Also fix over that tweed skirt on which waistband hooks were optimistically set over too far in anticipation of further loss of weight.

Melt down old holiday candles and make glamorous imaginative new ones for next year.

Finish "Only in America" and start another book so when people ask, "What have you been reading," you don't have to cheat by saying Harry Golden's book, hoping they'll think it's his second.

Lie flat on back on broken down love seat, indulging in garden catalogue daydreaming.

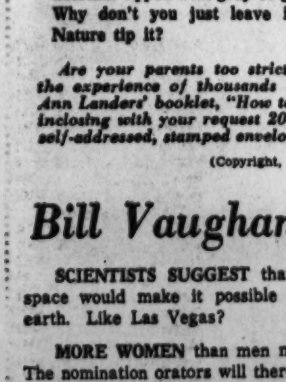

This last is the only plan for long winter evenings that has really materialized. And somehow as the man of the house carefully folds up the closet plans, consults the TV magazine, and tunes in a murder, the catalogue blurs, drowsiness overtakes me, and there goes another short winter evening. Time for bed to prepare for another of those long long winter days.

Ann Landers

Rent-Free Lodging

Dear Ann:

MY HUSBAND AND I MOVED into his mother's home when we married nine years ago. His mother has been employed all this time. We paid rent and took care of the utility bills.

ANN LANDERS

Now his mother is retiring from her job and wants to sell us her home. She thinks she should live with us for nothing. She'll be getting a pension so it's not as if she was going to be penniless.

My husband feels this is perfectly all right. I say it isn't fair. She has three daughters besides this son. DISGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: Your signature tells me more than your letter. More important than whether your mother-in-law should pay is the fact that you have a poor relationship with her and therefore you shouldn't live together under any conditions.

It would be far better if your mother-in-law could get an apartment alone. I recommend this even if it means all four children must pitch in to supplement the pension.

Dear Ann:

I'M 43 AND DON'T LOOK IT. My hair began to turn gray about five years ago so I tinted it a nice, natural-looking chestnut brown.

I've seen women who have tipped their dark hair with blond and gray streaks and I think it's very attractive. Now I'm seriously considering the tipping process, but I don't know whether to keep it chestnut and tip it gray, or would it be better to let it go gray and tip it chestnut? Can you help me with this problem? WORRY WART.

Dear Wart: If THIS is all you've got to worry about, consider yourself lucky. I can't imagine anything of less consequence than whether your hair is chestnut tipped with gray or gray tipped with chestnut. Why don't you just leave it alone and let Mother Nature tip it?

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experience of thousands of teen-agers if you read Ann Landers' booklet, "How to Live With Your Parents," inclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Teen-age 'Uniform'

By Reba and Bonnie Churchill

1. SWEATERS are a teen-ager's favorite "uniform." So select with care your cardigan wear, for there's a style for every figure. If you need to slim and trim, choose closely knit, dark colors. Contrasting trims should be placed vertically or diagonally, such as this Ethel Gellis design, which broadens shoulders and tapers waist.

2. IF YOU HAVE a model-perfect figure, like movie actress YVETTE MIMIEUX, then you can expand your style scope—shawl collars, bulkier weaves, hip-hugging lengths—all are within your fashion range. Wear such sportswear with a casual flair, not a crumpled abandon.

3. THE MORE ORNAMENTED sweaters are special campus favorites. YVETTE wears a taffy colored, pebble-weave slip-on. A bright spray of wool embroidery cascades across the shoulder, chest and arm for dramatic emphasis. The butter yellow and green trim is particularly ideal for the tall, willowy frame which can carry the bolder, more eye-catching styles.

A sensible diet plan is offered in our new eight-page pamphlet, "Diet." This booklet also contains illustrated exercises. For a copy, send 10c to "Youth Parade-Diet," in care of the Post-Dispatch.

Nelson Boys Are Up in the Air

By Joe Hyams

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25.

THERE IS one thing about those Nelson brothers, Ricky and David. They're always turning up in the most unlikely places and doing the most unlikely things for television stars. Last year Ricky got interested in bullfighting and sure enough, one night there he was on television in the ring with a bull. This year David played an aerialist in an M-G-M movie, "The Big Circus," became interested in the art, and this Wednesday night on ABC-TV, he and brother Ricky are going to put on a trapeze act on the show.

In case there are scoffers among you who think that all television and movie personalities use doubles in the risky parts of their business, this article is to let you know that it is really Ricky and David up there on the trapeze during their stunt. No doubles. In fact, for the show's teaser, David actually doubled an actor who plays a trapeze artist.

To find out just how all this activity came about in the first place I called on Ozzie Nelson the other day. The story is this:

"David worked in a film last summer with a fellow from Ringling Bros., named Del Graham," Ozzie recalled. "Del is part of an act called the Flying Viennas. David got so interested in trapeze work, he started to go out with the group and work with them as a catcher. He worked around Los Angeles at country fairs and circuses.

"Then he got Ricky interested in flying. Even though at his height, six feet one, Ricky is big for it, he comes in lightly. At first the boys did it for fun. They put up a tent near the one where we film the show and worked out every spare minute.

"They did so well at it that we decided to do a show around them. In the show there is not one single foot when the boys use doubles. We used three cameras so that we convince any Doubting Thomases that it is really them up there.

"I was happy they lost interest in bullfighting, I can tell you that," he explained. "One thing about this aerial work, they learned it the right way—step by step and from professionals. But Harriet and I went up to watch David in the local circus and the first time he appeared, my knees turned to jelly and my hands began to perspire."

Ozzie, who writes all the Nelson family shows, said he was able to work the boys' appearance on the trapeze into a dream sequence. "It was the only way we could make it believable in this situation," he said. "In the show David is working in a law office and goes to the circus to serve a summons. He meets a fellow on the flying trapeze who starts to show him some tricks. He gets to daydreaming—and that's the gimmick. It's the same as last year when Ricky dreamed he was in the bull arena."

In order to film the show properly it was necessary to set up a complete circus tent with all the paraphernalia. It took two days just to film the dream sequence alone, which according to Ozzie makes this just about the most expensive show in the eight-year history of the series.

One place where they were able to save money was in not needing doubles. When I asked Ozzie a question about "the high wire," he corrected me immediately. "It's not a high wire," he said, "it's a flying trapeze. I keep falling into word traps all the time, but the boys have educated me."

In the teaser, Rick does a somersault to David who is the catcher, and follows up with a pirouette back to the fly bar. David developed a trick of his own. He swings out to catch a bar implanted in the ceiling of the tent which has a breakaway string. When he grabs the bar, it falls down and he swings over to his position. All this is done 45 feet above the net. The teaser was filmed some weeks before the show will be seen and the boys are already unhappy with it: They have developed some new tricks since then.

Since the boys are hot in show business anyway, the offers have been pouring in for them to do trapeze acts at country fairs and other places. Ozzie said they received a fabulous offer to appear in the circus and there is a chance they may do something of the sort.

Meanwhile, Ozzie doesn't know what the boys will be up to next but he hopes it will be something not too dangerous that can be worked into the show. "By working their interests into the show we not only keep the boys interested and happy with their work, we are also able to come up with something fresh for audiences," he said, adding, "It works out pretty good for us, as well as the audience."

Today's Brain Game

New Products For the Home

By Lawrence Galton

HOT AIR WITH COMFORT: An inexpensive new hot air furnace humidifier is designed to provide a 30 to 40 per cent relative humidity that should make the home more comfortable and healthful through the winter and help avoid drying out of wooden furniture and loosening of glued joints. Additionally, by increasing humidity so lower temperatures are more comfortable, it can save at least 10 per cent a year on fuel costs, claims the maker. Requiring no electrical connections and readily installed with simple tools, humidifier has belts that carry a thin film of water into the hot air stream. Silent and automatic in operation, it works only when the furnace is delivering hot air to the duct system.

ALL SURFACE PAINT: A new paint, good for both interior and exterior use on practically any surface and said to last five years, is on the market. Recommended for wood, brick, block, plaster, asbestos siding, stucco, tin, steel, iron, aluminum, and asphalt shingles, it comes in 10 colors, dries in 20 minutes to a satin finish, repels water. It is odorless, non-flammable, leaves no lap marks, and you can clean brushes in plain water. The paint's stability and resistance to weathering are said to make it well-suited even for use on boats. Exposure to salt air is said to have no effect.

If you'd like further information on any of the above items, write Lawrence Galton in care of the Post-Dispatch, identifying item, giving date of appearance and Inclosing stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Weegee's Eye-View Of Parisian Sights

PARIS, Jan. 25.

"GOOD MORNING," the man said. "I am Weegee, the world's greatest photographer."

We know some photographers who would dispute the statement, but most of them agree that Weegee is one of the top men in his business and has made a great contribution to creative photography.

WEEGEE

"I hate the word creative," he said. "I am a human photographer. I am master of the monster. I dominate the machine—it doesn't dominate me."

"That's swell," we said. "What did you have on your mind?"

"I've come to Paris to do a book called 'The Naked Paris.' It will be a follow-up on my book on Manhattan. 'The Naked City.' Don't worry. It's going to be in good taste. All my books are in good taste."

"That's fine," we said.

Weegee said he liked Paris. "I hated California. Every morning I'd wake up and look at trees. Who wants to look at trees? I want to look at pastrami parlors and Chinese laundries and movie theaters. I used to go to the newsreels in California and cry when I saw pictures of New York. But in Paris I don't miss New York. I haven't been to the newsreels once."

Weegee started his career as a press photographer covering fires and murders in New York. "I was the official photographer for Murder, Inc.," he said. "I took their pictures when they were picked up and when they were bumped off. The mobsters trusted me because they knew if they were wiped out I could be trusted to take a picture of them from the best angle.

"I always tried to avoid too much blood in my pictures. If you get too much blood in a news photo they have to touch it up. I was also great at fires."

But Weegee said he got tired of taking pictures of dead gangsters in gutters and so he escaped in photography to a world of fantasy. He developed lenses which showed people in photocaricature, designs, patterns, abstracts and kaleidoscopes. He invented techniques in photography, gave up his news job, and devoted his time to books, commercial advertising, and Hollywood.

He said he came to Paris because he feels the French are more open to new ideas than people in the United States.

"What sort of ideas?" we asked him.

"For one thing, I want to show how things could look through the eyes of a cow. I have found some French people who are interested."

"How do things look through the eyes of a cow?"

"I imagine the same as they look through the eyes of a dog," he said.

"We don't have a dog. How do things look through the eyes of a dog?"

"Nobody really knows," Weegee said. "Therefore I can take some liberties. I think I'll do it one-dimension."

Weegee said he also wanted to photograph Brigitte Bardot as she has never been photographed before.

"Why don't you photograph her as she would look through the eyes of a cow?" we suggested.

"No," he said, "I think the best way to photograph Brigitte Bardot is to add a dimension, not take one away."

Another project Weegee has in mind is to go into the Louvre and "photograph it as it has never been photographed before. I want to show the Mona Lisa talking."

Weegee also plans to go over to the Rodin Museum and add a couple of heads to "The Thinker."

Weegee says he's soon going to market lenses that people can put on their cameras that will distort subjects and enable anyone to do trick photography. "Pretty soon," he said, "everyone will be making pictures like Weegee. People will be able to make caricatures of each other. This will lead to quarrels and friction and everyone will be talking about me."

"But won't that make it harder for you to make a living?"

"I'm experimenting with new things all the time. I have a feeling that it's possible to photograph things that have already happened in the past. There's an entire new field here and I want to investigate it."

Weegee claims to have psychic powers. It's very helpful in his work.

GROUCHO AND ME

The Marx Family Gold Rush

Eighth of a series based on the book, "Groucho and Me," by Groucho Marx, published by Bernard Geis Associates.

AT THE END of eight years in Great Neck, N.Y., my wife, the children and I moved to California, along with a large assortment of related Marxes of various sizes, shapes and sexes. "Animal Crackers" had closed after a two-year run on Broadway. The reason of our family gold rush to the West was a picture contract that was balm to the wounds of the market crash.

We piled aboard the Santa Fe and set off to stake a tentative claim in movieland. The year was 1931. When we stepped off the train at Los Angeles the air was sweet with a heavy blend of orange and lemon blossoms. The rush to California had not yet begun and Hollywood still had that quiet, pastoral air about it.

The talkies had just intruded on the movie industry and scared the hell out of most of its members. Taxes were still nominal, and Hollywood's kings and queens lived far more luxuriously than most of the reigning families in Europe. Most of the stars tossed their money around as though they manufactured it themselves in the cellar. They went in for solid gold bathtubs, chauffeur-driven Rolls Royces, champagne for breakfast and caviar every 15 minutes. It was the kind of world that today only exists in the pages of movie magazines and for the sons of a few Latin American dictators.

This was a Never Never Land that hadn't been paralleled since the red-hot days of Rome. The parties were lush, and so were most of the guests. No party was considered a success unless a number of the survivors were tossed into the swimming pool in their evening clothes, and I don't mean pajamas.

Today's movie star is of a different breed. He's as well insulated against financial misfortune as the Rockefeller Foundation. He has an agent, a tax expert, a lawyer and a business manager. If he behaves himself, he is allowed to have as much as $50 a week spending money. A good many of them are in oil, cattle and real estate. I know two stars who own a sheep ranch in Australia. One of my friends owns a bowling alley.

Our first movie was to be "Cocoanuts." Soon after we arrived I was called into a conference and informed that I would have to discard the black, painted mustache. When I asked why, they explained, "Well, nobody's ever worn a black painted mustache on the screen. The audience isn't accustomed to anything as phony as that and just won't believe it."

"The audience doesn't believe us, anyhow," I answered. "All they do is laugh at us and, after all, isn't that what we're getting paid for?"

Talk about sticklers for tradition. We finally had to compromise with them. We agreed to shoot an experimental scene with the painted mustache and run it at a local theater. The reaction was the same as it had been at the Fifth Avenue theater back in our vaudeville days. The audience didn't seem to care what kind of a mustache I wore so long as the jokes were funny.

On the stage I frequently stepped out of character and spoke directly to the audience. After the first day's shooting on "Cocoanuts," the producer (who has since retired from the movies for the good of the industry) said, "Groucho, you can't step out of character and talk to the audience."

Like all people who are glued to tradition, he was wrong. I spoke to them in every picture I appeared in. (Sometime they answered back. This I found rather disconcerting.) Nevertheless the movie industry went on just the same, turning out its share of good and bad pictures, and nobody seemed to care whether I stepped out of character.

To get about 20 years ahead of my story, I had somewhat the same experience when "You Bet Your Life" was first going to go on television, after having been a radio show for several seasons. The first thing they asked me was how I would dress. I told them I would wear a regular suit of clothes, sit on a high stool and question people about their lives just as I had been doing on radio.

A blood brother of all the other obstructionists bobbed up and said, "Mr. Marx, you realize this isn't radio. This is television, and television is just the movies on a smaller screen. You've got to give them action. You can't just sit there like a bump on a log." (This chap was a real wit.) "You've got to give them that funny walk and leap around the stage," he insisted.

"Rubbish," I said.

"Rubbish! Rubbish!" he exclaimed, as he jumped up and down. "What kind of an answer is that?"

"Not a very good one," I conceded, "but then you're no Ring Lardner yourself."

"You mean you're just going to sit on a stool and not move at all?" he demanded.

"Not a muscle," I replied.

"But you can't do that," he insisted.

"Now listen, you Brooks Brothers radical," I said. "I saw Sam Levenson the other night on TV. He wore a regular suit of clothes, stood in one spot and delivered a monologue. And when he finished, the audience yelled for more."

He had no answer to that. He just reached into his charcoal-gray coat pocket, pulled out two dry martinis, drained them and silently walked away, a beaten man.

A word about sponsors. I have heard all of the tales and most of the jokes about interference and how some of their wives are the dominant voice in deciding what goes into a show. This may have been true during the early days of radio and TV but most of the current sponsors are mighty sharp cookies. If the show's ratings are high enough, you never hear from them. If the show doesn't succeed after a reasonable length of time—let's say one week—it's goodby Charlie.

North's double says: "Partner, I have good support for each of the unbid suits and I am necessarily short in the enemy's suit. Bid your best suit and don't worry."

The double should promise at least 13 points (high cards plus distribution) in support of partner's best suit. The strength may run up to slightly more than 20 points.

South has a very weak hand and must make a simple (non-jump) response. It would not be criminal to bid one diamond, but South's preferred response is one spade.

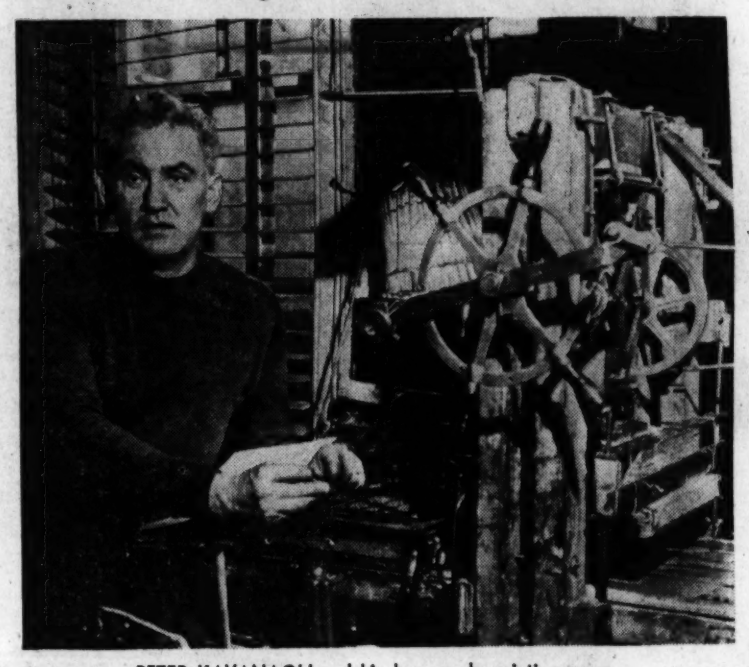

The takeout double is usually meant as a move in the direction of game and therefore should promise good support for at least one major suit. When the responder has a choice, therefore, he should go slightly out of his way to bid a major rather than a minor suit.

North passes the response of one spade. He knows that the simple response shows 0 to 8 points.

North counts his own points: 4 for the ace, 3 for each king, 2 for the queen, and 1 for each jack. The total is 14 points in high cards. He adds 1 point for the doubleton, for a total value of 15 points. Even if South has 7 or 8 points, the combined count is not enough for game.

Even though the bidding continues, North and South know they are not heading toward game. They stop at a safe and sane part score in spades. South should win nine tricks, losing one spade, one diamond and two clubs.

Scholar Defies Ban on Letters

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP).

AN IRISH SCHOLAR with a good memory and a homemade printing press has become a one-man headache for the big New York Public Library.

The scholar, Peter Kavanagh, who holds a doctorate from Trinity College, Dublin, has published a volume of excerpts from the correspondence of John Quinn, early American patron of artists and writers—despite a ban which will not expire until 1988.

Day after day, for weeks, Kavanagh went to the manuscript room of the main library building at Fifth avenue and Forty-second street and read letters written by Quinn, who became a successful New York lawyer, and letters to Quinn by such writers as Joseph Conrad, T. S. Eliot, A. E. Housman, James Joyce and Lady Gregory.

To gain access to contents of the manuscript room, Kavanagh signed a form agreeing not to copy or publish anything contained in "said correspondence."

Quinn was 55 years old when he died in 1924. He was born in Tiffin, O. During his lifetime he aided artists and writers whose work was then being condemned by established art and literary critics.

The years proved that Quinn's solo judgment was top-grade. In his correspondence also are letters from such artists as Jacob Epstein, John B. Yeats, Andre Dunoyer de Segonzac, Augustus Saint-Gaudens, Augustus John and Georges Rouault.

A provision of Quinn's will stipulated that all letters be made available for inspection by scholars but that they must not be copied or published for 50 years, beginning Jan. 2, 1938.

Kavanagh set down, in note books what he memorized in the manuscript room and compiled enough material for a 52-page volume. He explains his actions thus:

"Quinn is the absolute key to the twentieth century art and literature, as far as one man can be a key. Yet he's totally forgotten . . .

"If he had not wanted these letters to be published he would have had them locked up for 50 years. I conclude that he must have left a loophole—he was a lawyer—for such a person as myself."

Kavanagh admits that his excerpts are not verbatim, but he insists they come very close to it.

Kavanagh was the author of "The Story of the Abbey Theatre," published in 1950. He is the brother of Irish poet Patrick Kavanagh.

Asked his age, Kavanagh termed it, in his broad brogue, "An unnecessary piece of information. Just say I'm in my early middle age," he said.

Kavanagh set up his printing press in his two-room Manhattan flat. With a sewing machine for a base, the hand-made press parts include a ship's wheel, a huge automobile jack, strips of tin from gasoline cans, the hinges of a typewriter case and a section of a broom handle.

Kavanagh says it took three hours to set one page, and another two hours to lock the type form, read proof and make corrections.

He's run off enough for a limited edition of 100 numbered copies, and says he scrambled the type so no more copies can be available.

The library has directed its counsel to "proceed vigorously" against Kavanagh, who says he will offer his edition only to libraries and recognized collectors—at $35 a copy. To emphasize he meant just that, Kavanagh added: "I'd burn it before I'd send it out to anyone I didn't like."

"Dear Dr. Molner:

"COULD RHEUMATIC FEVER affect any other part of the body besides the heart? W.W."

Yes. The outer lining of the heart, the brain (producing St. Vitus dance, although this seems to clear up after a few years) or the kidneys. However, none of these is long-lasting, as is damage to the valves of the heart.

NOTE TO I.S.: Bruising is not an early sign of leukemia. By the time that occurs (or, more precisely, hemorrhaging) other signs have become unmistakably clear. So put at least that one worry out of your mind.

"Dear Dr. Molner:

"IS A BLOOD CLOT ever completely dissolved? Does it ever build up again? In what time, if it does? R.J.W."

Yes, the clot may dissolve—or rather, break up first, and subsequently be absorbed. Another may or may not build up again, but there is no way of calculating the time. However, a clot doesn't "build up" at some particular point. It forms, moves along in the blood stream and occasionally may lodge at some narrowed point.

"Dear Dr. Molner:

"WHY SHOULD A CHILD (now 7) have abnormally dry skin from birth? No 'outside' treatment helps. He is small for his age. Could it be a thyroid condition? H.G."

One possibility could be a condition called ichtyosis, which can appear shortly after birth. The cause is not known, and treatment not too successful. The condition improves in summer and worsens in winter. It seems doubtful that thyroid would be at fault in this case—your doctor should be the judge. Have you consulted a skin specialist?

NOTE TO "ICE-BOX RAIDER": An average chicken leg is around 90 calories; an average piece of pie from 350 to nearly 600 calories. You figure it out!

"Dear Dr. Molner:

Frequently, yes. However, a kidney stone sufficient to cause bleeding would be painful. Infection or some other disease of the kidneys, bladder or ureters would be more likely. In any event, there should be no delay in examination to find out the cause.

Dr. Molner welcomes reader mail but, due to the volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

A Bit of Paris for Italian Fashions

By Eugenia Sheppard

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

FLORENCE, Italy, Jan. 25.

IRENE GALITZINE'S collection was more like Paris than the Pitti Palace. The loose, slim, lady-like clothes made some of the other creations shown last week look like costumes from "The Student Prince."

Somehow or other attractive Galitzine, whose boutique collection made such a hit earlier in the week, persuaded the runway models to shed the old beat-up satin pumps they had been wearing even with tweeds and got them into good shoes.

GALITZINE'S collections certainly recalls, and sometimes a little too closely, those two Paris greats of fashion, Balenciaga and Givenchy. It goes without saying that it follows the less-fitted silhouette that is consistently dear to the press and apparently a pain in the neck to American buyers, whether at home or abroad.

Galitzine's spring coats are finger tip or longer but never full length. They have no collars and deep hemlines, sometimes contrasting or just marked by a row of fabric. Her hats with high, round crowns are woven of strips of basket straw or twigs of willow.

Galitzine's suit jackets are long and concave under the bosom with unfitted backs. Sometimes they are cut away in front to show wide, soft belts or wide sashes with fringed ends loosely pulled through. One of the favorite suits is a white one outlined in white wool braid.

MOST of the collection is black or white. The only colors she really likes are mauvey blue and a blazing orange, used in prints, sashes or accessories.

Her evening dresses are short, and even the long ones are ankle length and above.

WOMEN

Miss West Plans Wedding for Feb. 3

By Margaret Allen Ruhl

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Rebekah Semple West to Donald Stephen Wohltman. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Sheila Horton West, who lives at St. Jean Cap-Ferrat in the south of France, and Allen Tarwater West Jr., of St. Louis. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Allen T. West Sr., of the Park Plaza Hotel, with whom she spends most of her time. Her fiance is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph C. Wohltman, 536 Overhill drive, University City.

The wedding will take place at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 3, in Mrs. West's apartment at the Park Plaza. The officiating minister will be the Rev. Dr. Paul Simpson McElroy, pastor of First Congregational Church. Guests will be limited to members of the two families.

Miss West's cousin, Mrs. Frank Lee Zingale (Barbara Whittemore) will be matron of honor and Miss Carolyn Lee Niedringhaus is to be bridesmaid. Randolph Churchill Wohltman Jr., will be best man for his brother and Elias S. Gatch II is to be the usher. An hour after the ceremony Miss West's grandmother will give a reception at St. Louis Country Club.

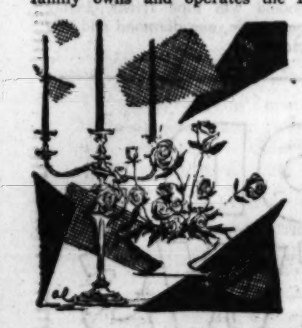

Mr. Wohltman will take his bride south for their honeymoon. They will occupy an apartment at 846 North McKnight road, University City.

Miss West attended Marymount School, Los Angeles, and Cours Maintenon, Cannes, France. Last year she studied at the University of Madrid in Spain. She made her debut in June 1958 at a dance given by Mrs. West at St. Louis Country Club.

Mr. Wohltman is a graduate of St. Louis Country Day School and Yale University, 1950. His undergraduate club at Yale was Fence. In St. Louis he belongs to St. Louis Country, University and Racquet Clubs.

Special Program at Woman's Club.

A SPECIAL PROGRAM will be given next Thursday after luncheon at the St. Louis Woman's Club by Barry Langford of London, an expert on silver. Mr. Langford, whose family owns and operates the Langford Silver Vaults and Galleries of London, will speak on antique and modern silver; Sheffield and modern plate; how to distinguish the genuine from the fake, and how to use silver to decorate the home. He will use both slides and exhibits to illustrate his talk. Mrs. William R. Gentry Jr., chairman of the special program committee, will introduce Mr. Langford.

Reservations have been made by Mrs. Arden J. Mummert, club president; Mrs. Gentry, Miss Alice Bell, Mrs. Edwin H. Bosse, Mrs. Howard R. Buermann, Mrs. Franklin J. Cornwell, Mrs. John H. Cunningham Jr., Mrs. James C. Doneghy, Mrs. Edgar W. Ellerman, Mrs. Eugene A. Fusz, Mrs. Oscar D. Guth, Miss Elizabeth Hays, Mrs. Edward J. Hopkins, Mrs. Clarence H. Howard Jr., Mrs. Fred Hume, Mrs. Harrison H. Johnson Jr., Mrs. Vincent L. Jones, Mrs. Milton G. Kahle, Mrs. John A. Latzer, Mrs. James Macdonald, Mrs. Walter R. Mayne, Mrs. R. H. McRoberts, Mrs. Garret F. Meyer, Mrs. H. Vester Mullins, Mrs. Cleveland A. Newton, Mrs. Frederick A. Schultz, Mrs. George Watson Skinner, Mrs. Louis M. Stewart, Mrs. W. Clinton Taylor and Mrs. Alfred G. White.

MISS ELIZABETH SEMPLE CUNLIFF, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Cunliff, 215 Oakwood avenue, Webster Groves, will complete her mid-term semester examinations at Randolph Macon Women's College, Lynchburg, Va., this week. She will spend the four-day recess with friends in Williamsburg, Va., and will attend a dance at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., Saturday evening. Miss Cunliff is a sophomore.

Miss Snyders to Be Married Saturday

MISS MARY ANN SNYDERS will become the bride of John Stanley Esson III Saturday at Our Lady of Lourdes Church in University City. The Rev. Joseph M. O'Brien will officiate at the morning ceremony. Afterward, the prospective bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Snyders, 7228 Westmoreland drive, University City, will give the reception at Norwood Hills Country Club.

MRS. HANNEGAN . . .
To Be Matron of Honor.

Miss Dorothy Jane Snyders will serve as her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. William P. Hannegan (Lucia McClellan) will be matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Ann Guhman, Mrs. Leo H. Snyders, the prospective bride's sister-in-law; Mrs. Earl M. Morgan, and Mrs. John A. Murphy Jr. (Mary Beth Devine).

Mr. Esson, son of Mrs. J. Stanley Esson, 7310 Lindell boulevard, University City, and the late Mr. Esson, will have T. Paul Gleeson, his cousin, as best man. Ushers will be John J. Romero, Chester E. O'Leary, George I. Kennedy, Glen Hathaway and the prospective bride's two brothers, Leo H. and Dr. Robert V. Snyders. Two other brothers, Edward A. and John P. Snyders, will seat the guests. Another brother, William J. Snyders, a Jesuit scholastic, will be present for the ceremony.

Miss Dorothy Jean Snyders will be hostess at the spinster dinner tomorrow evening at Schneithorst's Restaurant. Mrs. Esson will give the rehearsal dinner at the home of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. T. Paul Gleeson, 7053 Lindell boulevard, University City.

Spring Concert in February.

THE SPRING CONCERT to be sponsored by the National Society of Arts and Letters will take place at 8:30 o'clock the night of Feb. 24 in the Art Museum Auditorium.

Miss Ilona Kombrink, a former St. Louisan who is now leading soprano of the New York City Center Opera Company, will sing. Two years ago Miss Kombrink was winner of the national Metropolitan Opera audition. She has sung with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Kombrink will be accompanied by Miss Dorothy Ziegler, musical director for the St. Louis Grand Opera Guild and a member of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Martha Carr's OPINION

Wife Bitten by the Phone Bug

Dear Martha:

HOW CAN YOU KEEP a wife from talking on the telephone so much? Mine starts the minute I leave home in the morning and doesn't quit until I come home at night. Sometimes the house isn't cleaned, the dishes aren't washed or the beds made. But she knows all the neighborhood gossip, and has dished a lot of it out herself. I have tried to call her several times on important matters and the line is always busy. What can I do to stop this?

YAK YAK'S HUSBAND.

Tell her you're ringing the bell on this foolishness right away. If she thinks idle gossip is more important than housework, it's time someone changed her mind. No one would begrudge a woman time for a friendly telephone visit during the day, but this is ridiculous. If she missed some exciting dinner dates because you couldn't get through on the line to tell her to get dressed to go out, she might think twice before keeping that receiver off the hook. Gossiping about the neighbors is bad enough but this is compounding the felony.

Dear Martha:

MY HUSBAND considers himself second only to Thomas A. Edison as an inventor. He spends every evening out in the garage workshop with some harebrained idea which has never brought him one cent of money in royalties or sales. In fact, I don't know what he would do with himself if he suddenly stumbled on some idea that was practical and would sell. Don't you think he should give some of this time to his family? I'm getting sick and tired of staying alone in the house all the time and never having any friends in. What's the answer, Martha? INVENTOR'S WIDOW.

It's better to have a happy husband out in the garage than a sorehead bear in the house. Let him enjoy himself and stop downgrading his ideas. Maybe he's one of those who finds satisfaction in the work itself, regardless of results. I do think, however, you can ask him to close up shop long enough to have some friends in. See if you can't negotiate a deal.

IN ANSWER TO S.W.: You neglected to write your name and address on your stamped envelope. I'll be glad to send information if you'll write me again.

Are you lonely and seeking new friends? Martha Carr's free list of clubs will guide you into congenial groups. One list, for those over 50, gives information on public transportation to each club meeting place. For your free copy for senior citizen clubs or for Martha Carr's Hi Neighbor leaflet (or both) write today to Martha Carr at the Post-Dispatch. Please inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Eleanor Roosevelt

Nuclear Test Talks

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.

I AM BECOMING considerably troubled about the attitude of our government on nuclear testing.

Disarmament negotiations have resumed in Geneva, and I feel sure that our representative, James J. Wadsworth, is genuinely hoping for a treaty. But I am not at all sure that the Pentagon and the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington are not going to make it impossible to come to an agreement on one.

Granted, we do not have a device which under all circumstances would insure the discovery of an atomic explosion anywhere, even underground. But the chances are that before long we may perfect such a device.

In the meantime, we know well that a continuation of nuclear tests is a danger that may harm the whole human race. There are differences concerning the exact amount of harm they can cause, but this is only a question of degree. So whatever we do, we run a risk. I personally think, therefore, that we should find a way to write a nuclear disarmament treaty with the Soviet Union now. After all, continuation of tests is as much a menace to the Soviet people as to ours, so there is a real motive for both sides living up to such a treaty.

If you believe these tests should be stopped, I think you should let your representatives in Washington, from the President on down, know how you feel.

THE PRESIDENT'S Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped has enlisted the help of the nation's top cartoonists in a campaign that should be as successful as other Government service campaigns they have aided.

Persons who read the comic strips and cartoons even more closely than other material in newspapers and magazines will now become conscious of employment opportunities for the physically handicapped, and I think we should be grateful for the cartoonists' help.

Chairman of the committee is Allen Saunders of Publishers Syndicate. He has gathered to help him such able cartoonists as Milton Caniff of the Chicago Sun-Times and King Features Syndicates, Charles Schulz and Al Capp of United Features Syndicate, Chic Young and Mort Walker of King, Chester Gould of the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Scott Long, Earl D. Warren and Walter Lister.

With all this capable help, none of us should be left without the knowledge that handicapped persons need employment and that there are jobs they can fill.

Sheilah Graham

Filmland Gossip

MARLON BRANDO wanted a million dollars to co-star with Elizabeth Taylor in Walter Wanger's "Cleopatra." Elizabeth is getting a million, and two million for two stars is just too much. But what a combination!

EDDIE ALBERT'S WIFE, Margo, is closing their California home and jetting to Manhattan with son Eddie Jr., while Eddie does his three-month stint in "The Music Man." . . . Surprising what a bit of publicity will do. Edd (Kookie) Byrnes in "77 Sunset Strip" has the most telephone numbers of any bachelor his age and weight in Hollywood. It isn't that the girls love him so much as the fact that when Kookie dates them in public, his publicity brushes off on the gal.

The man who directed the magnificent chariot race in "Ben Hur" which some critics say is worth the price of admission alone, is Andrew Marton, and I'm happy to give him credit here. Andy is now filming the George Nader TV series, "Man and the Challenge"—"just one a week, very simple."

Multiple-Choice Neurosis

Mrs. Richard Dunlop of Kirkwood is the mother of three sons. Her husband is a chemical engineer at Monsanto Chemical Co.

By Alice W Dunlop

I HAVE a layman's theory based on personal experience that there is a definite connection between the flip-top box and the flipped lid — between the sheer, semi-sheer seamless and the sick psyche.

I used to buy a pack of cigarettes knowing nothing but the brand name. Today I go into a store and ask for a package of brand X:

"Do you want the regular or king size?" The clerk makes no move towards the rows of packages under the counter.

"Regular, please."

"Tipped or plain?"

"Filter tip, I guess." I open my bag. I am ready to pay and leave, but still she is not reaching under the counter.

"Menthol or straight?"

"Straight." And then she gives me the punch line—

"Soft pack or flip-top crush-proof box?"

AS I LEAVE with my soft pack—and I should have bought a carton to avoid another quiz session—I have begun to sweat. I need a deodorant but cream or liquid, tube or jar, roll top or squeeze bottle?

My hosiery size, the color, and the desire for glamour or service was all I used to confide to the saleslady behind the hosiery counter. Not any more.

"I want some hosiery size 10½, sheer, in a shade that will look well with black."

"Seamless or full fashioned?"

"Seamless."

"Heel and toe in, heel and toe out, toe in and no heel, or barefoot?"

Barefoot would be simplest and I'd settle for it if this wasn't mid-winter. "No heel but with the toe."

"Average, short, or long?"

"Average."

"Heavy thigh, slim thigh, or average?"

"Why, I don't know"—

She gives me a long penetrating stare and decides my thighs are average.

"Now as to color. You said something to wear with black. We have these charts of color co-ordinated hose. What else will you wear with them besides black? This is for black, greens and blues. This goes well with blacks, grays and reds—"

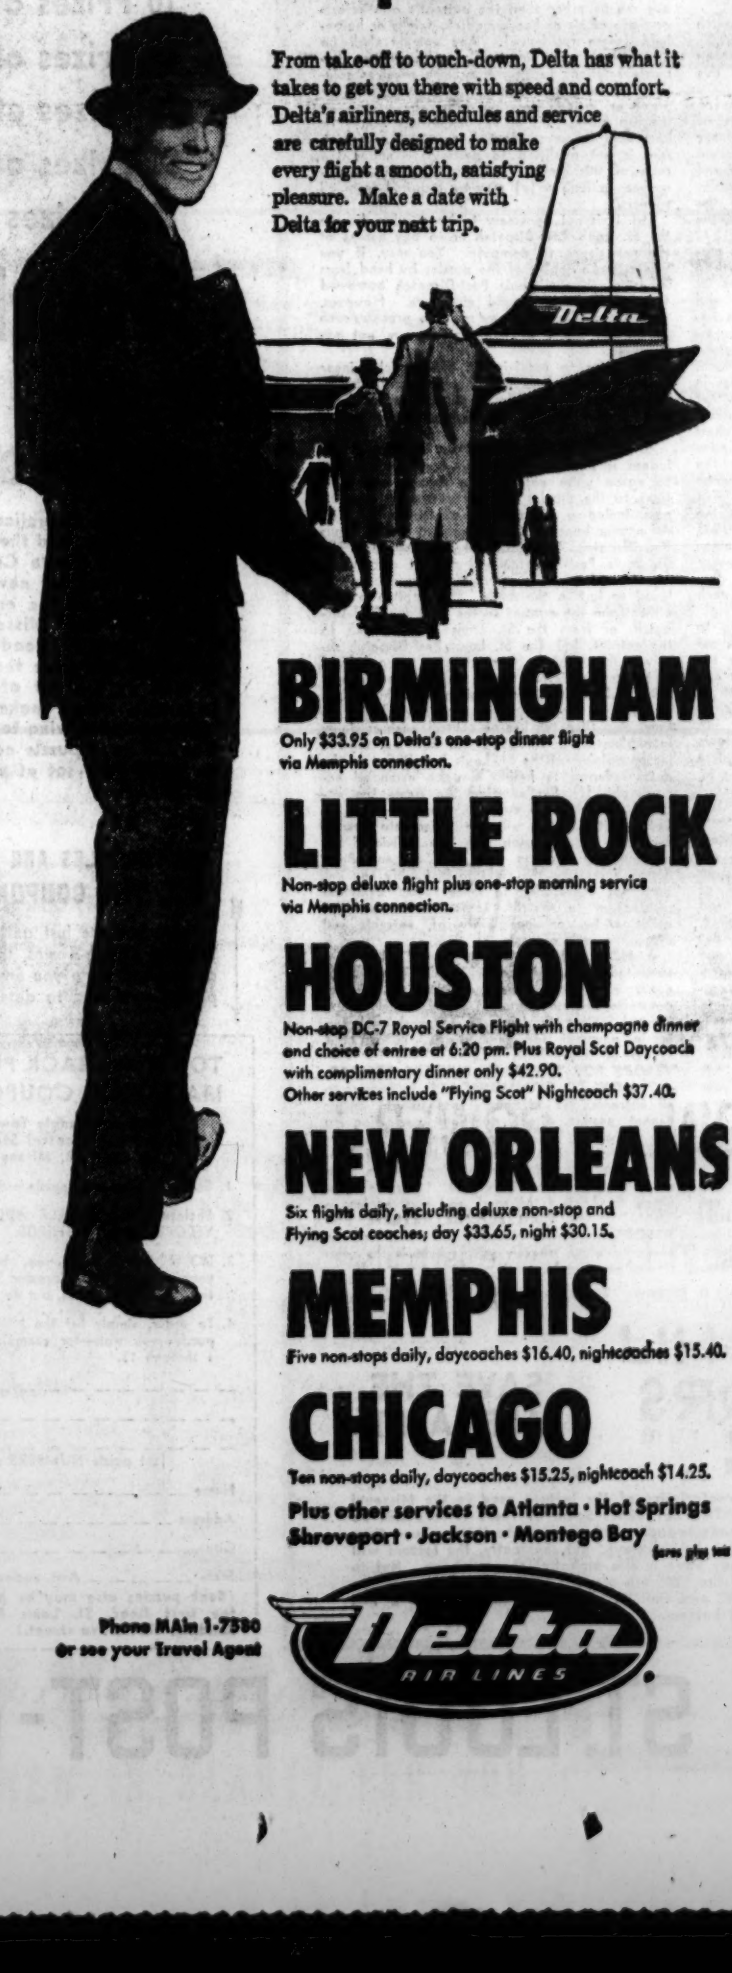

My mind is busy rummaging through my closet. There's that old navy silk I occasionally wear but then I have the red tweed skirt—. She can sense I'm breaking up and kindly offers to produce a neutral shade that will go with almost anything. Almost—what does she mean by almost—that may be the very thing I have in my closet. "What do you mean by that almost?" Immediately she is on the defensive.

"Well, I don't know. I was thinking — a very light champagne would require something else." We are safe. I have no champagne light or otherwise, not even in a bottle.

From eggs to light bulbs, hair sprays to bras—living or quiet—the decision to buy brings on a gruelling series of multiple-choice tests. No wonder we are nervously consuming greater and greater quantities of tranquilizing drugs. And what would you take—proprietary or prescription, liquid or tablet, or something that fizzes in the glass?

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Sylvanus and Evelyn Duvall

True..... False.....

FALSE. Your status makes a big difference. Studies of friendships among members of rural churches, in liberal colleges, among naval recruits and street-corner gangs, all came to the same conclusion. You "like" and want to be friends with those who rate somewhat higher than you do. You feel less friendly toward those whom you feel rate lower than you do. This may not be "democracy" but it is human nature at present.

Are men less emotional than women?

True..... No.....

NO. University of California studies indicate that men have quite as deep and real feelings as women. But men are taught from early childhood not to cry or to express their hurt or grief, so they learn to suppress their feelings. But concealing something does not make it any less real. Down underneath, men are quite as emotional as women.

We all judge others by ourselves!

True..... False.....

FALSE. Some people do—but not everyone is guilty of this shortcoming. A study of student attitudes at Ohio State University revealed that those inclined toward believing in strong authority tended to judge others by themselves. Those who believed in freedom did not. Usually it depends on who is judging whom, and what they are judging on.

VIGNETTES OF HISTORY

Sawmills sprang up on Missouri streams in the early days of settlement and often formed the nucleus around which communities developed. Cape Girardeau, with logs floated downstream to its mills, enjoyed many busy years beginning around 1815. The pine areas near the Arkansas border were an important timber source well past the mid-19th century. However, timber stands suffered excessive exploitation, and serious depletion had resulted by the beginning of the 20th century. With establishment of state parks in 1920, a program of timber conservation was begun. Little attention was given to reforestation until 1931, when legislative enactment provided for the acquisition of land for reforestation purposes. Since that time, millions of trees have been planted in cut-over areas.

These sidelights on Missouri's history are presented as a matter of interest. They do not necessarily pertain to the daily puzzles.

Be Sure to Save the Official Rules

MISSOURI TANGLE TOWNS

OFFICIAL MISSOURI TANGLE TOWNS RULES . . . SAVE THEM!

The following Official Missouri Tangle Towns Rules are for your protection and your guidance. Read them carefully and be sure you understand what is to be done. Then follow them just as carefully to avoid errors which would jeopardize your success.

1. WHAT THE GAME IS: (a) This game will consist of seventy-two (72) drawings to be published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, one or more each day, except Saturdays, beginning on Sunday, January 10, 1960, and Tie-Breaking Missouri Tangle Towns Puzzles, if necessary, as described in Rule 2.

(b) In the set of 72 drawings, each drawing is a group of scrambled letters. The entrants must arrange the letters from each group so that they correctly spell the name of a certain place in the State of Missouri. In these groups of scrambled letters there are no superfluous letters, no hidden letters, and no letters are left out. Under each drawing will be a clue to help identify the correct answer to the puzzle. In the case of anagrams, the clue will be your guide to the correct answer.

2. PRIZES: (a) The St. Louis Post-Dispatch will award 1084 cash prizes totaling $30,250.00. There are positively no requirements other than specified in these Official Rules to win this $30,250.00 in prizes.

(b) The person complying with all rules of the game and solving the highest number of puzzles correctly will be declared the winner of the $15,000.00 first prize, and the person complying with all the rules of the game and solving the second highest number of puzzles correctly will be declared the winner of the second prize. In like manner, the winners of the remaining 1082 prizes will be determined.

(c) In case more than one person solves correctly the same number of puzzles, the prize tied for, and as many subsequent prizes as there are persons tied, will be reserved and those so tying will be required to solve a tie-breaking puzzle. Accompanying this tie-breaking puzzle will be an official list of place names in the State of Missouri. From these, entrants will make up a list of place names in accordance with instructions to be given at that time, and the entrant who earns the highest score in so doing will be awarded the highest of the prizes tied for. The next highest prize will be awarded to the entrant earning the second highest score, and so on down through the list of reserved prizes that have been tied for. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch reserves the right (only in the event of further tie or ties) to require tying contestants to solve as many such tie-breaking puzzles in its office under supervision and without assistance as are necessary to determine a single winner for each prize.

(d) Entrants are permitted to submit up to four (4) complete sets of solutions. Each set must be submitted individually in its own envelope, as explained in Rule 3 (a). Only one prize will be awarded to any one entrant or to any one immediate family or household (same residence).

3. READ CAREFULLY: (a) When entrants have completed their solutions to the complete set of seventy-two (72) puzzles, which are to be published one or more each day, except Saturdays, in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the last one to appear on or about Friday, April 1, 1960, the solutions are to be printed or typewritten, preferably in CAPITAL LETTERS, by the entrant in the answer space provided, or a reasonable facsimile thereof. The complete set of puzzles must be answered, neatly trimmed, and enclosed in an envelope, flat and not rolled, addressed to Missouri Tangle Towns Editor, Box 868, Central Station, St. Louis 88, Missouri, and mailed, bearing a postmark not later than 5 P.M., Friday, April 8, 1960. Mounted or decorated puzzles are not permitted.

(b) More detailed instructions as to the mailing of entries will be published when all puzzles have appeared in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Do not send in your solution to any puzzle separately. Save the puzzles and your solutions so that they may be submitted as a complete set at the end of the game.

(c) Beginning on or about Sunday, April 10, 1960, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch will publish each day, except Saturdays, the correct solutions for twelve or more puzzles until all correct solutions have been published. Each entrant must keep an accurate record of all solutions submitted and check his or her solutions with the published correct solutions. Judging of the solutions will begin on or about Monday, April 11, 1960, and the announcement of the 1084 winners will appear in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch as soon thereafter as possible.

4. WHO MAY ENTER: (a) This game is open to all bona fide residents of thirty (30) days or more immediately prior to January 10, 1960, of the States of Missouri, Arkansas, or Illinois (except Illinois residents who live in the area north of the following Illinois counties: Adams, Brown, Cass, Menard, Logan, DeWitt, Piatt, Champaign and Vermilion) with the exception of (1) employes of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Stations KSD-TV and KSD, their advertising agency, and members of the their families or households; (2) any person directly or indirectly employed in conducting this contest; (3) any person or member of that person's immediate family or household (same residence) who in any contest, wherever conducted, has won as much as $1,000.00 in cash or merchandise or both.

Any entrant shall be disqualified who derives solutions to any of the puzzles through any means other than the entrant's own efforts or those of his or her immediate family or household (same residence). Any entrant shall be disqualified who buys, sells or exchanges the puzzle solutions (answers), or who receives solutions or assistance from, or acts for, either by proxy or in collaboration with, any person or concern outside his or her immediate family or household (same residence), or with any person who is not qualified to participate under the rules of this game. A sworn affidavit as described in Rule 4 (c) may be required from all winners.

(b) It is not necessary to be a subscriber to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch or to buy copies of the newspaper to compete. You may, if you prefer, make copies of the puzzles by hand from issues of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch borrowed from a friend or found elsewhere. However, copies reproduced by any multiple process, such as carbon paper or mimeograph, are not acceptable.

(c) Prior to receiving a prize, each winner may be required to sign a sworn affidavit certifying that he or she is eligible to compete and is not subject to disqualification under Rule 4 (a).

5. METHOD OF JUDGING: Decision of the judges is final on all matters, and the entrants so agree upon entering the game. (a) Solutions to the puzzles will be judged on correctness, including the spelling of the names. (b) All entries become the property of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. None will be returned. (c) The St. Louis Post-Dispatch will not be responsible for any solutions or communications unduly delayed or lost in the mails. This applies to mail either from the entrant to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, or from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch to the entrant. (d) The St. Louis Post-Dispatch reserves the right to correct any typographical errors or other errors which might appear in any published matter in connection with this game. (e) Should a condition arise over which the St. Louis Post-Dispatch has no control, such as delay in publication or for good and sufficient reason, in the opinion of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the dates referred to herein may be extended accordingly. (f) On entering the game the entrants accept these rules as binding. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch will not enter into correspondence or discussion with any individual regarding any decision. (g) The St. Louis Post-Dispatch reserves the right to disqualify any entrant not conforming to these rules. Evidence satisfactory to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of collusion by, or ineligibility of, entrants will disqualify such entrants.

6. HOW TO OBTAIN BACK PUZZLES: Entrants who want Missouri Tangle Towns back puzzles may obtain them by addressing their requests to Missouri Tangle Towns Editor, Box 611, Central Station, St. Louis 88, Missouri, enclosing 5c in payment for each puzzle, TOGETHER WITH A STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE FOR THE BACK PUZZLES DESIRED.

7. HOW TO COMMUNICATE: In fairness to all entrants, the Missouri Tangle Towns Editor cannot answer direct questions pertaining to any Missouri Tangle Towns puzzle. Entrants desiring other information about Missouri Tangle Towns may address their inquiries to Missouri Tangle Towns Editor, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, St. Louis 1, Missouri, and must enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED RETURN ENVELOPE for reply. No letter will, of course, be answered which directly solicits help in the solution of any puzzle.

SAVE THE ALPHABET

The alphabet above shows the characteristics of the letters used in the Missouri Tangle Towns puzzles. All are CAPITAL LETTERS. Some of these letters will be lengthened, some shortened, some made broader and some made thinner; and they may sometimes be turned upside down or sideways. But, basically, the letters will have the same characteristics as they have in the alphabet shown above. Notice that the "M" has straight sides and the "W" has slanted sides. Also note particularly the difference between the "N" and the "Z." And observe that the "Z" has a serif, or cross stroke, at top and bottom.

TODAY'S a GOOD DAY to START PLAYING!

Today, with republication of the Official Rules, and the appearance of the Back Puzzle Coupon, is an excellent time for new players to get started on the enjoyment offered in the Missouri Tangle Towns game. Read the rules carefully and save them . . . take a look at the list of great cash prizes . . . then make a start by clipping and solving today's puzzle. Use the back puzzle coupon below to bring your set of puzzles up to date.

BACK PUZZLES ARE AVAILABLE
USE THE COUPON BELOW

In case you are just getting started in Missouri Tangle Towns, this back puzzle coupon will bring you any or all of the puzzles published to date.

SAMPLE PUZZLE

CLUE: This place had its beginning when a railroad construction office was set up here in the 1850s. A state school of mines and a hospital for treatment of an eye disease are here.

ANSWER _____ ROLLA

HOW TO PLAY: In the Sample Puzzle, as in each of the 72 Official Puzzles, there are exactly enough letters tangled in the square to spell correctly the name of a certain place in the State of Missouri. The object of the game is to untangle the letters and, using the clue as a guide, determine and spell out the name.

TO ORDER BACK PUZZLES, MAIL THIS COUPON TO:

Missouri Tangle Towns Editor
Box 611, Central Station
St. Louis 88, Missouri

1. Enclose 5c for each puzzle ordered.
2. Enclose STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE, folded in THIRDS.
3. DO NOT tape your coins. Enclose them in your stamped, self-addressed envelope. Fold the envelope in thirds, but do not seal.
4. To order, simply list the NUMBERS of the puzzles you wish—for example: 1, 5, 9; or 1 through 13.

ARE REDUCING PILLS A RACKET?

The market is flooded with "effortless" reducing drugs. Just how safe are they . . . do they work . . . or are they actually a danger to your health? What do the medical specialists say about them?

If you are taking . . . or thinking about using one of the many advertised "no-diet reducing aids," read THE TRUTH ABOUT THOSE REDUCING PILLS in February GOOD HOUSEKEEPING. You owe it to your health to learn the truth before you or your family take a "remedy" that might harm you. Don't miss this vital, timely article in the authoritative pages of February GOOD HOUSEKEEPING Now On Sale!

Don't Do-It-Yourself Jobs

By Hubbard Cobb

THERE are a good many thousands of jobs about the house that anyone who possesses a fair amount of skill and about the same degree of knowledge can undertake with confidence. There are, however, some jobs that are best left to experts.

Plastering a wall or ceiling, for example, is no job for the amateur. It takes practice as well as skill to do a good plastering job and there are few things worse than a bad one. When you need plastering done, call in a plasterer.

Major plumbing projects are another thing you should keep away from. In the first place, a lot of rather specialized tools are required to install plumbing and secondly and even more important, if the job is not done right it can be a danger to health of the household. Of course, if you have the tools and the skill you won't create any hazard by extending an existing fresh water line but stay away from the drainage system and things like water heaters and boilers. Fixing leaky faucets, pipes and clearing stopped up drains, of course, are okay to tackle yourself.

Electricity is about the same deal as plumbing. There are a lot of minor repairs and adjustments you can make to the system but stay away from jobs like adding circuits or fooling around with the fuse box. This can lead to real trouble. Most communities, by the way, have electrical codes which specify that any change in house wiring must be approved by an inspector. If the job is not inspected and approved, it can be a violation and lead to serious trouble.

Flavor Addition

Relaxation Is Only Cure For Headaches Doctors Say

If you can relax, you can probably overcome your own headaches, doctors report. Most headaches arise from emotional tensions, and only relaxation can cure them. But, if you can't relax, you may be one who can benefit by a remarkable new treatment. Its ingredients are being prescribed for millions today. It is safe, non-habit-forming and not only gives fast relief from headaches, but eases the tensions that cause them —the pressure-swollen blood vessels, tight neck muscles, and other sources of the discomfort.

This modern defense against man's ancient enemy, the common headache, is known as SAL-FAYNE. It is now available in pink capsule form without prescription, at your favorite drug counter. Get it today. ©1960 The Emerson Pharmacal Co., Inc.

TV Notes and Gossip

JACK PAAR on his nighttime special tomorrow night will have his daughter, Randy, as one of his guests. The program, first scheduled for 8:30 p.m., will be on at 7:30 instead.

FOLLOWING his success on a recent "Steel Hour" dramatic program, Johnny Carson has been signed for another program, "The Girl in the Golden Bathtub," on the same series on April 6.

PRODUCER JESS OPPENHEIMER of the "I Love Lucy" series is producing a domestic comedy series to star Annie Farge (pronounced Far-jay), a French actress formerly with La Comedia Francaise.

CBS-TV is trying to make arrangements to tape a "Playhouse 90" drama in London that would star Sir Laurence Olivier and Simone Signoret. The play would be "The Hiding Place," adapted from a Robert Shaw novel.

NBC-TV's "Hall of Fame" will be continued at least through 1961.

WALLY MOON . . . Former St. Louis Cardinal outfielder now with the Los Angeles Dodgers, will play the role of a sheriff on "Wagon Train" on KSD-TV at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Tonight's TV Previews

MONDAY'S top television shows as previewed and selected by TV Key's staff:

KATE SMITH SHOW—(Premiere). If any of Kate Smith's radio or television fans feel nostalgic, they might be tempted to turn on the set for a medley of her well-loved songs. And for variety there's the instrumental Barbara Carroll Trio. 6:30 p.m., KMOX-TV.

FATHER KNOWS BEST—"Togetherness." Pleasant outing. A magazine decides to do a picture story on the Andersons, as a model family and a classic example of togetherness. It all works out in the usual way, with Bud getting the laughs and the audience getting the message. 7:30 p.m., KMOX-TV.

DANNY THOMAS—Danny is all over the place in this one. He plays housekeeper while wife Kathy is away on jury duty, and Danny finds himself rushing about as the kids have a time cracking wise. 8 p.m., KMOX-TV.

JACK PAAR SHOW—Leonard Silliman, Roger Price and Betty White join Jack for the evening's chitter-chatter, and Martha Davis and spouse entertain in their hearty style, singing "I'm Gonna Sit Right Down and Write Myself a Letter." 10:45 p.m., KSD-TV.

STEVE ALLEN—Tony Randall is on the show, and he's a pretty good mugger in his Ivy League way. In a skit with Steve, Pat Harrington Jr., and Gabe Dell, he demonstrates how a fellow actor can be outmaneuvered. Allen interviews odd-ball Senators who want to run for President; Jo Stafford sings, and a swinging mother's band (ladies all over 60) round out the show (color). 9 p.m., KSD-TV.

Keep It Flavorful

LAUGH IT OFF

"Once again, son, may I express our deepest gratitude?"

Squeaks in Floor

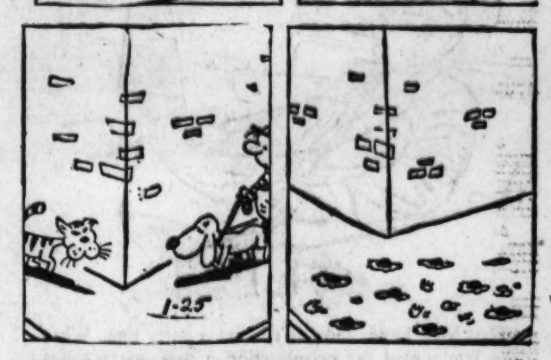

Talcum can often be used to stop squeaks in floor boards if the squeaks are caused by the edges of the boards rubbing against each other. Dust the talcum into the cracks between boards.

Dinosaur Giants

By Ramon Coffman

A GOOD QUESTION has come from a sixth-grade pupil, who asks:

"If dinosaurs were able to roam the earth for vast ages, how does it happen that they died out?"

That question must refer to the gigantic dinosaurs. Many of the smaller ones (which we call reptiles) have lived to the present day.

Old Steg, Thnuder Lizard, Tyrant Lizard and some other giants have vanished from the earth. We still feel a bit puzzled about their loss, but scientists have figured several possible reasons.

Changes in climate may account for the passing of some of the big ones, which lived in tropical ares. Cold weather could have brought about their death. Their food supply may have been injured by the coming of an Ice Age.

The monsters had small brains compared to the size of their bodies. They could meet almost any enemy in a fair fight, but had little skill in meeting shortage of food.

Some dinosaurs laid eggs, as we know from remains. The egg-laying animals may have failed to protect their eggs or young.

While the Age of Reptiles was passing away, other animals were "rising to power." I am thinking of the mammals, which gave milk to their young.

The mammals, in general, had coats of hair to guard them against cold weather. Most of them were small and fast-moving. They could escape from a big dinosaur by running or hiding.
